Suzanne "Sue" Irene LaFever, 82 of St. Louis, Missouri and formerly of Cookeville passed away Tuesday, April 6, 2021 surrounded by family.

Born in Baltimore, Maryland on May 11, 1938, Suzanne Irene was the daughter of the late Warren and Mary Jane Owings Schafer. While she did live 3 years in Trieste, Italy, she spent the majority of her youth in the Baltimore area. She made lifelong friends when she attended Arundel High School, and she graduated in 1956.

In 1958, Sue joined her parents and younger brothers in Straubing, Germany, where her father was stationed at the time. It was there that she met and married 1st Lieutenant Billy LaFever, who grew up in Cookeville, Tennessee, and they began a love story that spanned almost 60 years until his death in 2017.

Prior to settling in St. Louis in 1971, Bill and Sue's growing family lived in Texas, Maryland, Tennessee, Washington, and Heidelberg, Germany. As a military wife, she was strong and independent when she needed to be, especially while Bill served two tours of duty in Vietnam.

Whether you knew her as a mom, grandmother, sister, aunt, cousin, neighbor, or friend, you could not help but be touched by her warmth, kindness, and love. Truly a woman who led by example, Sue embodied a life of service to family, God, and community. An active parishioner of St. Richard Parish for 50 years, she volunteered and supported countless activities benefitting the parish, the school, and the community including outreach through the Society of St. Vincent de Paul. She treasured the friendship and fellowship found in the Holy Hatters, Ladies', and Leisure clubs.

Sue cherished phone calls and visits from her grandchildren and loved family gatherings, flowers, military bands, and musical theatre. Trips back to Baltimore for annual 3rd and 4th of July celebrations and vacations to Bethany Beach, Delaware are particularly memorable.

Sue is survived by her five children, Julie McGeorge, Will (Lisa), Robert (Karen), James LaFever, and Patricia (Rob) Binek; nine grandchildren, Patrick, Michael, Shelley, Brian (Emreigh), Christopher, Matthew, Alyssa, Susie and Thomas; one great-grandchild, Max; two brothers, Bob Schafer of Baldwin, Maryland and George (Cindy) Schafer of Alexandria, Virginia; sister-in-law, Mary Schafer of Crisfield, Maryland; many nieces, nephews, cousins and friends.

In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her beloved husband, Bill, her brother, Clyde Schafer, her sister-in-law, Karen Schafer, her son-in-law, Bob McGeorge, and her dear cousin, Mary Katherine Blair.

Sue is greatly missed by family and friends. Her sweet presence and generous spirit made a difference in the world.

Prominent lawyer Elmer Dean Langford dies

Mary Jo Denton
Herald-Citizen Staff

COOKEVILLE -- Elmer Dean Langford, who practiced law in the Upper Cumberland for 50 years, often serving pro-bono, and who took an active role in church and community work, died yesterday. He was 73.

Langford suffered a heart attack at his home and died at Cookeville Regional Hospital, friends said. The funeral will be held Saturday, Feb. 23, at 11 a.m. at First Baptist Church of Cookeville. Visitation is Friday from 5 to 8 p.m. at Hooper, Huddleston & Horner Funeral Home and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. at the church.

Langford was the "middle" of the Langford and Langford law firm, his father, the late Elmer Andrew Langford, being his partner in his early years of practice and his son, John E. Langford, being his current partner in the firm.

Langford was a 1952 graduate of Central High School, a 1956 graduate of Tennessee Tech, and a 1958 graduate of Stetson College of Law. He married Marilyn Joy Davis in 1961, and together they brought up three sons and two daughters.

It was 1958 when Langford began practicing law here with his father, and both enjoyed the task of problem solving for their clients, many of whom became lifelong friends. Later, he practiced with the late Dick Mitchell, and in more recent years with his son, John.

Langford was always a member of the informal "Round Table" lunch club which met at various restaurants over the years and which featured lively talk of current events and politics, always seasoned with humor.

Many at the round table were longtime Democrats, but occasionally a Republican (such as Sterling McCannless) would join the group and always received a warm welcome along with a little partisan ribbing.

Langford and his father were active in the First Baptist Church, where the elder Langford taught the Men's Radio Bible Class for over 50 years, with help from his son for about 20 of those years. Elmer Dean Langford also served as a deacon and a church trustee.

His other public service included more than 20 years on the Cookeville City Zoning Board of Appeals, a position which could often require considerable courage to make difficult decisions.

Like his father before him, Langford was known for his courtly manners and gentle spirit.

He had many friends and will be greatly missed.

Judge D. L. Lansden Passed Away Sat.

Judge D. L. Lansden died Saturday morning in Montgomery, Ala., as the result of an attack of apoplexy. His interment, and funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. L. T. Lawrence, in the presence of a large number of friends of the dead Jurist, including many prominent lawyers and judges from over the state.

The active pallbearers were W. R. Carlen, J. N. Cox, Worth Bryant, F. E. Bockman, A. P. Barnes and Dr. W. S. McClain. The honorary pallbearers were Judge L. D. Smith of Knoxville, Attorney General Frank M. Thompson of Nashville, Joe V. Williams of Chattanooga, Rutledge Smith of Nashville, D. C. Wilhite, B. G. Adcock, Algood Carlen, Dr. J. F. Dyer, Hugh Lansden, A. G. Maxwell, R. L. Farley, W. M. Shanks, G. A. Maxwell and James Quarles.

Judge Lansden's death was due to complications arising from Bright's disease, from while he had been a suffer for several years. His illness, aggravated by hard work on the supreme bench, forced him to abandon his labors and seek medical treatment in the hope that his health might be restored. For a time his condition showed improvement, but his health was never such that he could remain away from the care of his physician long at a time. Last Monday the family received a message that he was expected to last but a few hours. Wednesday morning he had a slight rally, but the doctors had abandoned hope, the end coming Saturday morning at 9:45 o'clock. At his bedside were his sons, David and John, and his daughter, Mrs. Hollis Johnson.

Judge Lansden was 55 years of age and was a native of White county. He graduated at Doyle College in 1889 and taught school for several years following his graduation, and in 1891 was elected county superintendent of White county. He studied law in the office of Snodgrass & Smith in Sparta. In 1893 he was admitted to the bar and became a member of the firm of Snodgrass, Fancher & Lansden. In 1902 he was elected chancellor of the Fourth division and served in that capacity for eight years, being elected to the supreme court in 1910, and chief justice in 1918, succeeding Judge M. M. Nell.

Judge Lansden is survived by his wife, who was formerly Miss Helen Snodgrass, and by five children: David S. Lansden, clerk of the supreme court; Mrs. Hollis Johnson, John, Dick and Arthur Buchanan Lansden, all of Nashville; one sister, Mrs. A. B. Johnson, and one brother, James Lansden, both of Doyle.

Beginning his civilian life, he worked from 1954-1968 at WHBQTV in Memphis, Tenn., (ABC network at that time) as a broadcasting engineer. Both of his children were born in Memphis. While working full time he also earned his Bachelor of Science degree in industrial arts with minors in education and history from Memphis State University. Mr. Legge died Wednesday September 1, 2010 in Cookeville Regional Medical Center.

He was born July 23, 1950 in Cookeville to the late Lewell William (L.W.) and Mildred Hughes Legge, Sr.

A graduate of Riverside Military Academy in Gainesville, GA, Bill attended Tennessee Tech University for two years before transferring to UT-Knoxville where he graduated in 1972 with a degree in Finance and Insurance. He joined his father in the family insurance agency, L. W. Legge Agency and became President of the agency prior to L. W. Legge Sr's retirement. He saw the agency grow from an office of four to an agency employing more than 30, with customers across the state, and offices in Chattanooga and Crossville, as well as Cookeville. In 1995, he and a group of mostly independent insurance agents founded Consumers Insurance Group headquartered in Murfreesboro, TN. He continued to serve on the board of directors of Consumers as long as his health permitted. During his college days at Tech he was an active member of ATO fraternity. He was later involved with the Business Foundation at TTU. His family established a scholarship at Tech in honor of his parents that has benefited many business students at Tech. Spending time in Knoxville made him an avid UT fan and he was an active member and past-president of the UT Alumni Association. He has supported the teams in many ways, but most enjoyably by traveling near and far for games. After playing basketball in high school, he turned his attention to golf. From St. Andrews to Pebble Beach, he was able to share the sport with his friends and especially with his son, David. Relaxing always included time on Center Hill Lake. He loved being on the water and spending time with his family and friends. In the 70's, he became active in the Jaycee organization, both locally and statewide. He served two terms as a state Vice-President of the Tennessee Jaycees and then was elected President of the Tennessee Jaycees in 1980. He devoted much of his time to community service. He was on the Board of Directors for Citizens Bank (now Regions) for a number of years. He served as President of the Cookeville-Putnam County Chamber of Commerce in 1997 and has served as President of the Cookeville Country Club, a position his father had also held. In 1998 he received the Sam Walton Business Leader award given by the Wal Mart Foundation and the local Wal Mart store.

IN MEMORY OF C. P. LEWIS:

A very dear friend has gone and left us with more interest in heaven than ever before.

Crawford P. Lewis was born on February 27, 1865, and died July 21, 1931, age 66 years, four months and 24 days. He was married to Mary Laura Quarles, May 12, 1889. To this union were born four children, three girls and one boy: Clio Terry, of McEwin, Martha Carr and Florence Richardson, both of Cookeville, and the son, Charlie Lewis, of Cookeville, all of whom are living.

