Community mourns loss of local golf legend

Buddy Pearson

Herald-Citizen Staff

COOKEVILLE -- The golfing world and the Upper Cumberland community is mourning the loss of local golfing legend Robert Wayne "Bobby" Nichols. A long-time coach at Tennessee Tech as well as the owner of Ironwood golf course and a successful golf professional, the 66-year-old Nichols passed away at 11:19 on Sunday morning in the intensive care unit at Cookeville Regional Medical Center.

Hospitalized for the past couple of weeks, Nichols battled several complications brought on by his fight against cancer on his esophagus and liver. He had contracted a rare infection -- necrotic fasciitis, a flesh-eating-type of bacteria -- in his shoulder in addition to diverticulitis, a common digestive disease of the large intestine. Nichols also suffered from pneumonia the last few days.

"He was always smiling and having fun and trying to make everyone else feel good, so to see him in pain was heartbreaking," said friend and former TTU golfer Gary Maxwell. "He was in such pain for the last six months it was unreal. He's not hurting any more."

The pain of his loss is now being felt by a statewide golfing community and the thousands of lives he touched.

"I think the list in this community of those who don't know him is shorter than the list of those who do know him," said friend and former TTU golfer Paul Korth. "I don't know a whole lot of people you can say that about."

Nichols' golfing resume spans decades of accomplishments as an amateur or professional, either playing or coaching.

"He's an icon in golf," said former TTU golfer and Cookeville Golf Club professional Matt Manzano. "People talk about what Arnold Palmer did for golf nationwide on the PGA Tour. You can put Bobby Nichols in the same category for the Tennessee area. It doesn't matter where you go in the state of Tennessee, everybody knows Bobby Nichols."

A native of Algood, Nichols first made a name for himself on the golf course as a caddie at the Cookeville Country Club. After attending Algood High School, where he excelled in basketball, Nichols was a four-year letterwinner on the Golden Eagle golf team at Tennessee Tech, serving as the captain of the squad in 1963, the same year he graduated with a degree in health and physical education.

Upon turning professional after graduating from TTU, Nichols served as club pro at Cookeville Country Club from 1964 to 1970 and as Tech golf coach from 1967 to 1970. In 1970, he began a three-year stint on the PGA tour as well. During that time, he also returned home to design Ironwood Golf Course on the picturesque farmland northwest of Cookeville.

"He was a hard worker," said Bobby Greenwood, a friend of Nichols for more than 50 years. "He came from the old school where hard work was the answer."

Nichols reaped the rewards of his work ethic, being named Tennessee PGA Player of the Year in 1970 and 1976 and garnering three Tennessee PGA Senior Player of the Year titles (1994, '96, '97). He competed in the U.S. Senior Open in Birmingham, Mich., in 1991 and in Bethesda, Md., in 1995. Nichols is also the only golfer -- pro or amateur -- to make every Tennessee Challenge Cup Team since 1968. For his dedication to golf, the TGA recently honored Nichols by unveiling the Bobby Nichols Most Valuable Player Award to the best performer each year in the Tennessee Challenge Cup Matches.

"I can't imagine any other person I'd rather be around," said Dick Horton, former executive director of the TPGA. "He was a champion's champion."

While gaining recognition on the state level, Nichols was also making a name for himself at the school he truly loved. In the fall of 1979, Nichols returned to TTU to mentor the men's golf program and later established the women's golf program in 1986. A two-time Ohio Valley Conference Men's Coach of the Year (1990, 2005), he guided the Golden Eagle men's team to an OVC crown in 1990.

On the women's side, Nichols was tabbed the OVC Coach of the Year in 2000 and 2001, the same years the Golden Eaglettes collected OVC championships.

"When you lose a legend like Bobby Nichols, it's really tough on the student-athletes and the staff and alumni," said TTU athletics director Mark Wilson. "He's been such a big part of our athletic program over so many decades."

During his coaching tenure, Nichols mentored more than 700 student-athletes, including 14 men's all-OVC performers and 11 women's all-OVC players. In 1990, he was inducted into the Tennessee Tech Hall of Fame.

"He was a great coach but he was more of a mentor than a coach," said Scott Stallings, a two-time OVC Player of the Year. "He was very encouraging. I had more of a friendship with him than a coaching relationship. I could call him any moment and he would do anything he could for me at any time."

Locally, he cultivated golf programs for not only Tennessee Tech but for all players in the Upper Cumberland region. As the golf pro at the Cookeville Country Club and later at Ironwood, Nichols created and hosted numerous youth clinics as well as several tournaments for amateurs.

In 1973 he established the Cookeville City Amateur Championship and the Putnam Junior Championship. That same year, he was co-founder of the Elm Hill Meats Open (now the Ironwood Classic), the first pro event to be played at the new Ironwood Golf Course. In 1989 he established the Upper Cumberland Amateur Championship which is still a favorite among the local tournaments. He also helped create the Golden Eagle Scramble, a major fundraiser for Tennessee Tech and one of the largest tournaments held anywhere in the state.

