" John W. Reynolds, born in Kentucky on the 26th of November, 1805 and came to Clay county with his father, James Reynolds, in the Spring of 1820. He was of Virginia stock. He was twice married and left, surviving him, 7 children, five by his first and 2 by his second wife. The latter also survives him. Member of Little Shoal Old Baptist Church. Buried in the graveyard at that church beside his first wife. Mr. Reynolds left a comfortable estate. In 1821, boy though he was, in going on an errand for his father, rifle in hand, alone and unaided, he killed a large bear on the hills south of Michael Arthur's old home place which stood five miles southwest of Liberty.

Emily (Milam) Crow Reynolds

(from the Liberty Tribune)

IN MEMORIAM

Mrs. Emily W. Reynolds died February 11, 1891 of heart trouble. She had been afflicted for several years with that dread disease. (She was 83 years, 4 months and 4 days old). Every one that knew her loved her for her kind Christian acts. She leaves 4 children and a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren to mourn her loss.

Her funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. B. Jones, at Little Shoal Church and her remains were placed in the cemetery there. E.T.B.

Her surviving children: Mary Frances Reynolds, Yerby Reynolds, James Crow and Andrew Thompson Crow.

Little Shoal is a small, historic cemetery near Liberty, Missouri. It is the burial place of many Kansas City and Clay County pioneers who migrated from Kentucky and Tennessee. Last year the county ran out of funds to keep the cemetery mowed, and the grass grew pretty high.

We're hoping to organize a group of people who will help spruce up the cemetery this spring. I realize this is not a long-term solution, but "one step at a time" <grin>

Already some people have expressed an interest in helping, and we're going to meet next Saturday (April 11) at the Little Shoal Cemetery, to see what needs to be done to keep the cemetery looking nice.

If any of you are in the Kansas City area, and would like to help, please join us!

If you can't come Saturday, or you're real far away, and you're interested in this project -- please contact me.

I've listed below a few of the names on Little Shoal graves. Maybe you are connected to someone buried there.

If you see a connection, and can pass along the word about this to your cousins and friends, it would sure be appreciated. It would be great to hear from each family there!

Thanks in advance for supporting our project,

Sallie Chrane Hobbs

John Warwick Reynolds

b. 26 November 1805, KY – d. 6 January 1883, Clay Co., MO, md 1st Frances “Fannie” (Anderson) Reynolds, b. 20 October 1805, Blackburn Fork, Jackson Co., TN – d. 7 June 1845, Clay Co., MO, d/o Thomas Shirley Anderson Sr. (1779-1858) & Judith Robinson (1785-1868). John Warrick Reynolds, md 2nd Emily W. (Milam) Crow Reynolds, b. 7 October 1807, KY – d. 11 February 1891. John Warrick Reynolds, s/o James Jefferson Reynolds (1777-1851) & Frances "Fanny" Smithey-Crisp (1807-1891). John Warwick Reynolds, Frances “Fannie” (Anderson) Reynolds, Emily W. (Milam) Crow Reynolds, are all buried in Little Shoal Cemetery, Clay Co., MO.

Born in Kentucky. Son of James Jefferson Reynolds and Frances "Fanny" Smithey-Crisp. John Warwick was married to: (1) Frances "Fanny" Anderson, (2) Emily (Milam) Crow. John Warwick was a schoolteacher at Flynns Lick, Jackson County, TN. While he was teaching he wrote and had published a math book.

He came to MO in 1819 to Gallatin, Daviess Co. MO. John and his first wife, Fanny Anderson, moved to Clay County about 1831.

Fanny died in 1845 and John then married Emily (Milam) Crow.

John became the guardian of his wife, Emily's children by a previous marriage (to Mr. Crow)

It is family tradition that John Warwick was a slave owner. When the Civil War was over he could not afford to keep the slaves as help. On the day they were leaving they were walking down the road when one little boy started crying and said he wanted to stay with John. His mother asked John if he would keep the child and care for him. John said that he would and the little boy stayed with him and Emily until he was grown. They sent him to school and treated him as if he were their own son. It is said that in appreciation, every year as long as John and Emily lived, that man came back to visit them on their farm.

From the 1877 records of the Little Shoal Primitive Baptist Church, Clay County, MO: "John Warwick Reynolds made a profession of faith and was baptized in the creek by the church."

John and Fanny had James Ellison Reynolds (1830-1911), Anna C. (Reynolds) Peters (1832-1914), Jonas E. Reynolds (2 March 1836 -), John D. Reynolds (2 March 1836 -), Thomas E. Reynolds (1833-1843), and Louisiana (1840 -).

John and Emily had Mary Frances (Reynolds) Reynolds (1847-1911) and Yerby Wilson Reynolds (1849-1917).