His wife preceeded him in death 33 years and he was married the second time to Tina Davis, June 5, 1901. One child was born to them, Henry Lewis, who still lives with his mother at the home place near Cookeville. Bro. Lewis leaves a wife and five children and a host of friends to mourn their loss.

Best of all Bro. Lewis professed Jesus Christ as his saviour in the year 1898 and lived a good warm Christian life to the end. Oh, he loved to read the Bible and talk with ministers and Christian friends so well. He regretted to go and leave his two boys in sin, unprepared to meet him in heaven. He left a request and expressed a great desire for his boys to be Christians. I continue to pray for them and ask all Christian friends to join with me that they both may speedily come to the Lord. LEWIS, LAURA: Obituary. Mrs. Lewis (nee Quarles) was born Sept. 1, 1872. She was married to Mr. C. P. Lewis May 12, 1889. She departed this life Dec. 30, 1898, at 3:30 pm.

Her dying testimony was as follows: She called her husband to her bedside and had a talk with him. She also had her children brought to her bedside, telling them to be good to each other. Turning she said: "Papa, I want you to turn a new leaf in life and be better and meet me in heaven." She said that she would know her friends in heaven. Looking at her mother she said: "I don't know what to say to you." Then her papa asked if she was suffering any pain. She said that she was not. Then her papa asked her if she was afraid to die. She said that she was young and would like to live to rear her children but was not afraid to die. "I don't think I will die until morning, though I may and would not give much for so short a time. She says that she supposed that they thought that she was very hard-hearted as she could not shed a tear. She spoke calmly of death, not fearing to die--repeating that declaration several times. After this she thanked her many friends and neighbors kindly for being so good to her in her sickness. Then she commenced to sing that lovely song: "There is a land that is fairer than day." In her last moments she place her arms around her papa's neck and hugged him, and gently passed away her soul, going to God who gave it. Mrs. Laura Lewis was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Quarles of this place. She was an only child. She was kindhearted, pleasant and social, making friends wherever she went. She had not an enemy on earth, loving and dutiful, never giving her parents any trouble. A Short Tribute by Her Teacher. -- Laura Lewis was ten years old when the writer came to Cookeville. She entered my school and continued a student of mine for six years. Laura was a great favorite with her teachers. She was a gentle, kind, living and dutiful student, always doing her school work well. Laura was a pretty girl and grew into lovely womanhood, possessing rare charms of person and great modesty of demeanor. It is said that "Whom the Gods love die young," and "Death loves a shining mark." She leaves her husband, mother and father almost heart-broken by this mysterious dispensation of Providence. . . . S. LEWIS, MRS. CRAWFORD: Mrs. Crawford Lewis Dead. It is with profound regret we announce the death of Mrs. Crawford Lewis which occurred last Saturday at her late home three miles west of this place after a brief illness. She was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Quarles, of this place, and all the hopes of the family were centered in her. They are both almost prostrate with grief. Mrs. Lewis was about twenty-five years of age and it is to be regretted that her career was so untimely ended when by her exemplary christian life she could have been of so much benefit to the four little children she leaves. On her death bed her thoughts were with God, and although her body was tortured with pain, her soul was happy and her last words were prayers for her children, husband and parents. Her remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at this place Monday. The bereaved family have the sincere sympathy of the entire community. Name of parent, guardian or next of kin of female: Marvin McClain, father, Rt. 4, Cookeville, TN).

Barbara Ruth McClain Bohannon Little passed away on Thanksgiving, Thursday November 25, 2020 at Cookeville Regional Medical Center after extended illness. Born on Christmas Day, December 25, 1938 to parents Marjorie Ann Rector McClain and Marvin Dee McClain in Cookeville, Tennessee, she came into this world as a blessing and left it giving thanks for all the joy she received in her life.

One of six children, Barbara attended The Campus School at Tennessee Tech, then Central High School and Cookeville High School. Upon graduation she moved to Nashville to obtain employment so as to help mother after the death of her father who still had 3 small children at home. She found work in the legal field eventually working with well known legal minds as the late Vernon Neal and the late lieutenant governor Frank Gorell. She spent a lot of time at the Davidson County Courthouse often stopping to chat with a friend on park bench, a struggling singer/songwriter named Kris Kristofferson to name one.

She spent about 5 years in Nashville working before returning to Cookeville and marrying Harlan Taylor Bohannon from the Poplar Grove area who had recently returned home after service in the Air Force. She continued working in Cookeville’s up and coming legal field working for the firm Cameron, Oakley and Jared before leaving with Eugene Jared to open his own firm and working “as a paralegal” without a title as such. She and Harlan had two children, a daughter, Analisa Bohannon, and son, the late Christopher Harlan Bohannon. Each child provided her with two grandchildren, “Lisa” with Beau McClain Waller and Hannan Elisabeth Sorrells, and “Chris” with Mason Garland Bohannon and Christopher Parker Bohannon

Barbara remarried in 1987 James “Jim” Darryl Little of Byrdstown. She also switched careers at this time going to work for the U.S. Dept. of the Interior as an office manager/budget assistant for the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Her husband Jim was employed as a biologist with The Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency. Together they spent many wonderful hours together in fish and game before Jim passed away in 1993. Barbara also became a skeet shooter, earning herself the nickname “Littles Annie Oakley.” She also enjoyed gardening, traveling, remodeling, board games with the family, and rental properties to name a few. And she was a retired princess of the powder puff derby.

In addition to her children and grandchildren, she is also survived by two younger sisters, Wanda Faye McClain Powell and Patricia “Trish” Anne McClain Watts Howard, 9 nieces and grandnieces and 7 nephews and grandnephews, and stepson James Darryl Little Junior. She is preceded in death by her parents, two husbands, one son Christopher Harlan Bohannon, two sisters Tommie Nell McClain Burgess Stout and Beulah Imogene McClain Bowman, one brother Philip Marvin McClain, and two nephews, Kenneth Dale Burgess and Phillip Jayson Watts.

Again, born as a blessing, Barbara left this world a much more loved place. She was too much loved and will be sorely missed. As cremation was chosen, a memorial service is being planned for a later date.

Little Susan Frances Littrell, 3 year old daughter of Mr and Mrs W H Littrell, west Cookeville, was instantly killed late Sunday afternoon when thrown from an automobile as it turned over after a front tire had blown out near Camp Walton, 3 miles east of Cookeville.

According to witnesses, the car turned over on a stretch of straight road when a front tire blew out, causing the driver, Rad Long, to completely lose control. The baby was thrown clear and was horribly injured on the pavement.

Mrs Littrell was in the car and was seriously injured. Her condition this week was reported worse, although it was thought Sunday she was not critically injured. 2 other occupants, children of Mr and Mrs Littrell, were not injured.

The father is a valued employee of the Tennessee Handle Co.

Funeral services for the child were held Monday afternoon at the Cookeville Cumberland Presbyterian Church with burial in the City cemetery.

TO THE CITIZENS OF COOKEVILLE TENNESSEE: COOPER LOFTIS

I am a candidate for City Commissioner of Finance and Taxation. I am the first candidate to advocate a City Council for Cookeville. I favor this because it is democratic. I propose to have an accurate survey made by the Engineering Department of Tennessee Polytechnic Institute of Cookeville, Tennessee, and have them divide the town into five or six councilmanic wards, and let the people living within the confines of each of these wards vote for and elect their own member of the City Council. I advocate the passage and enactment into law at the coming session of the legislature a law that will give to Cookeville a councilmanic form of government to be approved by the citizens of Cookeville in mass meeting held for that purpose.

This is the only issue in this campaign. Any other issue sought to be injected will be done for the purpose of confusing and misleading the citizens of Cookeville. I am not a candidate of any special group, nor has anyone had me behind closed doors directing my campaign. Is there any place in Cookeville, Tennessee, for a group of power-drunk would-be dictators, whose only desire is to crucify the rights of its citizens and raid the treasury of the taxpayers? A vote for me means the sudden death of this sort of thing.

I have lived in Cookeville since 1906. What I have is here and I am expecting to spend the remainder of my days here. My record is an open book. I have made mistakes but it has always been my purpose to be public spirited and patriotic.

I volunteered in World War I and served 505 days overseas. I gave my only son and child that I had to World War II. He desired to do his best and did not want anyone to go in his stead. He was not a slacker, and gave his life in order that dictatorships might be erased from the face of the earth.

My opponent can answer for himself as to his patriotism and public service.

Do not be deceived in this campaign. Decide for yourselves whether or not you prefer a city council of the people. A vote for me means just that thing. I stand for a better Cookeville, a Cookeville that will welcome industry and thrift; a Cookeville that will equalize taxes to all; a Cookeville that will always be ruled by a majority vote on all questions of public importance, including the location of a hospital and the expenditure of public funds; a Cookeville in which we can bring up our families in a moral and decent atmosphere. Your vote and influence will be deeply appreciated by me.

Last Friday morning Cord Mackey who lives one mile south of town accidently shot his wife from which she died Sunday morning at 3 o'clock. Cord had been on duty as night policeman on the public square the night before and returned home about daylight to retire for a few hours sleep. On removing his clothes and pistol scabbard, he dropped his pistol on the floor at the bedside of his wife. The jar from the fall discharged the gun, the bullet passing up through the bed into the side of Mrs. MacKay 'sic' (Mackie) who had just awoke from her sleep. The ball passed through to the opposite side of the woman where it lodged. Medical assistance was immediately called in, but it was found that the bullet had passed through some of the vital parts of the body and the wound pronounced fatal from the start. Mrs. Mackey was buried Monday afternoon in the Cookeville cemetery. – Mountaineer.