"He gave a lot of kids a chance. He did a lot of things for the community and the junior golf programs," said Korth. "He was ahead of his time. He was able to see good ideas that could prosper and what it would do for individuals."

Perhaps one of his crowning achievements in golf was a personal triumph of sorts when he became owner of Ironwood in 1989.

"It didn't matter what condition Ironwood was in, people went there because he made them feel welcome," Manzano explained. "He was an amazing man and will always be an icon in this area and in the state of Tennessee."

The funeral arrangements for Nichols include visitation at Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Cookeville on Tuesday from 4 p.m. until 8 p.m. and then Wednesday from 9 a.m. until the funeral at 11 a.m. Nichols will be laid to rest in Cookeville City Cemetery. All TPGA Professionals will be honorary pall bearers.

"Outside of golf, to say he was great or an unbelievable man is so much of an understatement," said Stallings. "He was so much more than a golf coach or a golf professional. He was a wonderful, sweet man."

In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to the Bobby Nichols Golf Endowment or the Earl and Rusty Nichols golf scholarship endowment at the Tennessee Tech Athletics Association, Box 5057, Cookeville, TN, 38505, or call the TTU athletics office at 372-3940.

"I am so fortunate that I got to work with Bobby Nichols," Wilson said. "There is so much I learned from him in the way he treated people and how kind that he was. I know that I am a better person and a better administrator because I had the chance to work alongside Bobby Nichols."

Retired TTU professor's body found Thursday

By Lindsay McReynolds

Herald-Citizen, Cookeville, TN: 12 January 2018

The body of 66-year-old retired Tennessee Tech chemistry professor Scott Northrup was recovered from Center Hill Lake by officers with the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency Thursday at about 11:30 a.m.

The professor emeritus of chemistry and faculty advisor to Tech's bass fishing team was found in about 33 feet of water in the Florida Branch section of the lake less than 150 yards away from where his boat was recovered.

Northrup had gone on a solo fishing trip Wednesday and was reported missing that evening when he did not return home as expected.

Officials with the DeKalb County Sheriff's Office and TWRA began searching for Northrup that evening and resumed that search with the assistance of the DeKalb County Rescue Squad Thursday morning.

The incident is under investigation, TWRA officials said Thursday afternoon.

Northrup taught chemistry at TTU for 35 years and was a recipient of the university's Outstanding Faculty Award in Teaching.

WOMAN LEAVES $500,000 GIFT TO TENNESSEE TECH

TTU -- Living to be a century old may seem like only a dream to most, but for one Tennessee Tech graduate, it was a dream come true. Sheila Haggard Officer, who died in January at age 100 years, four months, and five days, realized her dream. Although she had long set for herself a goal of living to be 100 years old, she knew that as a single lady without children, she would eventually need to leave her legacy to an organization that shared her passion for learning. What better entity could there be than her alma mater, TTU? Now, thanks to a bequest of almost $500,000, generations of Tennessee Tech students will be able to realize their dreams of a college education.

"Miss Officer's life and work was a true testament to how one person can make a difference in the lives of many by sharing an interest and passion for education," said TTU President Bob Bell. "We are grateful for her lifelong association with our university and for her remarkable gift." Born in 1908 to Simpson Little Officer and Mary Arminda Verble, Officer knew from an early age that education was going to be an important aspect of her life. After completing her elementary and high school years in Putnam County, Officer began her higher education experience at TTU in 1927. In the late 1920s and early 1930s, Tennessee Tech was quite different than it is today, with just a smattering of buildings and even fewer automobiles. This explains why Officer walked to school almost every day from her parents' home just northeast of the town square in the custom of proper girls of the time -- in heels and a dress.

While at Tennessee Tech, she discovered her true love -- the English language. After graduating with an English degree in 1931, she set off on a career that would allow her to share this love with many young men and women by teaching. For 35 years, Officer taught high school English in Putnam County, with a concentration and special fondness for English history. Officer had two other passions: reading and traveling. She once said that she had been or had at least flown over almost every country in the world. And wherever she went, she always read and gathered books for her collection, which grew to become an expansive home library.

Officer directed the university to establish three scholarships: the S.L. Officer Agricultural Scholarship in honor of her father, the Mary Verble Officer Human Ecology Scholarship in honor of her mother and the Sheila H. Officer English Scholarship. In addition, she bequeathed her expansive home library collection to the university for the benefit of future students. Officer's estate provided more than $473,000 for the three scholarships. In addition, the university's book collection grew by almost 700. "Miss Officer was a generous woman, and her significant gift will directly benefit students. We appreciate her gift and her dedication to education," said Homer Kemp, TTU English department interim chairperson.

