BILLINGSLEY, SMITH JOIN IN MARRIAGE NOVEMBER 28

Herald – Citizen Newspaper, 4 January 2004

Kathy Billingsley became the bride of Steve Smith on November 28 at Sycamore Church of Christ in Cookeville.

The bride is the daughter of Hugh and Nancy Billingsley of Cookeville and granddaughter of the late William P. and Prietta Billingsley and the late Charles and Ardith (Maxwell) Maddux.

The groom is the son of Charles and Donna Smith of Cookeville and grandson of the late John and Irene Clymer and the late Lonnie Smith and Ira Smith.

Princeton Ball officiated as the couple exchanged vows in a private ceremony that began at 11 a.m.

Wedding music included a recording of “Can’t Help Falling in Love” by Elvis Presley, played before the ceremony began. As the bride was escorted to the groom, “A New Day Has Come” by Celine Dion was played. As the ceremony came to a close, the couple exited to “all Shook Up” by Elvis Presley.

For her special day, the bride chose a tea-length crepe suit in ivory, adorned with embroidered satin flowers, sequins, seed pearls and bugle beads. She wore Syoka Japanese pearl earrings, a wedding gift from the groom.

The bride wore her great-grandmother's wedding band, her paternal grandmother's "mother's ring" and a special ring from her late aunt, Willene Begin. She carried a bouquet of one dozen red roses, hand tied with ivory satin ribbon.

The groom was attired in a black suit with an ivory shirt and red tie, accented with a black onyx tie tac, a wedding gift from the bride. He wore a red rose boutonniere on his lapel.

Following the ceremony, a lunch reception prepared by the bride's cousin, Janice Terry, was held at the home of the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Dale and Kim Billingsley.

After an eight-day cruise of the Western Caribbean aboard the Carnival Legend, with port calls at Belize, Costa Rica and Panama, the couple is residing in Cookeville.

The bride is a graduate of Putnam County Senior High School and holds a bachelor of science degree from Tennessee Tech University. She is a case manager for the Area Agency on Aging and Disability at the Upper Cumberland Development District.

The groom is a graduate of Damien High School in LaVerne, CA, and holds a bachelor of science degree from Cal. Poly. University in Pomona, CA.

He is a supervisor for the Tennessee Department of Children's Services.