Hite Mackie Dead After Brief Illness:

After a short illness of about two days the early career of H. M. “Hite” Mackie, well known citizen of Cookeville came to a close Monday evening at his home in this city.

Mr. Mackie was born in Putnam county January 10, 1864, being in his 71st year at the time of his death. He was one of a family of fourteen children, but is survived by only one brother, Mr. Tim Mackie, who lives a few miles east of Cookeville. He is also survived by six children, four daughters and two sons as follows: Mrs. Maud Young, of Detroit, MI, Mrs. Ova McLean, of St. Louis, MO, Mrs. Notie Reed and Mrs. Ollie Johnson, of this city; Dallas Mackie, of Detroit, MI; and Daniel Mackie, of this city; and three grandchildren. All of the children were with their father when the final summons came.

Mr. Mackie had been a citizen of Cookeville for about thirty years, during the most of which time he had successfully conducted barber shops at various long locations here, being one of the most expert barbers who ever operated here.

Mr. Mackie was a man who easily made friends with everyone, being of kind disposition, generous hearted, liked and admired by all, and his cordial, friendly greeting will be missed by many, both old and young.

Many years ago he professed faith in Christ and became a member of the Mormon church, but in recent years he gave up his belief in that church and expressed his hope in the Church of Christ and in this faith he held steadfast till the end.

Funeral services were conducted at the Church of Christ Wednesday afternoon by W. M. Oakley and O. H. Tallman, each of whom made extended remarks appropriate to the sad occasion, a large congregation of relatives, friends and neighbors being present. Interment in the family lot in the city cemetery followed these services.

COOKEVILLE — Funeral services for Mrs. Ruby Elizabeth Ray Mackie, 100, of Cookeville, will be at 11 a.m. Friday, April 7, at the Cookeville chapel of Hooper-Huddleston and Horner Funeral Home with the Rev. Eddie Payne and the Rev. Jack Taylor officiating. Interment will follow at Cookeville City Cemetery.

The family will receive friends Thursday April 6, from 5-8 p.m., and again Friday April 7, from 9 a.m. until service time at the funeral home.

Mrs. Mackie passed away Monday evening, April 3, 2017, at her residence.

She was born Oct. 21, 1916, in White County, to the late William Stipes (Jake) and Eliza Hampton Ray.

She was the second daughter and the seventh of 11 children.

Mrs. Mackie's mother died when she was 14 leaving behind Ruby and four younger siblings, with the youngest being 20 months old. Mrs. Mackie was left with the daunting task of caring for herself and her siblings in rural White County during the Depression without electricity or inside plumbing. She accepted the responsibility with a positive outlook, always doing what was necessary, never complaining about the tough road she was to walk. This positive acceptance continued throughout her life with any challenge she was faced with.

Mrs. Mackie's first job outside her home was at the Sparta Shirt Factory in her early 20s. She relished in the fact that she was earning money. Living her teenage years during the Depression, she was dedicated to saving her money and spending prudently, another trait that remained with her throughout her life.

Mrs. Mackie met her husband Elbert Lee walking between home and church in the early 40s. They were married on April 4, 1942. This was right in the middle of WWII. When Elbert joined the Army, Mrs. Mackie followed him to his first assignments in Michigan. After Mr. Mackie's deployment to Europe, she returned to Michigan where she worked at the Willow Run plant in Ypsilanti, Mich., riveting a bracket on the door of the B-24 Liberator bombers used during WWII. She fell into the category of those women referred to as "Rosie the Riveter." She was heard to say this was the best job (meaning lucrative) she ever had.

Following WWII, she began her life's work as wife, mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, sister and aunt. She was fiercely protective and loyal to her family. As her siblings died, she continued to make sure their children were okay. When it came to her immediate family she was a constant source of love and providing for their needs.

Mrs. Mackie was an avid and successful gardener planting by the signs of the moon. Not only did she and her husband maintain a very productive garden but she preserved the produce of the garden throughout the summer months via canning and freezing food for the winter. Mrs. Mackie's faith in God was obvious in all her actions. She was a "child of God" and instilled in her children this same faith filled heart. Continuing into her last days she sang gospel songs and read her Bible or asked it to be read to her. Mrs. Mackie's faith in God was the backbone of her life. She could be heard singing gospel songs as she happily went about her daily work both as a child at her home and as an adult in her and Mr. Mackie's home. Seeing that her children were raised in church was a priority.

She was a member of Eastwood Baptist Church. In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her husband, Elbert Lee Mackie; seven brothers and six sisters-in-law, Casto and Jenny Ray, Dan and Sula Ray, Will and Rowena Ray, Hill and Tommie Ray, Dempsey and Rosamond Ray, Erbie and Nell Ray, and Bethel Ray; and three sisters and brothers-in-law, Almira and Luther Graham, Bonnie and Doyle Nash, Mildred and Beryl Malone.

She is survived by two daughters and son-in-law, Gail Smith of Cookeville, Karen Stamey and Eddie Jones of Sparta; two sons and daughters-in-law, Richard and Linda Mackie of Sparta, Ray and Beverly Mackie of Cookeville; seven grandchildren, Chris Stamey of Florida, Candy Stamey Pearson of Nolansville, and Brett (Casey) Mackie of Johnson City, Tyler (Jessica) Mackie of Johnson City, Megan (Nathan) Mathis of Meridianville, Ala.; Chad (Katey) Mackie of Cookeville, and Felicia Mackie of Sparta; sister-in-law, Bonnie Ray of Antioch; and 12 great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Brett Mackie, Tyler Mackie, Chad Mackie, Canaan Mackie, Steven Pearson, and Nathan Mathis.

Honorary pallbearers are Chris Stamey, Preston Stamey, Tatum Mackie, Maverick Mackie, Eli Mathis, and Hudson Mackie Holtzclaw.

Way Back When: Herald-Citizen, Cookeville: 10 December 1995 – (10 Years Ago)
Services were held this week for well-known businessman and avid fox hunter Bob Lee Maddux.

One of the founders of Maddux and Proffitt on the Square, Maddux began his career as a merchant in 1914 when he became a partner in the Maddux and Massa Dry Good Store on the Square.

He was as well known for his humor and wit and for his love of fox hunting. He had written two books on the subject and string of magazine articles over the years. He was 96.

“It was Christmas Day in 1897 that I saw my first red fox bring pursued by hounds...(It) slipped swiftly and silently across a haulroad, through the fence, over a bank and away. The hounds came into view, their great ears flapping backward and forward from their shoulders to the tips of their noses, and their tongues hanging down to their knees like aprons. The enthusiasm it imparted to me has never been extinguished, and that Christmas Day revealed to me the unsuspected intoxication of fox hunting.” Robert “Bob” Lee Maddux, late Putnam County Foxhunter from a book of his essays, ‘Hill Topping.’

She was born on Wednesday, Nov. 8, 1922, to the late Robert Andrew and Ova Ellen Welch McClain, at Bills Branch in Overton County.

Her family moved to Campaign, a community in Warren County, Tenn., where her father was the manager of the Campaign Wholesale Supply Company for Rocky River Coal and Lumber. The family moved to Cookeville when she was 8-years-old, and they lived on Willow Avenue, and her father owned a grocery store in the B. Fox Building on the corner of First and Cedar Streets. She attended her first year of high school at Trevecca Nazarene College and then finished high school in Cookeville. She married Len K. Mahler on Saturday, May 17, 1941, in a ceremony performed by her maternal uncle, A.P. (Abraham Poteet) Welch, a minister of the Nazarene Church in Monterey.

Her paternal grandparents were the late Dr. Lemuel Rux McClain and Sarah Emily Burton McClain. Her grandfather McClain was one of the early physicians who located in Putnam County in the fall of 1866, and married into the Burton family of White Plains. Her maternal grandparents were the late John Wesley Welch and Julia Ann Ford Welch. Her grandfather Welch was a businessman and bank president in Monterey, and gave the land for the Welch Memorial Cemetery. Mrs. Mahler moved from Cookeville in 2004 to Assisted Living at AdamsPlace in Murfreesboro. The family cites one of the reasons for her length of life was due to the great care she received from all the nurses, CNAs, techs, activities coordinators, dietary staff and housekeepers. She moved from Assisted Living to their Assured Care and, after several admissions to rehab, she was transferred to their Continuing Care Area.

Mrs. Mahler was a dedicated member of the First Church of the Nazarene, where she taught Sunday school classes, worked in the church nursery, missions and any area she was needed. She was also a devoted worker in the VFW veterans organization. She served as an officer in the VFW auxiliary for many years. She also volunteered at the Cookeville Regional Hospital.

Mrs. Mahler was the beloved mother of Daley (Joel) Love of Lakeland, Fla., Kelly (Karon) Mahler of Chattanooga, Jan (Bill) Spencer of Little Rock, Ark., and Cynthia (Tim) Witzigreuter of Murfreesboro; granny to Lori (Chet) Carawan, Joey Love, Kim Shields, Daley Mahler, Natalie (Mike) Roberts, Michael

Dr. Marchbanks Dies From Heart Attack:

Funeral services for Iliff Conger Marchbanks, 63, were held May 8, at 2 p.m. from the Broad Street Church of Christ. Gilbert Shaffer officiated, and burial was in the Cookeville City Cemetery.

Dr. Marchbanks, who has operated the Marchbanks Drug Store here for about 24 years, died early Friday morning of a heart attack at his home on East Broad Street. He was a native of White County, the son of Burton and Margie Sanders Marchbanks. He was a member of the Church of Christ and a veteran of World War I. He was also a member of the American Legion and the Cookeville Lions Club.