Perkins, W. J.: Death of W. J Perkins -- It is with much regret we learn of the death of W. J. Perkins, which occurred at his home, one mile from Cookeville, last Monday night at 11 o'clock. Mr. Perkins suffered from Bright's disease for three weeks preceding his death, but he bore it with manly fortitude and christian resignation. He was conscious of his perilous condition and freely expressed himself as being ready for the final ordeal. At one time he said: "Oh, it is a beautiful time for me to die. I have no fears for the future. I am ready to meet God in peace, and dread the sting of death." Mr. Perkins was one of the first men to move into Cookeville after it was located in 1854, and has resided here ever since. He was the second Sheriff of the county and discharged the duties of the office with perfect satisfaction to all. He was a big souled, high minded man, and stood high in the estimation of all who knew him. He was a faithful husband, a considerate father and a staunch, devoted member of the Christian Church for the last twenty-five ears. He was devoted to his family, and they all loved and worshiped him, and are bowed down in sorrow at their irreparable loss. He was nearly 73 years old at the time of his death, having lived a long and useful life, scattering blessing and charity along his pathway. The Press joins in the general sorrow which is felt by all who knew him. His remains were interred at the family burying grounds last Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock. GIRL'S BODY EXHUMED; HUNTER MAKES BOND:

The body of 15-year-old Patsy Lowe Pointer was exhumed here Tuesday on order of Scott Camp, assistant attorney general, at the direction of Baxter Key, attorney general, and with the consent of members of the family. Investigators are seeking to determine whether she died by her own hand or was murdered.

Paraffin casts of the girl's hands were made in the hope of determining whether she had fired the pistol that sent a bullet into her right temple the night of April 13.

The casts were taken to Nashville Wednesday by Sheriff Carlie Pierce, where he conferred with Sam Neal, State Safety Commissioner as to whether ot have them examined at a Nashville laboratory or sent to the FBI laboratory in Washington.

Two Cookeville doctors Tuesday performed an autopsy on the body, but had not completed their report Wednesday afternoon.

Howard Hunter, 37, operator of an automobile repair firm, who had been held for several days for questioning in the girl's death, was formally arraigned Friday afternoon before General Sessions Judge John Bryan where he waived hearing to the May term of the Putnam County Grand jury. He made bond in the amount of $5,000, and was released Friday night.

R. E. L. PROFFITT:

The well known and capable circuit and criminal court clerk of Putnam county was born June 4, 1864 on a farm in the Fifteen district. His father, James Proffitt was a native of Carter county, and his mother (nee) Miss Lucinda Slagle was born in Sullivan county, both of East Tennessee. The family moved to Putnam county in 1854.

Mr. Proffitt grew to manhood on a farm, taught in public schools of Putnam and White counties seven years, sold goods ten years at the Dry Valley, and in 1902 he was elected circuit and criminal clerk serving one term of four years. In 1910 he was again chosen in this office. Mr. Proffitt enjoys the confidence and respect of the people, and as a true Christian gentleman, has at all times been a warm supporter of church, charity and public enterprises. He was married Sept. 30, 1894, to Miss Anna Goodwin of White county, and five sons and one daughter were born of this union.

ROBERT E. L. PROFFITT. One of the most encouraging facts that can anywhere exist is that, in this country, a large proportion of those individuals who, by their public service, have attained a greater or less degree of eminence—or, mayhap, by their professional or business acquirements and talents have risen by their own efforts. In the sketch of the career of Robert E. L. Proffitt, clerk of the circuit court of Putnam county, there will be found something to encourage the exertions of those youths who, without fortune or influential friends, are struggling to overcome obstacles in the acquirement of position and financial independence. Like many of his fellow-citizens, Mr. Proffitt belongs to a family whose fortunes were swept away in the disasters that followed the outbreak of the war between the North and South, and his life from earliest boyhood has been one of constant industry and preserving effort, culminating in well-deserved success.

He is a native son of Putnam county, and was born June 4, 1864, a son of James and Lucinda (Slagle) Proffitt. The Proffitt family originated in Ireland, from whence came the progenitor, John Proffitt, the great-grandfather of Robert E. L. Proffitt. Among his children was James Proffitt, who was born in North Carolina and came to Tennessee at an early day, engaging in farming and becoming a successful man for his time. He married a Miss Keener. James Proffitt, son of James, and father of Robert E. L. Proffitt, was born in Carter county, Tennessee, in 1812, and there received a somewhat limited education. He made the most of his opportunities, early engaged in farming and stock raising, and became a successful man for his day, but the great struggle between the states cost him heavily, and his fortunes were lost with those of the South. He was a Democrat in politics. He died August 29, 1871. Mr. Proffitt was married in Sullivan county, Tennessee, in 1851, to Miss Lucinda Slagle, daughter of Frederick Slagle, a Sullivan county farmer. She was born in that county in 1830, and survived her husband many years, passing away December 2, 1909. They had nine children, of whom Robert E. L. was the eighth in order of birth, and of these five are still living: Emily, who married H. J. Mayberry and lives in Jackson county, Tennessee; Lorinah, who became the wife of "W. E. Henley and lives in White county; Franklin P., who is a resident of Fort Worth, Texas; Robert E. L.; and Samuel H., who lives in Hamilton county.

