md ca. 1635, New Kent Co., VA, now Hanover Co., VA, Lucy Cornelius -

b. ca. 1661 – New Kent Co, VA – d. Bef. 1754, Fort Nashboro, Nashville, Davidson Co., TN – This marriage has not been confirmed. Nobody knows who he married but the best scholarly opinion is that he married Elizabeth Crawford, daughter of Robert Crawford and granddaughter of David Crawford Sr., both of New Kent Co., VA.

Nicholas came to VA as a British soldier with the regiment which landed at Jamestown in 29 January 1677, sent over by the King to quell the Bacon rebellion. He entered land in New Kent Co., VA prior to October 21, 1684. After Hanover Co., was cut off from New Kent Co., in 1720, the Parish Records of St. Paul’s Parish of Hanover show that Nicholas Gentry lived in that county. Sent from England with brother Samuel as Redcoats “British Marines” to quell Bacon’s Rebellion, 1677. Landed in Jamestown, VA 29 January 1677, on the Bristol, which was under the command of Adm. Sir John Berry. They were members of a regiment commanded by Col. Herbert Jeffries. They were discharged in the Fall of 1683. Granted land for their service on Totopolomoy’s Creek on the South side of the York River in Kent Co., VA, just east of present day Richmond.

Nicholas will was probated in Albemarle Co., in April, 1779, and was dated February 20, 1777. Bezaleel Brown and Benajah Brown were witnesses to the will. These Browns were probably related to the Gentrys in some way. One of Nicholas Gentry's sons was named for Benajah Brown. He owned land in Louisa Co., which was a part of Hanover before Louisa was organized in 1742. He probably had sold most all of his lands, and made distribution to his children before his death. He was the owner of a number of slaves at the time of his death. According to the records, there were many marriages between the Gentry's and Haggard's for well over a hundred years.

- Born in Hanover Co., VA about 1722, and lived mostly in Louisa and Albemarle. Louisa was organized from Hanover in 1742, and at that time quite a number of Gentrys had settled in Louisa Co. In 1744 the County of Albemarle was organized still further west of Louisa, but it was not until about 1760 when the Gentrys began to settle in Albemarle. Moses Gentry bought land of Samuel Gay, of Albemarle, March 13, 1778, on the old Lynchburg road, north of Garland's Store, on the south side of Ragged Mountain, and made it his permanent home. He was a Ruling Elder in the Cove Presbyterian Church, a large brick church building situated about six miles from his home. His wife, Lucy Sims, was noted for her religious zeal and church work. She lived to be nearly one hundred years of age, surviving her husband many years. After his death, which occurred in 1808, she kept an inn, or tavern, her home being suitably located on the main road from Lynchburg to Richmond. Daughter, Elizabeth "Besty" Gentry md Rev. ...Virginia "Betsie" Elizabeth Gentry – b. 12 December 1766, Hanover, VA –
md 21 Apr 1791, Charlottesville, Albemarle, VA, Daniel Maupin III
Betsie (Gentry) & Daniel Maupin was the parents of ten children, and her eldest great granddaughter was 22 and had one child. "Grandma Lingo at eighty-five was the head of a family of ten children, fifty-two grandchildren, forty-four great grand children, and one great, great grandchild, in all a house of 107. At this time she was hale and hearty, and loved to lend a helping hand to all noble and meritorious enterprises. She lived to say, what few women could say, "Arise my daughter and go to thy daughter, for thy daughter's daughter has a daughter." Written by Mrs. Laura Bell Tracey
Daniel Maupin III was the third son of Mary Elizabeth (Dabney) and Daniel Maupin II of Albemarle Co., VA and a grandson of Daniel Maupin I and Margaret Via, and a great-grandson of Gabriel and Mary (Spencer) Maupin. Gabriel Maupin was a General in the French Army, and left France on account of being a Huguenot, and settled in King William Co., VA in 1699, and died there in 1720. Mary Spencer Maupin was a daughter of Earl Spencer of England. Mr. J.L. Bishop of Selma, Ala., who has written a book on the Maupins, is authority for the Maupin facts.

Nathaniel Haggard and Elizabeth Gentry, his wife, moved from Virginia to Clarke County, KY, with their whole family about 1788; in the meantime most of his children were married. Their son, Rev. James Haggard married Betsie Gentry, his cousin, a daughter of Moses Gentry, a brother of his mother, and also settled in Kentucky. Jane Haggard, their daughter, born 1761, married David Gentry, a son of David Gentry, a brother of her mother, and settled in Madison Co., KY. They reared eleven children, among them were Elizabeth, born January 6, 1788, who married David Haggard and had seven sons and five daughters; and Mary Gentry, born and had seven sons and five daughters; and Mary Gentry, born March 5, 1790, who married William Haggard, a brother of David, her sister Elizabeth's husband, and had five sons and seven daughters. These two Haggards, David and William, were sons of William Haggard, and grandsons of Edmund Haggard, a brother of Nathaniel Haggard, who married Elizabeth Gentry in Albemarle Co., about 1745/50. Among the descendants of David Haggard, born in 1763, a son of Elizabeth Gentry Haggard, is ex-governor Routt of Colorado, now deceased. Among the descendants of Jane Haggard, born in 1761, and David Gentry, is the Rev. Alfred Haggard, dean of Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa. Joshua Henry Gentry, of Pettis Co., MO married November 13, 1855, Amanda Haggard, and his brother John Campbell Gentry of same county, married Dottie Haggard, August 23, 1866. These two Gentry's were sons of Joshua Gentry of Palmyra, MO.