Dr. Marchbanks, a leading citizen, was modest and unassuming in his every day mode of living but in his quiet and genteel manner he was influential in civic, business educational and religious interests. He was actively engaged in helping those about him and in the promotion of community benefits, and was always interested in the progress of the church and in recent months has faithfully served with others in the reconstruction program of the Broad Street building. The members of this congregation, with whom he has worshipped for many years, sustain a great loss in his passing, as does the citizenry of Cookeville.

Survivors include, his wife Mrs. Bunola Wilhite Marchbanks; a brother, Dr. S. S. Marchbanks, Chattanooga; two nieces, Mrs. Jack Reddy, Chattanooga and Mrs. Darden Hampton, Charlotte, NC.

Whitson Funeral Home was in charge.

Buisness Tycoon. Born James Howard Marshall, he is best remembered for his 1994 marriage to Playboy Playmate Anna Nicole Smith. He was 89 and wheelchair-bound, she was 26. At the time of his death he left no provisio n for Smith in his will, and his estate became the center of a nasty, highly-publicized legal battle between Smith and his son E. Pierce Marshall. He was a Yale Law School grauate, but became interested in the oil industry after studying laws designed to regulate the practice of controlled production of oil and gas fields. He was recruited to work for the Secretary of Interior in Washington. Marshall co-founded Great Northern Oil in 1952, later to become Koch Refining, and he founded Marshall Petroleum in 1984, a move that made him a successful independent oil man. (bio by: Elizabeth Reed). Burial: Cremated ashes given to family or friend. Plot: Washington 113.

Model, Actress. Born Vickie Lynn Hogan, she first gained popularity as Playboy magazine's 1993 Playmate of the Year. Her highly publicized marriage to oil business executive and billionaire J. Howard Marshall, who was 63 years her senior, resulted in tumultuous speculation that she married the octogenarian merely for his money, which she denied. Following his death, she began a lengthy and ongoing legal battle over a share of his estate. Smith's career and public image subsequently suffered as her weight gain and antics were reported in supermarket tabloids and in her reality television series, The Anna Nicole Show (2002-2004). Her son, Daniel Wayne Smith, passed away five months previous to Anna. (bio courtesy of: Wikipedia)

Ethan E. Martin, s/o Dr. John Preston Martin (1823-1899) & Parmelia W. Price (1823-1907). Minerva “Minnie” (Thompson) Martin Cantrell, also md Leonidas Cleburne Cantrell (1878-1946), buried in Rosehill Cemetery and Mausoleum, Chicago, Cook Co., IL.

MARTIN, ET: Last Friday night, Et Martin died at his home in Cookeville, after a lingering illness. He had been in poor health for years, in fact he was never stout, which was to a large degree responsible for his retiring disposition. Mr. Martin was the youngest son of the late Dr. J. P. Martin, and was a pharmacist by profession. He was a first class prescriptionist, but on account of ill health, has done but little work for a long period. He leaves a wife and little son, mother, sister, brother and numerous friends to mourn his loss. He was buried Saturday in the cemetery. (Ethan E. Martin married Minerva “Minnie” Thompson Martin Cantrell. He was the father of Van Clair Martin.)

COOKEVILLE — On Wednesday, Nov. 7, 2012, David Mathis of Cookeville passed away. David was born to Bedford and Jewel Mathis at the family home in Rome, Tenn., on Sept. 20, 1939. He was baptized at the age of 10 in Mills Creek, off Hwy. 70, along with his older brothers, John, Noble and Ray, by Brother Malcolm Rodgers.

Dave was highly respected and loved by his family and many friends for numerous reasons; his strong will, his ability to make his own way, his honesty, his straightforwardness and a way of bringing out the best in others.

The love of fast cars and driving developed into his becoming a professional drag racer. His ability to work with his hands entered him into the building trade, building homes and buildings, which are still standing today. An extremely talented man, "Mathis," as he was known by many, achieved many personal goals which he had set for himself. A true entrepreneur and successful businessman, a carpenter of master craftsman status, an artist in automotive design and mechanics, a talented athlete in professional auto racing, a family provider, a stern teacher and, most of all, a loving husband to Patricia of more than 50 years.

If David did it, it was done right. He was a man's man, a working man, a staunch believer of making his own way through life. He lived his life as he believed he should. "I can do anything I set my mind to" he would say, and proved that to others on many occasions. His life's creed, "If it harms none, do what you will."

He instilled these qualities in those who were lucky enough to learn from his examples and from his teachings. His guidance, skills and fairness will be missed.

David's confidence, determination and, most of all, the immense love for his family and friends will be remembered.

David Mathis lived a full life and leaves behind a legacy any man would be proud of. He is survived by his brothers, John, Noble and Ray; a sister, Vivian; his wife, Patricia; his children, Debbie, Richard and Kenneth; his grandchildren, Matthew (whom he adopted); Amanda, Nicholas, Chance and Amy; and his great-grandchildren, Draco, Elyjha, Somara, Jonathan and Ava.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Bedford and Jewel; his sister, Marjanna; two sons, Larry and David; and a grandson, Derek.

Commemorative by Richard Mathis.

MAXWELL-FARLEY

By Quimby Dyer

Putnam County Herald, Cookeville, TN: Thursday, 22 March 1923

The Upper Cumberland counties are counties that any boy should be proud to live in. The pure mountain atmosphere, the beautiful hills and valleys, the sparkling streams, and the charm of the trees, the flowers, the birds, create geniuses in many line, business and professional. The greatest fighter of the World war, Alvin C. York, lives in Fentress county. The governor Tennessee from 1919-21, A. H. Roberts, received his inspiration as a lawyer, thinker and speaker in the hills of Overton county. The national chairman of the democratic party, Cordell Hull, was born and reared on the banks of the Cumberland, in Clay county, in the rich bottoms of Jackson county, the president of the United States found John J. Gore, now federal judge for Middle Tennessee.

Putnam county has the honor of producing two of the great business men of Tennessee, Gillem Maxwell and R. L. Farley. Both were born in Putnam county and have lived here practically all of their lives. These gentlemen formed a partnership in 1909 to engage in the timber business. From that time up to the present their business has developed wonderfully. The spoke industry of Tennessee is under their control. The egg case industry of the South is also under their management. They own and operate many saw mills in Tennessee, Kentucky and Mississippi and are the owners of many thousands of acres of fine timber land in each of these states. Their products are sold in practically every state in the Union, Canada, South America and in many European countries in far-off China and Japan.

Mr. Maxwell is a man that is not afraid to do things. This was shown in 1920 when Cookeville was suffering for the want of business houses. No one would build on account of the inflated prices of labor and material then prevailing. Mr. Maxwell said, "The town must have the buildings. I will build them myself." And he did. One building after another was erected, all modern and up-to-date. Today he is decidedly the largest owner of business property in Cookeville.

A citizen of the first rank, public-spirited and open-hearted; always ready with his time and money to help not only his town but anyone in distress; a pleasant gentleman to be with and an all-round, first class man. He is president of the Gainesboro Telephone Co.; director in several banks and many other business enterprises; a member of the City School Board and mayor of Cookeville for two terms, from 1917-21.

Mr. Farley has as much serve as his partner and is not afraid to back his judgment with his money. He was cashier of the Bank of Cookeville for many years, and through him more than any other man, this Upper country owes its gratitude. Seeing the possibilities of the timber industry he financed every legitimate enterprise to the limit. We today are gathering the fruits of these many industries finances in the beginning by him. Putnam county, on account of these activities, is one of the most progressive counties in the state today. Mr. Farley always greets you with a smile and pleasant word. A gentleman of the highest type; ready at all times to help Cookeville with his time and means. He is vice-president of the Gainesboro Telephone Co.; member of the City School Board and has been for many years; also a director in several banks and corporations.

Cookeville and Putnam county should be and are proud of these two big public-spirited business men.

Note: Alvin Gillem Maxwell began his business life as a commercial traveler and there was no better on the road. Entering business for himself, he made a success of every enterprise he attempted. Today he owns more real estate than any other individual in Cookeville, TN. He and Robert L. Farley own a controlling interest in numerous spoke mills, veneering mills, flour mills, etc. Alvin G. Maxwell is a Democrat and a member of the Church of Christ. Was a Colonel on the staff of Gov. Roberts. One of the most progressive and public spirited citizens of Putnam County, TN. Lonnie H. Maxwell Honored

Lonnie H. Maxwell, of 600 Highland Street, recently was awarded the medal for daring in action for meritorious service. He is the husband of Mrs. Oral Lee Maxwell, of the above address. Pfc. Maxwell distinguished himself by outstanding courage and heroism. When the enemy armored columns assailed his position, he courageously set up a defensive position and fired his weapons so skillfully that their column became disorganized and retreated in wild confusion. He continued firing at the enemy infantry men until many of them lay dead or wounded upon the battlefield. His intrepidity and heroism reflect the highest credit upon himself and the military service.

Mignon "Minnie" (Brown) May Obt.

b. October 1877 - d. 28 January 1921, Washington, D. C., md Capt. Herbert May, (US Army). Mignon (Brown) May, d/o Joshua H. Brown (1854-1926) & Elizabeth S. Reagan (1855-1941).

The friends of Mrs. Herbert May, nee Miss Mignon Brown, of Washington, D. C., who remember her as one of the most charming and beautiful girls that Cookeville has ever entertained, were shocked to learn of her death from an operation in Washington, Friday evening, Jan. 28.