Robert E. L. Proffitt was but seven years of age when his father died, and his education was limited to attendance at the public schools of Putnam and White counties. He studied assiduously, however, and succeeded in securing a teacher's certificate, subsequently spending seven years as an educator. Later, he entered mercantile pursuits, in which he became successful, for ten years being proprietor of a general store in Putnam county, a Democrat in his political views, in September, 1902, he was elected clerk of the circuit court of Putnam county, and in 1910 again became the successful candidate of his party for that office, in which he is still efficiently serving. He has rendered his fellow-citizens signal service, and Putnam county has no more popular official. On September 30, 1894, Mr. Proffitt was married to Miss Annie Goodwin, daughter of James T. Goodwin, a farmer and merchant of White county, who served as a soldier in the Confederate army under Gen. Dibrell. Six children have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Proffitt: Notie, Roscoe, Hollis, Herman, Charles and Harvey, all of whom are attending school. Mr. and Mrs. Proffitt are faithful members of the Christian church, in the work of which they take an active part.

Capt. Jno. S. Quarles Passes Away: At His Home On East Broad St. Saturday Afternoon June 18th:

Cookeville lost one of her oldest and most highly esteemed citizens, on last Saturday afternoon, about five o'clock, when Capt. John S. Quarles passed away at his home on East Broad St.

Capt. Quarles had been in failing health for some years, but was able to walk up town and take his usual exercise up to a month ago, but since then he had been gradually growing weaker. The sad news of his demise was received with a feeling of genuine regret by his many friends and relatives in this and adjoining counties, for he was widely known and admired by a large circle. The funeral services were conducted at the residence by Rev. A. J. Coile and attended by a large and representative body of friends and relatives of the deceased. The remains were interred in the city cemetery at four o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Capt. Quarles was 83 years of age and had spent his entire life in Jackson and Putnam counties with the exception of the four years spent in the service of the Souther Confederacy. He had been a resident of Cookeville for the past 15 years, having moved here from Gainesboro, his native town. He was married in 1875 to Miss Fannie DeWitt of Gainesboro, who died several years ago. He is survived by three sons, John S., Luke B. and Capt. James T. Quarles of Gainesboro; also by two sisters, Mrs. L. T. Robinson and Miss Susan Quarles, both of whom made their home with him as did Miss Annie Trigg Robinson, his niece.

Capt. Quarles enlisted as a private in the 8th Tennessee Infantry of the Confederate army, April 24th, 1861, and was paroled at Washington, GA, four years and sixteen days later. He was promoted to the rank of captain. He was in Johnston's Division under the direct command of Gen. Chetham of Nashville, and when this division surrendered, he with a number of others were allowed the option of surrendering, or transferring to Gen. Dibrell's command for the purpose of escorting President Jefferson Davis to the Mexican border, and he chose the latter. He refused to parole offered him at Washington, GA, in 1864, until he and his comrades in arms were allowed to retain their equipment. He loved the South and the cause for which he fought, and a more valiant soldier, nor a more modest one, ever marched to battle. He will be greatly missed in his community, and will long be remembered for the gallant part he played in his country's history during the dark days of the Sixties. He was a kind and loving father and a real friend to all with whom he came in contact.

QUARLES, MRS. NANCY: Mrs. Nancy Quarles, wife of J. H. Quarles, was about 70 years old at the time of her death which occurred at her home in Cookeville Tenn., Nov. 12, 1903. The funeral services were conducted by this writer and Prof. S. B. Yeargan at the Cookeville cemetery on the afternoon of the 13th. Mrs. Quarles was converted in early life and joined the Cumberland Presbyterian church in which fellowship she remained until her death. She was a very kind fiend and a good Christian woman. She was very fond of flowers and novelties and took great delight in cultivating her followers and fixing cure things for her house in a novel way. Many will remember her beautiful yard, particularly in early springtime. She was a great favorite with young people and would talk with them about things of interest to them. Her home was a favorite place for them to visit and have a good time. She said to me a few days before her death that she would be glad to go and cease from her sufferings. And then added: There is nothing in the way. "I want to go and be at rest. She said the same in substance to other friends." We commend the husband, who is left so lonely, to the word of God and to the good example of a Christian wife, that he may so live as to meet friends and loved ones in heaven.

QUARLES, MRS. NANCY: Mrs. Nancy Quarles wife of J. H. Quarles of Cookeville, departed this life Nov. 10th. 1903. Mrs. Quarles was 70 years of age, a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. She was a loving wife, an affectionate mother, a good neighbor, and above all a sincere christian woman. She was uniformly cheerful, always having a pleasant word for every one, with a cheerful, musical voice. She made each one in her company happy. Of times the writer on his way to school in passing her home, heard her sweet voice calling her chickens, "her babies;" they quickly responded to the pleasant words. Like all homes in this world death had entered it, taking an only child, Mrs. Laura Lewis. This leaves Mr. Quarles the husband very lonely indeed. He can only imitate her noble example, and hope to meet her in the "Sweet Beyond."

Mrs. A. A. Reagan’s Long Life Closes Sunday Afternoon:

Mrs. Nettie Horn Reagan, widow of the late Capt. Alexander A. Reagan, died Sunday afternoon, at her residence on Dixie Avenue. Her health had been impaired for several weeks and her death was due to the infirmities of age. Had she lived until the 13th day of November she would have attained the unusual age of ninety years.

