William Austin who was married to Miss Garner was in the Civil War. He told how he would wrap himself in a blanket during the war and lie down to sleep on several inches of snow on the ground under him, or over him if it snowed after he went to sleep. His faithful horse never left him on these nights; His horse walked around him all night long. Amon Edgar Holley was able to sing, dance, and play several instruments unusually well. He inherited this ability from his mother, Sarah Tennessee (Austin) Holley. Ref: Love Letters by Jolee Love, pg. 315