Mrs. May was the wife of Captain Herbert May of the U. S. Army, who is now stationed at Birmingham, AL, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Josh Brown, formerly well known Cookeville residents, who now live in Washington. She was the niece of Mrs. Mary A. Staley and Mrs. Tina Yeagan, and had been a welcome visitor to Cookeville since her parents had left here in her early girlhood. Her sister, Miss Daisie Brown died many years ago, and she leaves beside her parents, husband and relatives, an only brother, Bailey Brown of Washington, to mourn her.

Capt. May had recently accepted as appointment in the army that would take him to the Hawaiian Islands, and Mrs. May was very enthusiastic over the prospect of work in new fields. She went to the hospital, as it was thought, for a very simple operation, but which proved to be a very serious one, and of such length that she could not rally from the operation which was performed Thursday, passing away on Friday evening.

Her body was brought to Cookeville for the burial beside that of her sister and other relatives and a simple but beautiful service was held at the Methodist church on Wednesday afternoon with Rev. A. P. Walker officiating. The honorary pallbearers were: Drs. J. F. Dyer, J. B. S. Martin, and H. C. Martin, John B. Dow, Jere Whitson, A. Alggod, H. Algood, and J. W. Richardson. The active pallbearers were, John J. Gore, Herbert Shanks, W. M. Shanks, C. N. Gracey, E. H. Boyd, Quimby Dyer, T. D. Ford, and Dr. C. P. Martin.

“Jesus Lover of My Soul,” “Rock of Ages,” and “Abide With me,” were beautifully rendered by the choir and organ, with Mr. Richmond at the organ. Exquisite flowers were the testimonial from friends of the loving remembrance in which Mrs. May – Minnie Brown – was held by her friends in Cookeville and other towns, and the deepest sympathy of the entire community is extended to her bereaved husband, father, mother, and brother in this great sorrow, and especially to her husband, who will very soon go upon the journey they had planned together – alone.

IN MEMORY:

In loving memory of our daring son and brother, Clay W. Maynard, who passed away May 29, 1948, one year ago.

The years may wipe out many things
But this they'll wipe out never
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.

How much we miss you Clay
No one but God can tell,
We miss your precious footsteps
Your smiling face as well.
Just when his life was brightest,
Just when his hopes were best
God called him from among us
To a home of eternal rest.

Loving and kind in all your ways
Upright and just to the end of your days
Sincere and true in heart and mind
What a beautiful memory you left behind.
Sadly missed by his parents, brothers and sisters.

FAMILY FED UP WITH GRAVEYARD THEFTS

Mary Jo Denton
Herald-Citizen Staff

A message for the thief who is plaguing two certain graves in Cookeville City Cemetery: you are about to be caught.

Why?

Because the family of those buried in the two graves you have continually victimized has arranged to keep a watch on those final resting places.

A Cookeville Police detective is also now investigating the cases you have generated.

It may be hard to believe, but some thieves stoop that low, and one Cookeville family says they have had enough and plan to do something about it.

Some thief has been stealing flowers, ornaments, and whatever else he or she could find off the graves of Houston and Stella McBroom.

And the graves are not in an isolated spot in the large cemetery; they are located right near Scott Street.

But in spite of the fact that anyone passing by might see what's happening there, the thefts have been occurring frequently for over a year now, family members say.

The McBrooms were the parents of Jeanette Smith of Cookeville, and she and her sisters say they are sick and tired of the thief who is always preying on their parents' graves.

"Last year, we put in a $600 solar light at their graves, and it was there only about four nights before someone stole it," Smith said.

This year just before Mother's Day, she placed a $54 flower arrangement on her mother's grave.

She had it specially made, and it contained burgundy and pink roses with dewdrops on them.

By Monday morning, it was gone.

Another daughter, infuriated by all the thefts from her parents' graves, placed a small Teddy Bear figurine there last week -- after writing on the bottom of it "Stolen from the grave of Stella McBroom."

Sure enough, the thief took that too.

The solar light stolen last year was clear crystal and was in the shape of a diamond. Inside it was the figure of an angel.

The light was attached to granite, and the whole thing was cemented down, Smith said.

"But they took a crowbar or something and got it loose," she said.

"And this has been going on for over a year now. They have stolen flowers, the light, figurines -- whatever we put out there. I think it is a shame and a disgrace that you can't even decorate your parents' graves because of a low-life thief of this kind."

This past Easter, the thief took the flowers the family members had placed on the McBrooms' graves.

And when the Mother's Day flowers were stolen earlier this week, the thief also took the time to rip open a Mother's Day greeting card one daughter had placed with the flower arrangement.

Smith has reported the thefts to the cemetery caretaker and to the Cookeville Police Dept., and the family has also arranged to have the graves watched.

"It's not the monetary loss that makes us so mad," Smith said. "It's just the idea that somebody would do this. I want everybody to know what's going on there."

She said Detective Sgt. David Gragg is investigating the cases.

Heart Attack Fatal To Mrs. Walter S. McClain Friday

Seldom in the history of this community have over people been so shocked by the sudden death of a highly esteemed resident as they were on Friday evening when Mrs. Minnie Avery McClain, wife of Dr. Walter S. McClain suffered a sudden fatal heart attack at their home.

The last day of her life was an especially busy one. In the afternoon she had attended a meeting of the Dry Valley Women's Club, and she suffered the heart attack shortly after returning to her home.

On March 15, 1897, only a few days prior to her 17th birthday, she was married to Dr. Walter S. McClain, and her death occurred only a few days before the 44th anniversary of their marriage.

Mrs. McClain's life was truly one of helpful service to others, and many were the activities and undertakings through which her useful life found expression.

For many years she had been actively identified with the organized relief work of this city and county, and was the Putnam county representative of the Child Welfare Aid.

Aside from her connection with organized relief and charitable work, and federal social service activities, Mrs. McClain's individual and personal assistance to and interest in the poor, friendless, destitute and underprivileged will ever stand as a monument to her memory in this community.

A public service which, for many years, had enlisted her best efforts and enthusiastic leadership in rural Women's Club Work in Putnam County, and to this most useful work she attested her devotion by rendering the last hours of service.

On the night preceding her death she had held in her home, a child welfare conference, attended by ministers, teachers, and social workers, for the purpose of planning a busy year's work in saving and serving underprivileged children of this county.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church of which the deceased had been a member for many years, by the pastor Rev. A. J. Morgan, assisted by the Rev. Robert W. Jones, pastor of the Presbyterian church. (The church was crowded to its capacity with friends of the deceased and her family. Many beautiful floral designs attested a community's appreciation of one who had served it long and well.) Burial was in Cookeville cemetery.

Mrs. McClain is survived by her husband, Dr. Walter S. McClain, a son, Victor H. McClain, and a granddaughter, Ann McClain of Newark, New Jersey, and a sister, Mrs. John Wade of Lansing, Michigan.

Oren McCormick, age 18 years, the only son of Mr. & Mrs. James M. McCormick, was drowned on Sunday afternoon while swimming in Cumberland river near the home of G. C. Darwin, in White's bend. Dero Darwin had a narrow escape from drowning trying to rescue young McCormick. A party of eighteen young boys were camping near by, where they had planned to spend a week. The news of the drowning spread rapidly and in an hour a large crowd had gathered at the river. They were joined later by fifty men from Cookeville, who worked until late in the night trying to find the body, without results. Work began again at daylight Monday morning and at 5:30 the body was found about thirty feet from where he was drowned.

Oren was a popular member of the high school crowd and was loved by his companions. He would have been a senior high school student next term. He was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. McCormick. He was converted and joined the Presbyterian church when a little boy, and has been a faithful worker in the Sunday school and other church work for several years. He is survived by his parents and two sisters, Misses Thelma and Luccile McCormick, his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Snodgrass, and numerous other relatives in this and White counties. Mrs. Emma Florence Roberts McGee, 87, wife of G. B. McGee and one of Cookeville's oldest and most highly esteemed residents, died on last Thursday, following a brief illness. Funeral services were conducted Friday afternoon at the First Methodist Church, by the pastor, Rev. W. Bruce Strother, and Rev. S. D. Organ, District Superintendent. Burial was in the family plot in the Cookeville cemetery.

Mrs. McGee was a daughter of the late George P. Roberts and Matilda Ann Carlock Roberts. She was born and reared in the Alpine section of Overton County and was a descendant of prominent pioneer families of that county. She was a double first cousin of the late former Governor Albert H. Roberts, their fathers having been brothers and their mothers having been sisters.

She received her education at Historic Alpine Academy and for several years she was a teacher in the public schools of Overton county. In her early girlhood, she became a member of the Cave Springs Cumberland Presbyterian Church but after her marriage she united with her husband in the Livingston Methodist Church.

She and Mr. G. B. McGee were married December 23, 1896 and she died a few days before the 56th anniversary of their marriage.

For twenty-four years, following her marriage, she was associated with her husband in editing and publishing the "Livingston Enterprise, one of the oldest weekly newspapers of this section of the State.

From her girlhood, Mrs. McGee was an active and devoted church member. She was the first president of the Ladies Missionary Society of the Livingston Methodist Church. She was a lady of splendid ability and broad culture who made friends of all with whom she came in contact. Faithful and loyal to her church, she and her 90 year old husband attended the services of their church on the Sunday preceding her death. They moved from Livingston to Cookeville in 1920, and, during their 32 years residence in Cookeville, there have been no more faithful and devoted members of the Methodist Church than Mr. and Mrs. McGee. In 1937, Mrs. McGee was elected Queen Mother of the Cookeville Methodist Church by its Methodist Brotherhood.