Mrs. Reagan was a daughter of Albert Horn, a prominent and highly esteemed pioneer citizen of the 4th Civil District of this county. Her mother's maiden name was Johnson, a member of the well known pioneer Johnson family of this county and a sister of the Rev. Henry Johnson and John Johnson, two of the leading pioneer citizens of this county.

In her young ladyhood, she was married to Alexander A. Reagan, a gallant former Confederate officer and at that time, a merchant on the Calf Killer river. Fifty years ago they moved to Cookeville and they there after resided in Cookeville until their deaths.

Capt. Reagan was engaged in the mercantile business in Cookeville for about fifteen years, and for many years he was proprietor of the "Richelieu Hotel," now known as the Sidwell Hotel. Capt. Reagan's death occurred on December 31, 1917.

During the fifty years of her residence in Cookeville Mrs. Reagan saw Cookeville grown from a small inland town of, perhaps, four hundred inhabitants to a progressive small city of two thousand people.

Mrs. Reagan was a devoted Christian from her girlhood. Reared in the Baptist Church, she was a member of that denomination in her early life, but joined the Methodist Church several years after moving to Cookeville. Her life was indeed a living example of the Christian virtues. She was an ideal wife, mother and neighbor.

She is survived by one son, Charles A. Reagan of Cookeville; three daughters, Miss Mamie Reagan and Mrs. Daley Bennett of Cookeville and Mrs. F. M. Miller of Cincinnati, OH, one sister, Mrs. A. J. Elmore, of Crossville and a number of grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Two grown sons, Robert L. Reagan and Joe A. Reagan died several years ago.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at the Methodist Church. Many beautiful floral designs bespoke of the love of relatives and friends. Splendid tributes were paid the deceased by her pastor, the Rev. Dean Stroud, and the Rev. Dow A. Ensor.

Following the funeral services at the Church the remains were interred beside those of her husband, in the family lot in the Cookeville cemetery.

Blaze Damages Home of V. R. Williams:

Fire which partially destroyed the V. R. Williams residence on South Washington Avenue, last night, was probably caused by a defective flue, according to firemen who battled the blaze.

It is believed that the house, which has recently been remodeled by Williams, at a cost of several thousand dollars, had a fireplace, which had been plastered up for many years, and that the plaster came loose, permitting the fire to catch on the opposite wall.

This building, which was purchased last June by Williams, is one of the landmarks of Cookeville.

Built before the Civil War, it served for many years as the Reagan Hotel, and was operated by Mr. and Mrs. Isaac D. Reagan.

After the death of Mr. Reagan, his son-in-law, E. D. Staley, ran the hotel and changed its name to the Staley Hotel. The hotel was discontinued at the death of Mr. Staley, and for several years it was the home of his son, I. D. Staley.

Later the house was bought by A. A. Staley and used as a rooming house until bought by Williams. The amount of damage had not been determined today. Both Mr. and Mrs. Williams were away from home at the time of the fire.

Jason William Rice Obt.

b. 26 October 1986, Downey, Los Angeles, CA – d. 24 May 2016, Chattanooga, Hamilton Co., TN , s/o Rosemarie Moore.

Entombment for Jason Rice of Cookeville will be held Saturday, June 4, 2016 at 11 AM in Cookeville City Cemetery.

Jason was taken from us by a careless driver on May 24 at the early age of 29.

He was born in Downey, California; he most recently made his home in Nashville and Cookeville, where he graduated from Cookeville High School. He was employed by DACCO.

Jason grew large in body and larger in heart. He was blessed with a love of people and a talent for making friends everywhere he found himself. His friends were themselves enlarged and made better by knowing him. He was a talented artist who loved Japanese anime, comic book art and video games. His sense of humor drew people to him; his laugh filled any room, and his smile could light the world. He never missed a chance to share the best of himself with others, whether giving his own coat to warm a homeless man or stopping to pet a passing dog. His love of children and animals of all kinds provided an example of human goodness for us all.

Jason was predeceased by his treasured Gramma, Darlene Anderson.

Among those he left behind too soon are his loving mother, Rosemarie Moore, his uncle Frank Thompson, his aunt Robin Holloway, cousins Rhiannon Allison Henley, Vince Thompson, Justin Cunningham, Austin Peat, and Angelene Peat, plus many more friends and family who loved him dearly. He was loved by so many. He enriched our lives and will be missed by us all.

Prominent Citizen: Passes To Great Beyond On December 24th: "Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was; and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it."

In the death of Frank Richmond Christmas Eve night, Cookeville loses one of her most prominent and substantial citizens. Taken suddenly ill just after retiring he lived only a few minutes. He was born near Flynn's Lick, in Jackson county, in 1855, being the youngest of a family of ten. His father, Henry Richmond was one of the pioneers of that county. Of this large family only one is living, his brother, William H. Richmond, of Stewart, OK.

