"Dear Mother: I can't stand it any longer. Bury me by Johnnie. Thelma"

With those her last words, in a note to her mother, Thelma Anderson, 14, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Hilman Anderson, Gainesboro Road, [using] a shotgun...killed herself instantly.

The tragedy took place at the home of the young girl at 6:30 last Sunday afternoon.

Thelma, who was an unusually beautiful girl and a student at the Pippin School, was thought to be grief stricken over the death of Johnnie White, 22, her sweetheart, who killed himself 3 weeks ago. She had not recovered from the shock of his death, and the note she left her mother is thought to have been written after a period of bitter grief, following which she decided to be her only path to happiness.

The deceased attended school in Cookeville for several years and later entered the Pippin School, where she was a student this year.

She is survived by her father, mother, three sisters and two brothers. Funeral services were conducted at the home Monday afternoon and burial took place by the side of her sweetheart in life in the White lot at Post Oak cemetery.

John Alexander White Obt.

In a fit of despondency, last Sunday afternoon at about 5 o'clock, Johnnie White, aged 22, committed suicide with a shotgun, dying almost instantly. He was an excellent young man and most highly esteemed in the community. His untimely death has caused profound sorrow and regret.

The tragedy occurred at the home of his father, Esq Joshua Joseph White of Post Oak neighborhood near Double Springs, this county. It appears that the young man had had some misunderstanding with his sweetheart that provoked the rash act.

His remains were laid to rest in the family cemetery Monday afternoon.

COOKEVILLE — Ralph Billingsley, who worked for over 50 years in the funeral business caring for the dead and the living with great compassion, died this morning following a brief illness. He was 83.

Billingsley, a funeral director and licensed embalmer who was highly respected in the profession, was known not only for his work, but for his warm and engaging personality.

It was said that families who lost loved ones often asked specifically for his services at the funeral homes where he worked.

Friends said that last Friday evening, Billingsley and his wife were eating at a Cookeville restaurant when he became choked on a piece of meat.

People in the restaurant tried to help, but no one succeeded in using the Heimlich maneuver. Reportedly, two nurses who happened to be there administered CPR, and emergency treatment was also administered by paramedics who soon arrived.

He was taken to Cookeville Regional Medical Center and was in intensive care there for the past few days. He died there early today.

His many friends and co-workers are mourning the loss of a man they describe as like no one else, a friend to all, someone who did not meet a stranger, someone who reached out with kind concern to all those he encountered as they grieved in the face of death.

"He was so good at his profession," said Wilma Brown, who worked with him at a funeral home at one time.

"He treated the dead with the same tenderness and respect he had for the living. He was so dedicated to helping the families who had lost loved ones. He would come to work in the middle of the night if necessary in order to do the best job possible for a viewing. I remember once he worked 30 hours straight to make sure that the body of a young woman who had died a violent death could be viewed by the family."

David Horner of Hooper Huddleston & Horner Funeral Home said Billingsley's expertise as a master embalmer was widely known and said he was often consulted by various funeral homes in the region for advice and instruction.

"Also, many families who had lost a loved one would call and ask that he personally take care of their loved one's body," Horner said.

"He's been a friend, a mentor to many and he simply personified what a funeral director is. He never minded about the time and work it takes to serve families. He was highly respected by everyone who knew him."

Davis Watts, a longtime friend who worked with Billingsley back in the 1960's, said Billingsley had "great love and respect for everyone," and said grieving families found his services very comforting.

According to Gary Medley, Billingsley's son-in-law, Billingsley had worked full-time until about 18 months ago and remained very active up until last Friday.

"He loved people, loved visiting with them, and if you talked to him very long, you would find out how you were related to him somewhere back there," Medley said.

Medley said Billingsley had been in the funeral business since 1958.

He was born in the little Jackson County community of Philadelphia, but had lived and worked in Cookeville for over 50 years.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 11 a.m. at Hooper Huddleston & Horner Funeral Home. The family will receive friends at the funeral home Friday from 4 to 8 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. until time for the services.

COOKEVILLE — Funeral services for Ralph Dillon Billingsley, 83, of Cookeville, will be held at 11 a.m. on Saturday, Nov. 10, from the Cookeville Chapel of Hooper-Huddleston & Horner Funeral Home.

Interment, with military honors, will follow in the J.J. White Cemetery.

The family will receive friends from 4-8 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 9, and from 9 a.m. until time of services on Saturday at the funeral home.

Mr. Billingsley passed away Tuesday morning, Nov. 7, 2012, in Cookeville Regional Medical Center.

He was born Aug. 6, 1929, in Jackson County to the late Johnathan Buchannon and Martha Beulah White Billingsley.

Mr. Billingsley was a lifelong, active member of Post Oak Shade Free Will Baptist Church. He was an Air Force veteran, and a member of the Upper Cumberland Funeral Directors Association.

He was a widely known and respected funeral director and embalmer, serving families for more than 50 years. He began his career in the Spring of 1958 and, in 1960, received his Mortuary Science Degree from John A. Gupton College. Early in his career he was associated with Miller Funeral Home in Maryville, Pettus-Owen & Woods Funeral Home in Nashville, and Ligon & Bobo Funeral Home in Lebanon. He was co-owner and later owner of Rogers & Billingsley Funeral Home in Livingston. However, the majority of his professional career was serving families at Hooper & Huddleston Funeral Home and Whitson Funeral Home. He was also active with local Masonic work. He was a 50 year member of Cookeville Masonic Lodge 266 F&AM; a member and past commander of Cumberland Commandry 26 (conferring hundreds of degrees for Order Of The Temple). He was a member of Al Menah Shrine Temple and the Temples Motor Cycle Corps.

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by an infant son, Ralph D. Billingsley, Jr.; sister, Kathleen Cowan; and a brother, Dewie Billingsley.