Mrs. McGee is survived by her husband, and a son, Rhion Roberts McGee, a merchant of Monterey, and a daughter, Mrs. M. E. Johnson, of Cookeville, a brother, Frank Roberts, of Overton County, a sister, Mrs. Minnie Lacey, of Monteagle, and a number of nieces and nephews and other relatives.

Gilbert McGee's Body Brought Home:

The body of Gilver McGee, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. McGee, who died in France in the Fall of 1918, arrived here last Saturday and was re-interred at the City Cemetery Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, in the presence of a large concourse of people. The local chapter of the American Legion, assisted by Rev. A. P. Walker of the Methodist church, performed the last and rites of burial and the service was a very impressive one.

Gilbert McGee was a splendid young man, possessing those sterling qualities which have made the young manhood of America admired the world over. He died from the effects of pneumonia brought about by exposure during the awful campaign of 1918, and like thousands of his comrades in arms made the supreme sacrifice for his country.

The body was examed at the request of the family and the identification was complete, which of course was a source of great relief to his bereaved parents, who are now as sure that it is their son Gilbert who sleeps in the newly made grave, as though he had died under their own loving care.

Death Takes Longtime Area Newsman:

Funeral services for Granville B. McGee, 95, will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Methodist church with the pastor, the rev. James R. Cox, and Rev. Thornton Fowler, a former pastor, now of Nashville, officiating.

Burial will be in the City cemetery.

Mr. McGee's death occurred Sunday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Eugene Johnson, and Mr. Johnson, 258 E. 7th street with whom he had resided for three years. He had not been as well as usual for several weeks, a condition attributed to declining years and death was unexpected.

He was a devout member of the Methodist church and rarely missed Sunday services, not until six weeks ago as he grew more feeble and this prevented him from continuing his usual church attendance.

Mr. McGee and family have been residents of Cookeville since 1920 and for other than three eyars he had been with his daughter, he owned and occupied a residence located at 260 E 7th street.

He was for many years publisher and editor of the Livingston Enterprise and later was affiliated with the Golden age in Livingston. He contined his newspaper interests for some years after moving to Cookeville and in later years frequently furnished The Herald with current, historic, or religious articles.

Mr. McGee's passing takes from Cookeville one of its oldest and best known citizens. He was born in Fentress county, son of the late Joseph A. and Matilda Taylor McGee.

The death of his wife, the former Miss Emma Robbins (Roberts), occurred five years ago.

He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Johnson, a son, Rhion McGee, of Monterey, and a brother, S. T. McGee of Los Altos, CA.

The body is a Hooper and Huddleston funeral home where it will remain until time for the church service Tuesday afternoon.

Putnam County Herald, Cookeville, TN: 4 November 1957.

Former Editor Marks 90th Birthday Here:

Granville Bowan McGee, one of Cookeville's oldest and most highly respected citizens, well known throughout this Upper Cumberland section of the State, attained his 90th birthday on Monday, spending the day quietly at his home, at 280 East Seventh Street, in North Cookeville. Mr. McGee was born and reared in Fentress County. His father was Trustee of Fentress County for several years and was a prominent citizen of that county.

Mr. McGee was named for his father's cousin, Col. Granville Bowan, of Kentucky.

In his young manhood, Mr. McGee located in Livingston, where, for twenty-six years, he owned, published and edited a weekly newspaper. For many years he was editor and publisher of the "Livingston Enterprise". Another Livingston newspaper that he owned and edited was the "Golden Age".

He was appointed Clerk and Master of the Chancery Court of Overton County by Chancellor D. L. Lansden, in which position he served for six years.

Thirty-two years ago, Mr. McGee moved to Cookeville, where he has since resided. His wife is eighty-seven years old. They have two children, Ryan McGee, of Monterey, and Mrs. Ruth McGee Johnson, wife of Eugene Johnson, of Cookeville. Mr. McGee's brother, Mr. Mac McGee, also a highly esteemed citizen of Cookeville, resides with him.

Mr. McGee is a Steward in the Methodist Church and throughout his life he has been a faithful and constant attendant at all of the services of his church. He has always been a public spirited citizen and his influence has always been exerted in behalf of good government, law enforcement and education. He is remarkably well preserved, enjoys good health and walks from his home to the Public Square each week day and to church on Sunday. He is one of the best gardeners in Cookeville and it is said that this year has the best garden in town. He says that it is the best garden that he has ever had, and he had done all of the work in it himself with hoes and a push plow. Mr. and Mrs. McGee are wonderfully well preserved, considering their ages, and the Herald voices the wish of the entire community that they may both be spared for many more happy birthdays.

A. B. MCKAY HONORED BY BAXTER SEMINARY TERMED COUNTY'S MOST CHARITABLE INDIVIDUAL: (Editor's Note: This honor which has come to A. B. McKay is timely recognition of a quality of service to man kind that is seldom equaled and never, surpassed. We are glad to have a small part in publishing this tribute to Mr. McKay which has been prepared by some of his friends who have known of his charitable work through the years).

A man who has been termed by many people as Putnam County's most charitable individual A. B. McKay, a Cookeville attorney, has been named by the Official Board of Baxter Seminary to its Honorary Board of Trustees.

Even though he is a devout Baptist and Baxter Seminary is a school supported by the Methodist Church, McKay crosses all lines out when it comes to charity, and for more than 20 years he has helped worthy boys and girls at Baxter Seminary.

McKay's work in helping the needy only starts with his aid to the Baxter Seminary students, since he is constantly helping his fellowman, and is especially interested in those who are sick and afflicted. Poor children without shoes and clothes have often received aid from him, as he has either bought or helped to buy hundred of pairs of shoes in recent years. Merchants around the Square in Cookeville say that he does more charity than any other one individual in Putnam County and has done so consistently during the 25 years that he has lived in Cookeville.

"Uncle Mack" as he is known to the hundreds of small fry that he calls his own, passes out Silver Dollars as his baby gifts and during the years untold numbers of babies, known as his grandchildren, have received his Silver Dollars.

On being asked how many people he had helped in school and college, he stated that he had helped six graduate nurses, 5 practical nurses, 2 doctors with their MD degrees and two more working toward an MD, 2 dentists, 3 lawyers, and about 25 school teachers and some 40 preachers. Also he has helped untold numbers of other school children. He will never give names of the people he helps out only says, "they are my children and they know and remember me, which is about the proudest heritage a man can have".

He is known to have worked with the Rev. John Brown in the building of 10 Missionary Baptist churches and has helped with 9 churches of other denomination.

He helps us with the Big Brothers movement the year round, contributes to the support of the Boy Scouts and all other charitable campaigns in Putnam County.

McKay has taken an active part in the dry movement in Putnam County and as a Justice of the Peace has stood for the local option plan to dry up Putnam County so as to make it a better place to live.

No, he is not rich in dollars – a man who has given away so much cannot be rich in money, but he is rich in love and happiness and has many others rich in the same.

His wife is the former Miss Lucy Whitson, the daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. H. D. Whitson of Cookeville.

Revolutionary War Soldier: According to Revolutionary War records in N.C. Archives. Henry was "5'10" tall, 21 yrs. of age, dark complexion, brown eyes, straight hair, born in South Carolina. Henry's first wife was Mary Robbins, daughter of Wm Robbins. His second wife was Nancy. Henry's will is recorded in Rutherford County, North Carolina fall court 1837 and mentions "my first six children" and "our small children". After Henry's death the widow and some of the children went to Georgia. Descendants of other children are still living in Spartanburg Co., SC.

Henry McKinney's will:

Page 39. 24 Aug. 1834 Recorded, Fall Court 1837. I, HENRY MCKINNEY, farmer, being of perfect mind. I give to my beloved wife NANCY one horse that I got from my son WILLIAM, also 150 acres of land in Spartanburg Dist., SC on waters of Buck Creek. The above item to be disposed of at her own discretion. I desire that my wife NANCY have full use and benefit of the 125 acres of land on which I now live, with the horse I got from SETH RUSSELL, and all other stock & household furniture. As my dtrs, marry off they are to receive 16 pounds of feathers each. The reason I leave nothing to my first 6 chn. is that they have more than I can leave the last eight. I appoint my son WHITLOCK MCKINNEY sole executor and to act as guardian of my minor chn. if necessary. Wit: JOHN BEDFORD, ALANSOM PADGETT, STEPHEN CAMP, JURAT.

Signed: HENRY MCKINNEY

James M. McKinney was a prominent pioneer citizen of Putnam County. He was a member of the first County Court after the original establishment of the county in 1842, and he was also a member of the first County Court after the re-establishment of the county in 1854. When Cookeville was founded as the county seat of Putnam County, he sold his farm to Joel Algood, and with his family moved to the new county seat town, and built and operated the first hotel in Cookeville, "The McKinney Hotel". He was also engaged in the mercantile business with his son-in-law, Joseph W. Crutcher, a pioneer merchant of Cookeville, who, coming from Williamson County, was one of the first residents of the new town. He married Mary McKinney, a daughter of James M. McKinney.

Maggie McKinney, a daughter of James M. McKinney, married W. G. Cox, who, for many years, was County Clerk of Jackson County.

Miss Josephine Crutcher, a daughter of Joseph W. Crutcher and wife Mary McKinney Crutcher and a granddaughter of James M. McKinney and wife Mary McKinney, was the first child born in Cookeville. She married Charles Burton, a son of Stephen D. Burton. Her sister Lillie Crutcher married Dr. J. B. S. Martin. Their sister Frances Crutcher married Dr. Henry Algood.