Mr. Richmond was a successful business man. During the years of his greatest activities he found time to devote to the public welfare. For several years he was a justice of the peace in Jackson county. He represented that county in the lower house of the Tennessee legislature from 1905 until 1909, when he moved to Cookeville. As a law maker he was a faithful public servant. He was present at every roll call and recognized as a leader, advocating at all time only such laws as would be to the best interest of the state. A life-long fighter for the principles of right for good against evil.

As a citizen of Cookeville he took active interest in the political and business affairs of the town and county. A true citizen, a man of singular personal charm; simple, sincere, affectionate; with a bright and happy humor; sympathetic and sensitive to the joys and sorrows of those around him, a faithful and active member of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Richmond married Miss Ova Frances Moore in 1874. From that union three children were born, all of whom are living. They are: Mrs. Walter Carlen of this city; Col. H. R. and Maj. Frank Richmond, Jr., officers in the army, and stationed at Ft. Riley, KS. There are living thirteen grandchildren. His first wife died in 1897. A few years later he married Miss Josie Lee, who survives him.

His remains were laid to rest in the city cemetery. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. A. J. Coile at the Cumberland Presbyterian church. The pallbearers were: Honorary – J. N. Cox, A. G. Maxwell, R. L. Farley, W. M. Shanks, J. D. Dow, Ezra Davis. Active- R. L. Maddux, Algood Carlen, Benton Carlen, Herbert Carlen, Coe McDonald, Harry Shanks.

"O what a glory doth this world put on
For him who, with a fervent heart, goes forth
Under the bright and glorious sky, and looks
On duties well performed, and days well spent!
For him the wind, ay, and the yellow leaves
Shall have a voice, and give him eloquent teachings.
He shall so hear the solemn hymn,
that Death
He lifted up for all, that he shall go
To his long resting-place without a tear."

'Loving mother and grandmother'

COOKEVILLE - Funeral services for Carrie Louveta Roberts, age 79, of Cookeville, will be held at 2 pm Friday, January 23, at McClellan Avenue Church of Christ. Bro. Marty Gribble will officiate. Interment will follow at Cookeville City Cemetery.

The family will receive friends Thursday from 5 – 7 pm at the Cookeville Chapel of Hooper Huddleston and Horner Funeral Home and again Friday from 1 pm until service time at the church.

Carrie peacefully departed this life on January 19, 2015 after an extended illness.

She was born on December 6, 1935, in Livingston.

Their family later moved to Cookeville. She was the youngest of 10 children born to John Barlow and Mary Elizabeth Roberts. Her older siblings never could agree upon the exact year of her birth. This seemed to be a never ending friendly family feud when her brothers came to town. She was finally able to obtain a copy of her birth certificate late in life which had a recorded birth date of Nov. 25, 1935, of which none of her siblings agreed with. So as a result, she got to celebrate her birthday twice a year on Nov. 25 and again on Dec. 6.

Carrie was a faithful member of McClellan Avenue Church of Christ in Cookeville. She was formerly employed at Red Kap and Wilson Sporting Goods for a number of years and then retired from Oster Corporation with more than 11 years of service. Carrie was most proud of her six children and they in return honored and cherished her.

She is survived by a host of loving family and friends, including her four daughters, Linda Denise Wells (Jake) of Dayton, Ohio, Sylvia Jewel Dean Harris (Jeff) of Smyrna, Joanna Stode of Cookeville and Christie Annette Dunn (Ricky) of Murfreesboro; two sons, James Haskell Click Jr. of Inglewood, Calif., and Scottie Dewitt Roberts (Vicki) of Cookeville; 10 grandchildren, Hugh Phillip Page Jr., Jacob Page, Courtney Harris, Chelsea Harris, Hanifea Click, Heather Roberts, Christopher Strode, LaShauna Strode, Lindsey Dunn, and Matthew Dunn; 11 great-grandchildren, Hadari, Christian, Caitlyn, Destiny, Quinton, Solomon, Syison, Jailen, Julien, Aysiah, and Marley; three sisters, Ruby Ann Roberts of Cookeville, Hilma Jean Strode of McMinnville, and Mary Phillips Wester (Charlie King) of Cookeville; a number of nieces, nephews, cousins, other beloved friends and church family.

In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by two brothers, Howard Roberts and Dewitt Roberts; two sisters, Callie Bea Buck and Opal Howard, and granddaughter, Taressa Page.

Family and friends will serve as pallbearers.

Bro. Marty Gribble will officiate.

Memorial contributions may be made to McClellan Avenue Church of Christ, 141 McClellan Court, Cookeville, TN 38501.

In addition, a Celebration of Life will be held in Chattanooga on Friday, June 17, at the Walden Club at 2 p.m. (EDT).

Don peacefully passed away in his sleep Thursday, June 9, 2022 at the home he shared with his wife of 33 years, June Scobee Rodgers.

Don was born Dec. 1, 1934, to Lester Donell Rodgers and Johnnie McBroom. He was the eldest of their two children. The youngest being beloved sister Sue Chaffin of Cookeville. Don's childhood nickname was "Red" because of his red hair.

