Silas Francis Anderson, s/o Silas McCaleb Anderson said he could remember his grandmother, Judith "Judy" Robinson Anderson. He was about five years old when Judith, his grandmother died. He could remember her funeral. Judith lived with her son, Silas McCaleb Anderson in her last years and smoked a crock kiln pipe with a long stem, that she could reach into the fire place to light. He said that Thomas Shirley Anderson, his wife, Judith and her parents came by ox drawn wagons from Cumberland Co., VA to Roaring River near the Cumberland River, Jackson Co., TN. He believed that Thomas Shirley Anderson and Judith Robinson were married just before leaving Cumberland Co., VA.

Thomas Shirley Anderson

Thomas Shirley Anderson, Sr. (b. February 8, 1779; d. October 8, 1858); settled on Blackburn’s Fork in Jackson Country, Tennessee as early as 1806. He was the second of fourteen (14) children born to William (1753-1805) and Catherine Shirley Anderson (1753-1805) in Cumberland County, Virginia. In 1807, Thomas married Judith (Judy) Robinson (b. May 9, 1785; d. November 5, 1868) the daughter of Edward Robinson, Jr. and Annah Meador Robinson.

Traveling with Thomas were his brother, Joel Anderson (1781-1852) and Garland Anderson (1783-1850), also, many members of the Robinson family, including the parents of Judith Anderson. Their means of transportation was by wagons drawn by oxen. As they traveled through the Cumberland Mountains, Annah Robinson gave birth to a son. No name would be more proper for this son than Cumberland Robinson.

The Spring Creek Baptist Church received by experience, Thomas Anderson, the first Saturday of September, 1813. Many members of the family became a part of the Spring Creek Baptist Church, including Annah (Anny) Robinson.

Thomas Shirley Anderson received grants for land and at his death, owned 1200 acres of land, approximately 400 acres on the east side and 800 acres on the west side of Blackburn’s Fork Creek. Their house and barn and other out-houses were built of logs. The house stood beside a spring along side the creek, while the barn and other out-houses were located where the Whitson Smith house presently stands. Some of the log out-houses were standing in the 1950’s. The Old Anderson Cemetery is about 200 yards from the Creek, on the east side, located on a bank overlooking the grounds of the home site. Thomas Shirley and Judith Anderson are buried there, along with many family members. Following the death of her husband, Judith Anderson spent her last days with her son, Silas McCaleb Anderson, near Silver Point, Tennessee.

Their children were: William James, “Short Billy” (1808-1890) married 1st Polly Lynn, married 2nd Martha Wallis, married 3rd Judy Gibson. Garland “Gallant” (1810-1868) married Sarah Jones. Edward “Ned” (1811-1855) married Lucinda Mahaney. Frances “Fannie” (1812-?) married John Warrick Reynolds. Catherine “Katie” (1814-?) married Ranson P. Mahaney. Ann “Annie” (1816-1892) married Joshua Bartlett. Thomas Shirley, Jr. (1818-1861) married Lousia Alexander. Paul Thomas (1821-1866) married Susie Johnson. Silas Caleb (1823-1889) married Jane Wilson. Francis Marion (1825-1903) married Frances Almeda Ritchie.

As the children married, their father gave each child $10.00 to start housekeeping and a cow and calf valued at $10.00. Ned, Annie and Thomas Jr. moved to Buffalo Valley to buy land for 35 cents an acre as early as 1838. Silas McCaleb "Caleb" Anderson later went to Silver Point and Fannie died in MO, William "Short Billy", Catherine, Paul, & Francis remained in Jackson Co., TN. In later life, Francis went to DeKalb Co., TN where he died.

Stephen Robinson had grown children when he came to Smith fork in 1798, so his own family made a large group. Stephen's brother Edward, Jr. settled in Jackson County, Tennessee, and Edward's grandsons Francis and Silas Anderson located on the Caney Fork around Mine Lick about the time of the Civil War. Stephen Robinson's brother Field also came to Tennessee. Field's son Alexander Robinson lived near Dowelltown, and his descendants have intermarried with Stephen Robinson's descendants.²²

Stephen Robinson's wife was Betty Holland; her sister Mary married Nataniel Corley. The Corleys moved to Tennessee, and in 1815 Nathaniel bought 445 acres on Smith Fork about three miles from the Robinson home.²³ He built his home on a hill overlooking the creek, one of the most beautiful locations in DeKalb County or in Middle Tennessee. The original home and farm are still owned by the Corley family.