James M. McKinney was a son of Henry McKinney, one of the earliest settlers of Putnam County, who entered several hundred acres of land, the large farm which James M. McKinney sold to Joel Algood was a portion of the land inherited by him from his father Henry McKinney.

Henry McKinney and his son, James M. McKinney and their wives were buried in the Algood Cemetery, but, many years ago, their remains were re-interred in the Cookeville Cemetery.

Both Henry McKinney and his son, James M. McKinney were large slave owners.

The old "McKinney Hotel" was located on the South sides of the Cookeville Public Square shortly after it was opened, the Isaac Reagan, and soon thereafter T. J. Shaw built the "Shaw Hotel."

She attended Baxter schools, graduating from Baxter Seminary as the valedictorian of her class. In support of the war effort during World War II, she took a job with the War Department and worked several years in New Jersey and Washington, D.C.

LUKE MEDLEY, FORMER JUDGE, MAYOR, DIES

Funeral services for M. L. (Luke) Medley, 91, a long-time leader in local government, industry recruitment and public service in Putnam County and the Upper Cumberland, will be held at 11 a.m. Monday at First Presbyterian Church in Cookeville, with burial in Cookeville City Cemetery.

His family will receive friends from 4 to 9 p.m. today at the chapel of Hooper and Huddleston Funeral Home.

Mr. Medley died at his home on Friday, July 24, 1998.

A visionary with a life-long philosophy of public service, Medley was responsible for helping to bring electricity to the rural communities in the 1930's and served as a driving force in organizing the Chamber of Commerce and Upper Cumberland Development District.

In 1940, Medley founded WHUB radio, one of the first small-market radio CBS affiliates in the country and the first station to serve the Upper Cumberland.

A lifelong Republican, he was repeatedly elected to public office in Putnam County, which was traditionally Democratic at the time. Some of the offices he held included Putnam County judge for 16 years, Cookeville mayor for two terms, and he also served as a justice of the peace.

He also served as secretary of the Tennessee Republican Party for 20 years.

His advocacy and influence is partly responsible for some of the defining characteristics of Putnam County, including the hospital, library, municipal buildings and fairgrounds.

He helped to ensure an adequate water supply for Cookeville and much of rural Putnam County, and his representation on the five-member governor's committee to route Tennessee's interstate highway system guaranteed Upper Cumberland access to I-40.

Medley was also known for his commitment to excellence in education, which is reflected by his role in the county's school consolidation and improvement plan.

An alumnus of Tennessee Tech here in Cookeville, he served on both the Tennessee Tech and University of Tennessee Development Councils.

Medley was also a longtime member and former elder of the Buffalo Valley and Cookeville First Presbyterian Churches.

His family includes his wife of 70 years, Pauline Maddux Medley; three sons, Paul Michael Medley, Martin Luke Medley Jr., and Donald Richard Medley, all of Cookeville; 10 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Zina and Sarah Judd Medley; a daughter, Sara Martha Medley Jared, and two brothers, Ralph and Beverly Medley.

Serving as pallbearers will be Dr. Jeff Gleason, Andrew McCain, Dr. Christian Christensen, and grandsons Martin Luke Medley II, Paul Michael Medley Jr., Richard Medley and Mark Jared.

Honorary pallbearers will be W.R. Whitaker, H. S. Barnes, Louis Johnson, Dr. William S. Taylor, Lamar Medley, Warren G. Medley, Dr. Adron Medley and former employees of WHUB.

COOKEVILLE -- Eleanor Drake Mitchell, one of the Upper Cumberland's most accomplished and distinguished citizens, died at her home this morning. She was 81.

Dr. Mitchell, a retired college professor, fell ill from kidney disease only recently and, after undergoing some treatment, insisted on returning to her home to spend her last days.

She was known for her accomplishments and contributions in many fields, including scholarship in literature, public service in schools, civic efforts and her church and hobbies which ranged from aviation to genealogy.

She served on the Putnam School Board from 1980 until 1995, holding the chairmanship for one year.

Her distinguished academic career began back at Cookeville Central High School, where she graduated as valedictorian. She attended David Lipscomb College and later graduated from Tennessee Polytechnic Institute. She earned a Masters degree at the University of Tennessee, a PhD from the University of Maryland, and did post graduate work in Mexico and at Oxford University in England.

While still an undergraduate at TPI, she attended a 12-week civil aviation course at Austin Peay Normal School in conjunction with the war effort and after returning to Tennessee Tech, became the first woman to fly solo out of the Cookeville Airport. She later taught aviation courses at TPI.

She taught high school classes in West Tennessee and in Texas and later returned here to teach English at Tennessee Tech for more than 40 years.

She was nominated many times for the TTU Faculty of the Year award, and received that honor in 1988. She was a member of Phi Kappa Phi, Delta Kappa Gamma and Phi Delta Kappa honorary societies.

In addition to work in numerous other societies, she was a member of an international zoological expedition to Belize, Central America, in 1981. She belonged to the South Atlantic Modern Language Association, the Tennessee Philological Association in which she held various offices, and was a surveyor and member of the Reaffirmation Committee for the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

Dick Mitchell remembered as man of many talents

One of Cookeville's most prominent citizens, Richard L. "Dick" Mitchell, has died at the age of 85.

A retired attorney with a distinguished career which included public service here and in Washington, D.C., Mr. Mitchell was a man of many accomplishments and many friends.

He died at his home on December 24, 2004. Funeral services were held Monday, Dec. 27 at Jefferson Avenue Church of Christ. Burial, with military honors, was in Cookeville City Cemetery.

Mr. Mitchell, the husband of Dr. Eleanor Drake Mitchell, had served for many years as field representative for Congressman Joe L. Evins and worked in Washington, D.C., for nearly 10 years as chief counsel for the House of Representatives Small Business subcommittee, where he held investigative hearings on anti-trust issues.

He had also served as a professor of law at Pepperdine University for a number of years, had held many offices in various civic organizations, including the presidency of the Tennessee Young Democrats and the Tennessee Society in Washington. He was a member of the VFW, the American Legion, the Jaycees, and the Lions Club. He served on the first board of Cookeville Regional Hospital, which received its first accreditation during his tenure.

But of all his achievements, one which benefited children brought him the most pride, friends said. He helped to organize and then served as president of the first Little League in this area.

He was a member and former elder of the Jefferson Avenue Church of Christ. He also worked with youth groups and was known for his vivid storytelling skills.

Born Oct. 28, 1919, in Livingston, Tenn., he was the son of Charles Denton and Grace Howard Mitchell. His ancestors, including the Mitchells, Carlocks, Bates, and Terrys, were among the earliest settlers in the Upper Cumberland region.

He graduated as salutatorian at Livingston Academy and attended Cumberland University and Milligan College and later earned his law degree from the University of Tennessee.

Before World War II, he traveled about the country and worked in a shipyard and worked as a tire builder and as a merchant marine. During the war, he served in the South Pacific and in the Army of Occupation.

After the war, he moved to Brownsville, Texas, and began practicing law, later returning to Cookeville where he practiced law for nearly 50 years, most of those years with the Langford and Langford firm.

In addition to his wife of 55 years, his family includes his son and daughter-in-law, R. Laken Mitchell III and Glenda; his daughter and son-in-law, Suzanna Jane Mitchell and Robert Mann of Rhode Island and Hilham, Tenn.; four granddaughters, Mary Jane Baker of Canton, Georgia; Patricia Ann Freeman of Morristown, Tenn.; Susannah Cotter of Rhode Island; and Samantha Cotter of New York; a brother, John Howard Mitchell of Oak Ridge.

He was preceded in death by his parents and two brothers, Charles Denton "Dense" Mitchell and William G. Mitchell.

Mike Moore's Death Occurred Saturday:

One of Cookeville's Oldest and Most Widely Known Residents Passes To His Final Reward:

Mike Moore, aged 83, one of Cookeville's best known citizens, died Saturday at his home on East Spring St. He had been in failing health for several years and for the past few weeks had been confined to his bed most of the time. His death was due to heart trouble and the infirmities of age.

He was the son of the late J. H. "Hamp" Moore, and Margarette Huddleston Moore. His father was a prominent pioneer merchant of Cookeville and for many years one of Putnam County's leading business men and most highly respected citizens.

Mike Moore was born September 13, 1852, on the old Moore farm, two miles East of Cookeville, before his parents moved to town. His boyhood was spent on his father's farm.

He began his business career about sixty-five years ago, as a clerk in his father's store, on the South side of the Public Square. Soon thereafter, he became a member of the well known pioneer Cookeville merchantile firm of J. H. Moore and Son; and for many years was associated as a partner, in the mercantile business.

R. P. Morgan, 66, Dies Here After A Brief Illness

Prominent Poultry Broker Had Been Ill Only Few Hours With Pneumonia – In Business 43 Years.

R. P. Morgan, 66, prominent throughout the South and East as a poultry broker and produce dealer, with office in Cookeville for the past 43 years, died at his home, 105 First Street, shortly after noon Wednesday after a brief illness.

Mr. Morgan was taken ill Monday, and Tuesday developed pneumonia, which resulted in his death.

Funeral services were to be held at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church Thursday afternoon by the pastor, the Rev. Hugh L. Goodpasture. Burial will take place in the City Cemetery.

Active pallbearers are O. E. Cameron, W. M. Shanks, Herman Mott, Paul Turney, Will Phillips, and George Gentry. Honorary pallbearers are all his friends and business associates both in and out of town.