At Central High School, class of 1953, Don participated in football, track, basketball, Latin Club, student council, Hobby Club, Health & Safety Club, Beta Club, Chess Club, Who's Who and was a Sgt at Arms and class officer. He was voted for Class Superlatives by his fellow students.

Don was a lifelong musician, and he excelled at playing the guitar. He also sang in a band called Southern Melody Boys, who played at the Grand Ole Opry, Ryman Theater.

In 1956 he married his high school sweetheart Wanda Faye Bohannon of Cookeville.

He earned his bachelor's degree in Electrical Engineering at Tennessee Technological University in 1957. Later in his career, Don earned a master's degree in Public Administration from the University of Northern Colorado.

He was commissioned into United States Army in 1957 to serve in the Army Signal Corps.

After being blessed with their son Eric Rodgers in 1959, the young family was stationed at Naples, Italy. A dedicated family man, his chief focus was always his wife, son and extended family. A long and distinguished Army career followed.

In 1988 his lovely wife of 32 years, Faye died from a heart attack that left his family bereft and lost. A year later and still grieving, Don met June Scobee at an Easter Sunrise Service at Arlington National Cemetery in Washington, D.C. June had lost her husband, Astronaut and Challenger Space Shuttle Commander Dick Scobee, who was tragically killed aboard Challenger in 1986. Sharing grief and faith brought them together and they became friends.

Their friendship grew and when they married in 1989, Don and June became a blended family of five. Don's son Eric gained two stepsiblings, Rich Scobee and Kathie Scobee Fulgham. More blessings blossomed with grandchildren Margaret, Charlotte and Jack from Don's side, and Justin, Emily, Courtney, Jilly, Dexter, Cristi Lynn and Andrew on June's side. Now they share four great grandchildren, Catherine June, Clementine, River, Taryn.

Don and June just celebrated their 33rd wedding anniversary June 3.

Don could fix anything and was known to tinker with mostly cars and motorcycles. He loved the open road and with June once traversed the entire country's perimeter on his Goldwing. He had many motorcycle adventures with his good friend, Guy Satterfield, stepson Lt. Gen. Rich Scobee and stepson-in-law Captain (CPD) Scott Fulgham and even June served as sidekick on many of Don's rides.

Don's early Army career included duty at company and battalion level in the United States, Europe, and, on two occasions, Vietnam. In subsequent assignments and while still a junior officer, he served with the organization of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and as a personnel assignment officer for the Army, both while assigned to Washington, D.C.

In 1976, Don returned to Washington, D.C. after commanding a battalion in South Korea. This time he was assigned to the office of the Chief of Legislative Liaison, responsible for the Army's liaison with Congress. In 1977 he returned to Europe, this time to Germany with the Army's 7th Signal Brigade serving as its commander from 1979 to 1981.

In follow-on assignments, Don commanded the Army Communications System Agency in Fort Monmouth, New Jersey, serving as the project manager responsible for procuring and fielding Army communications equipment. He also commanded the Communications Electronics Engineering Installation Agency at Fort Huachuca, Arizona.

From 1983 to 1986 he served as the Commander of the U.S. Army Signal School at Fort Gordon, Georgia. He concurrently served as the Commanding General of Fort Gordon. Popular Young Man Loses His Life From a Railroad Accident - Thursday morning, Nov. 19, 1903, Charlie Shanks of this city, a brakeman on the T. C. railroad had an ankle and lower leg crushed while coupling cars at Crab Orchard. He was brought home and his injuries dressed, and on Friday was taken to the city hospital in Nashville in order to receive treatment of Dr. Fort, chief surgeon for the railroad company. On Saturday it was found amputation would be necessary, and accordingly his foot was taken off. The poor boy never rallied from the shock, but lingered on until Tuesday morning, when he died. His wife and mother went to him Sunday, and with his brothers Mackie and Herbert, were with him to the end. Every service mortal could render was given him, but an all wise Providence ruled to cut short the young life. The remains were brought home Tuesday night and the funeral services conducted Wednesday at 2 o'clock at Duke House by Rev. G. W. Nackles. Interment at the Cookeville cemetery under auspices of the local Odd Fellows lodge. Language is impotent to express our feeling in this hour of sadness, and through our tears, we can only extend our most sincere sympathy to the sorrowing family. Especially does our heart bleed for the bereaved mother, and the young wife and babe so rudely separated from the loving husband and father. May the Great Comforter uphold them in their sorrow. SHANKS, CHAS.: Bro. Chas. Shanks, it seems, never rallied after his leg was amputated, and died on the 24th inst. He was brought home and buried in the Cookeville cemetery with the honors, on 25 inst. A committee on resolutions on the death of Bro. Shanks was appointed. SHANKS, CHARLIE D.: Charlie D. Shanks, whose sad death occurred in a Nashville hospital Tuesday morning, Nov. 24th, was a young man of good appearance, industrious habits, and had many friends. On the 24th of September 1902, he was married to Miss Kate Hunter of Goffton, Tenn. . . . Our friend being only about 27 years of age, his accidental injury and sudden death all add to the sadness of the general fact. The funeral service on the afternoon of the 25th, was very largely attended. Mr. View lodge Independent Order of Odd Fellows, of which the deceased was a loyal member, had a large delegation on hand and they conducted the burial services. . . . Source: Heritage of Putnam County Tennessee – 2008 by Putnam County Heritage Book Committee, pg. 61 - #235 Shanks Hotel. The Shanks Hotel is thought to have been built around the Duke Hotel. When the Shanks Hotel burned on May 12, 1968, it was the wooden construction that burned. It is believed that this was the Duke Hotel. Herby J. Shanks owned the hotel. His family came from Shanksville, PA; he married Elizabeth Maddux from Granville, TN. Pip Shanks, brother to Herby, ran the hotel. Pip married Pauline Speck of Algood, TN. The train would not run at night. If it could make it to Nashville before dark, they would run; if not, they would stay in Cookeville. Cookeville got the name "Hub" because this was a meeting place for salesmen to show their wares. There was a livery stable next to the hotel. Herby made a deal with the conductor to furnish people from the train a room, breakfast, and dinner for one price.

