Grandmother Audra's House

Top Row:

Tim Denny s/o Virgil & Audra Denny relaxing on the front porch swing. Picture of Virgil & Audra Denny's house.

Middle Row:

Ronald Timothy & Richard Lewis Denny sons of Tim & Geraldine Denny sitting on the swing in the backyard. A game of baseball in the front yard.

Bottom Row:

Audrey June Denny d/o Tim & Geraldine Denny standing in front of the rain water tower by the smoke house situated on the grounds off the backyard porch. Audrey June & Ronald Timothy at the pump in the backyard situated just outside the screened in backporch. Many a country dinner was served on a long wooden table placed in the backporch. Country ham, red eye gravy, scrambled eggs & biscuits with homemade jams for breakfast. Dinner was fried chicken, mashed potatoes, vegetables, cornbread with farm butter and homemade pecan pie for dessert. Water was pumped by hand and heated on the wood burning stove for cooking and washing the dishes. We would catch the chicken and Audra would wring its head off, pluck the feathers and fry it up for us.

At dusk the fireflies would come out and we would catch us a jar full. The stars would fill the skies and the moon would shine over the farm. Time for us to go to bed and rise early for more fun on the farm. Tomorrow we would explore the barns and hike up the hills behind the house.

Fun on the Farm

Second picture: L to R: Richard Lewis & Ronald Timothy Denny, d/o Margaret (Bullington) Yahola, & Audrey June Denny sitting on the footlog bridge spanning Little Indian Creek. We would sit on the bridge and watch the creek flow past. It felt like you were flowing with the water. You could watch the minnows swimming by and count the butterflies on the rocks by the creek.

Middle Row:

First picture: Ronald Timothy Denny sitting on the footlog bridge with a fruit jar he used to catch crawfish swimming in the creek. Sometimes a water snake would come around. In the background is Audrey June Denny wading in the creek.

Second picture: Audrey June Denny getting ready for some fun in Little Indian Creek. We would collect rocks, butterflies, frogs, minnows, crawfish and flowers. Build forts out of rocks and sticks. Sometimes we would find a Indian arrowhead.

Third Row:

First picture: Ronald, Richard & Audrey June floating on a old inner tube in Little Indian Creek.

Second picture: A full view of the footlog bridge over Little Indian Creek showing the road that went up to Hopewell Road.

Third picture: Ronald Timothy floating on his inner tube in a deep spot in Little Indian Creek.