James W. Anderson Family Cemetery Long Branch – Roaring River: pg. 498

Civil District 9. From Gainesboro take Hwy 53 going toward Celina. Turn right on Dodson Branch Hwy. (135) just before crossing Cumberland River Bridge. After about 3 miles turn left and cross over Roaring River bridge going toward Kirkpatrick Hollow Road. Turn first right on Roaring River Road and at the first slough on your left will be the Long Branch. This is ½ mile from the bridge you have just crossed. The hollow where long branch empties into roaring river is a long one with at least 3 old homesteads. I understand James W. “Blue Jim” Anderson lived at the mouth of Long Branch Hollow. No cemeteries were found anywhere in the hollow. Mr. James Paul Anderson told me the cemetery where “Blue Jim” was buried had been destroyed. You can read of “Blue Jim” on page 49 of the Jackson County Family History Book. One correction to page 49 is Susannah Allen was the daughter of George & Frances “Fanny” (Gaines) not Gray Allen.

ASA LYNN GRAVE ROARING RIVER ROAD: pgs. 497 & 498 - * See Story of Asa Lynn

Civil Dist. 9, Jackson Co., TN –From Gainesboro go toward Celina on Hwy 53. Just before the bridge over Roaring River, turn right on Hwy 135 (Dodson Brach Highway). Go about 10 miles and turn left at the foot of the Will Overton Hill on Roaring River Road. Look to your right when you cross the bridge close to the Overton Cemetery and the Asa Lynn Cemetery is at the far end of the field. Crops are grown next to the cemetery but the cemetery is in a patch of woods that is about 50 feet from the road. Mr. Will Terry Johnson told Suzanna Mitchell and myself that his great grandmother was buried there along with many others besides Asa Lynn Sr. When you cross over Roaring River, here you will bear to the right toward the “Dirt” Cave. The cemetery is before the first hollow on your left when you first turn right. This is written to better clarify the first paragraph on this page. Revised 2003 by Larry E. Mabry

Asa Lynn – b. 1777 – d. 7 April 1868, f/o Polly Mary Lynn Anderson, w/o William James “Short Billy” Anderson

By: Joe Brown Lynn (1994 Revised: 1999) 18399 Clairmont Dr., South Bend, IN 46637

(A copy of the deed, spelling is as listed in copy. Original deed is held by Harold Hawkins of Cookeville, TN. Asa is reputed to be buried across the river from the Overton Cemetery, where a lot of Lynn’s are buried, out in the middle of the field. Harold Hawkins took us to the field, but the outline of the grave had disappeared. When he owned the property, he told us the grave was outlined with Cedar stakes at the four corners). A lot is still unknown about the life of Asa Lynn. What follows is what we know to this date. There is some confusion as to his date of birth. Some say ca. 1777, as born out by the 1850 census. The other proof is from a claim filed by his 2nd wife Mary Lynn. In 1883 she filed a Claim of Widow for Service Pension for service in the War of 1812, with W.M. Gailbreath, in Gainesboro, Jackson Co., TN. She describes him as being six feet tall, 175 lbs., has black hair, fair skin. We couldn’t read (the color of his eyes), and that he was born in South Carolina in 1783. (In the 1850 census, he said he was born in North Carolina) she further states that before marriage her name was Mary Regan, and that she had not been married before. They were married by Justice of the Peace, Marron Dixon, in September 1845. Asa’s first wife Elizabeth Hawkins having died in March 1844. Elizabeth was the daughter of Joseph Hawkins, a Veteran of the Revolutionary War, who had a farm adjoining Asa Lynn on Spring Creek, a tributary of Roaring River. Asa had a farm consisting of 304 acres on Spring Creek in Jackson County, TN. It was near the Community of Marengo, in Jackson County. Marengo no longer exists, but was near Asa’s farm. We visited the farm in the fall of 1993, courtesy of Harold Hawkins, of Cookeville, TN. In the early days the Morgans, Loftis, Hawkins, Johnsons, Lees, and Lynns seemed to dominate the Spring Creek area.

Asa was drafted in Gainesboro, TN 26 January 1814. He served as a Private in Captain Bennett’s Company, 4th Regiment of the Tennessee Militia. He was granted a pension in 1834 for life at $33.33 per annum. The spelling of his man in a Land Deed to Archibald Loftis on 15 July 1854, was Lynn and later in the deed as Linn. We can assume the first to be correct, because all his Tennessee descendants have all used that form to this date. His lineage is believed to be Scot/Irish.