Born In Jackson:

Robert Perry Morgan was born in Jackson county, near Merinda, and received his education there. He was the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Austin H. Morgan, his father being a Cumberland Presbyterian church pastor.

Mr. Morgan came to Cookeville in 1890, where he opened a produce house in West Cookeville, on what is now Oak Street. His business has been conducted in the same building for 43 years, the only one in the city that can boast such a distinction. Prior to his venture into the poultry business, Mr. Morgan operated a market wagon between Gainesboro, Cookeville, and Nashville.

He was married to Miss Viola Davis, January 14, 1892, and to that union was born one son, Henry Dawson, who survives. Other survivors are his widow, three brothers, Warren and Dillard Morgan, of Cookeville, Amos Morgan, of Cowan; three sisters, Mrs. Martha Goodpasture, and Mrs. Lee Ann Allen, of Ada, Okla., and Mrs. Matilda Whittaker of Gainesboro.

Came Before Railroad:

Mr. Morgan came to Cookeville before the railroad, and did much to advance this city and surrounding territory to its present status. He has contributed largely to placing Cookeville as the largest poultry shipping center in the state, and one of the largest in the South. He was active in his business, and was recognized as an authority. He was not a man who sought the acclaim of the crowd, rather keeping himself in the background and to his business. He had admirable traits of character that had endeared him to all who knew him.

Friends from all parts of the nation have expressed their regrets at his passing, while those who could, have come to be at his last rites.

Mr. Morgan was a member of the Knights of Pythias, and had membership in the Southern Poultry and Egg Shippers' Association.

Samuel A. Morgan, aged 80, well known attorney and oldest member of the Cookeville Bar, died Wednesday morning at his home near this city. His death followed a stroke of paralysis which he suffered a week ago. On the day before he was stricken with paralysis, he returned from a visit with his son, Bedford Morgan, in Carthage, and then appeared to be as well as usual, but it had been apparent to his friends for the past year that his health and strength were declining....For the past eight years he had served as United States Commissioner at this place. He was born and reared in Jackson County and belonged to a prominent family in that county.

His father, Daniel Morgan, was a pioneer Primitive Baptist preacher. An uncle, Rev Austin H Morgan, was a well known Cumberland Presbyterian minister. In his youth, Samuel Morgan was admitted to the Gainesboro bar. He practiced law in his native county for years, but when the new county of Pickett was established about fifty years ago, he located in Byrdstown, where he continued in the practice for about 30 years. About 20 years ago, he moved to Cookeville, where he has since resided.

For several years after moving to this place, he was associated in the practice of his nephew, Daniel H Morgan...; after the dissolution of this partnership, he practiced alone.

While all his brothers were Democrats and Confederate soldiers, he became a Republican and for 50 years was one of the leaders of the Republican Party in the Upper Cumberland section, being a prominent member of his party's county, district and state conventions. He married Miss Margarette Lucetta Amonette of Clay County. She died about a year ago.

Mrs. Morgan was a member of one of Clay county's best families and was a splendid lady.

He is survived by seven grown children as follows: Bedford of Carthage, County Farm agent of Smith County; Benton M of San Antonio, Tx; Mrs. Laura Flowers, Bowie, Tx; Mrs. Susie Ledford and Mrs. S J Bowers of Cordele, Ga; J M and George Morgan of Cookeville.

In the courtroom and in his intercourse with friends and the public, his manner was always quiet, considerate and kindly. His nature was without bitterness or hatred. He was a well-read and well-informed man and his kindness of heart impressed all who came in contact with him.

He was a member of the Christian Church. Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Christian Church followed by burial in the family lot in the Cookeville cemetery.

Funeral services for Charlie Moscrip, 56, who died in City Hospital yesterday from injuries received Tuesday night when he was struck by an automobile as he walked along Highway 70 a mile West of Cookeville, were held this afternoon at Whitson Funeral Home.

The services were conducted by the Rev. H. T. Fowler, pastor of the Cookeville Methodist Church, of which Mr. Moscrip was a member. Burial was in the City Cemetery.

Sheriff Harvey Higgenbotham reported that his investigation showed that Moscrip was struck by a car driven by Joe E. Conry, Jr., while his car was being met by another car with strong lights. The sheriff described the accident as unavoidable.

Conry told officers that he was driving about 30 miles an hour when he met an automobile with strong lights and that he did not see Moscrip in the highway until it was too late to miss him. Conry swerved his car in an effort to miss the man.

Moscrip received broken legs, a broken arm, head and internal injuries. He was rushed to city Hospital where he lived until noon Wednesday.

A civil engineer, Mr. Moscrip was the son of the late R. J. Moscrip, a Canadian engineer who surveyed the right of way for the old Nashville and Knoxville railroad which later became the Tennessee Central. His father also laid out the plan for the City of Cookeville.

Mr Moscrip retired from active engineering 10 years ago because of ill health. He was a veteran of World War I.

Born on November 13, 1932, Betty Ann was the daughter of Hollie and Ravene McGlasson Birdwell. Her early years were spent in Gainesboro. She was a lifelong, steadfast member of the Church of Christ. She was a 1950 graduate of Central High School in Cookeville, and attended Draughon's Business College in Nashville.

She volunteered as a Sunday school teacher, Cub Scout leader, member of Beta Sigma Phi, and president of the Pilot Club.

Betty Ann loved to laugh, sing, and talk. She was fond of colorful idioms, handed down from ancestors who helped settle the Upper Cumberland. One of her favorites, "as tough as whitleather," was also an apt descriptor of her own resilience and determination.

She was married for 60 years to Stacey James Mott (died 2016), whom she met while working at radio station WHUB. She will be forever remembered by her sons, Jim (Deb) of Waterville, New York, and David (Lori) of Ames, Iowa; daughters, Betsy (Lee) Galliher of Bristol, and Melinda (Stewart) Leftwich of Cookeville; brother, Jack (Betty) Birdwell of Nashville; sister, Cindy (Jimmy) Ranieri of Dover, Delaware; and daughter-in-law, Theresa Mott of Utica, New York. Birdwell preceded her in passing. Mrs. Mott was immeasurably proud of her grandchildren, Pearce Galliher, Sarah Galliher (Chris) Newton, David Leftwich, Libby Leftwich, Luke Leftwich, Aaron Mott, Katie Mott, and Matthew (Alejandra) Mott; and great-grandson, Lukas Mott.

Death of Oscar Mott:

When it became known last Sunday morning that Oscar, the eight year old son of Mrs. John R. Death was due to scarlet fever, that dread malady of childhood. Funeral services were conducted at the home on Stevens street by O. H. Tallman, minister of the Church of Christ Sunday afternoon, followed by burial in the city cemetery.

The family will receive friends from 5-7 p.m. Saturday at the Cookeville Chapel of Hooper-Huddleston and Horner Funeral Home and then on Sunday at First Baptist Church at 1 p.m. until time of services.

Mrs. Mullins passed away suddenly Thursday evening, Nov. 19, 2015, at her home.

She was born Jan. 17, 1926, in Pickett County, Tennessee, to the late Herbert Turney and Nina Belle Groce.

Mrs. Mullins graduated from Pickett County High School in Byrdstown, Tennessee, in 1943. She married her sweetheart, Harlan Mullins. He went to fight for our country and she moved to Cookeville, lived with his parents and became a student at Tennessee Polytechnic Institute. She received her B.S. in Home Economics. A true teacher and dedicated to learning, she received her M.S./Home Economics Double Major: Child Development and Family Relations from The University of Tennessee in 1953. Her desire to further her education towards her doctorate degree led her to Peabody-Vanderbilt and Tennessee Technological University for advanced post-grad studies. Even though she did not realize her dream of acquiring her doctorate, it was definitely a huge accomplishment at that time to go as far as she did in her studies.

After beginning her career at Tennessee Technological University in Sept. 1953, and receiving many many awards and honors, she retired as an Associate Professor in the School of Human Ecology in 2006! Serving her beloved university for 54 years! She truly loved her students and her students loved her! Highly respected in her field of studies, she was not only known as an expert in her knowledge of family relations, but she was also known as a student of The Bible. She daily challenged herself to learn and teach and make every day count. After retirement, she began what she called her "armchair" ministry...sending encouraging words to hundreds and hundreds of friends and family members and former students.

Her passion for children was a driving force in her life through her profession and her life within the community through the Cookeville Pregnancy Clinic, both in helping in its establishment and being a counselor, teaching high school girls Sunday School class for 30 years and through her commitment to Children's Homes and programs that fostered...the love of children!

She is survived by a son and daughter-in-law, Dr. Ralph and Shirley Mullins of Cookeville and a daughter and son-in-law, Deborah and Gerald Holland of Scotts Hills, Tennessee. Three grandsons and their wives, Dr. Stephen and Brittan Mullins of Cookeville, Keenan and Christy Holbert of Corryton, Tennessee, and Kurt and Melanie Holbert of Decaturville, Tennessee.

She was blessed with seven great-grandchildren. Channing, Cameron, and Collier Mullins of Cookeville. Trece and Tenlee Holbert of Corryton, Tennessee. Jackson and Lainie Holbert of Decaturville, Tennessee.

In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her husband, Harlan Mullins, and her siblings, Rich, Hobert, Robert and Kendall Groce and Christine Koger.

Pallbearers will be grandsons and nephews of Mrs. Mullins.

Pastor Scott McKinney and Rev. Charlie Hutchinson will officiate the services. Numerous friends, colleagues and her grandsons will also take part in this Celebration of Life for Mrs. Mullins.