Herby also had the three story home plus basement at 1539 West Broad Street to be used when he had an overflow at the hotel. The basement, second and third floors were all apartments. It was George Shanks' (son of Herby's) job to build a fire in each stove in the morning before the guest woke up. There were no locks on the doors.

George married Kathleen Skidmore. They met at Bowling Green Business College. George went to work for the government in 1949. They have one son, Bud Shanks.

When the hotel burned in 1968, they decided not to rebuild because I-40 was just being completed, and the town was moving closer to I-40. Story submitted by: Bud Shanks. Picture submitted by: The Cookeville City History Museum.

By Deed of Gift, Mahaley Wiley Shaw and her daughter, Artimissa, donated two acres of land to the City of Cookeville for use as a cemetery. What prompted the gift? We are not sure. What we do know follows: Mahaley was married to Thomas Jefferson Shaw. Their son, Joseph, was living in one of the first frame houses built in the area, on what is now Dixie Avenue, with his wife Margaret Apple of Chestnut Mound. Even though he was past thirty at the outbreak of the Civil War, he quickly joined the Army of the Confederacy. He was a major in the Fourth Tennessee Battalion when he was shot in the chest during the Battle of Newington, Georgia, one of many engagements around the important port city of Savannah. He was transported to a nearby plantation owned by the family named Enoch who cared for him for nine days before he succumbed to his wounds. The exigencies of the war prevented the transportation of his corpse to Cookeville, so the Enoch family graciously buried him on their ground going so far as to erect a grave marker with an engraved tribute to a man they never really knew.

Shortly after the Civil War, as the period of reconstruction invigorated the economy of the area, they opened the Shaw House, a hotel which was located near the city square joining the Isbell Hotel and the Reagan (later the Richlieu and the Sidwell.) The Shaw House included common rooms for meetings and events, a livery stable and an elegant restaurant. Jefferson opened a saloon as well on the south side of the square, which already contained four others. The Shaws prospered during this period and they were able to acquire a fair amount of property including the cemetery site. The Shaw House, the Reagan Hotel several wooden buildings near the square were destroyed in a great fire in 1881. This loss, though, was not as painful as the loss, nearly twenty years earlier, of their son Joseph, a son buried so very far from home.

The story of Mahaley Wiley Shaw was researched by Linda Hawkins & Margery Hargrove.

Robert John "Bo" Shelton Obt.

b. 8 October 1974, Nashville, Davidson Co., TN – d. 23 January 2024, Cookeville, Putnam Co., TN, (US Marine Corp), s/o John Thomas Shelton Jr. (1951-1995) & Mary "Elaine" Shelton Eslinger.

COOKEVILLE-Mr. Robert John "Bo" Shelton, a cherished son, brother, uncle, and friend, passed away at the age of 49 on January 23, 2024, in Cookeville, TN. Born on October 8, 1974, in Nashville, TN, Bo's life was a testament to his boundless generosity and his steadfast love for his family and community.

Bo was preceded in death by his father, John Thomas Shelton, Jr., his brother Chris Shelton, and his paternal grandparents, John Thomas Shelton, Sr. and Dorothy Jean Nolan Shelton. He was also preceded by his maternal grandparents, Robert and Rita Wigger. He leaves behind his mother, Mary "Elaine" Shelton

Eslinger and her husband, Don Eslinger; his sister, Margie and her husband Chris Archer, along with their children Amelia, Lily, and Nolan; his stepsister, Katie and her husband Matthew Hickman, and children, Tori and Madison; his stepbrother, Matt Eslinger, and his numerous aunts, uncles, and cousins.

He served in the United States Marine Corps and dedicated many hours volunteering at The River Community Church, Habitat for Humanity and Manna's Hana Riding Center. His infectious whistle, his joyous renditions of songs, and his playful air guitar performances were hallmarks of a man who embraced life's simple pleasures and shared them generously with all around him. Bo's generosity of spirit extended far beyond his volunteer work; it was the essence of who he was. He was a people person through and through, always eager to lend a hand and share a smile. In every aspect of his life, Bo sought to embody the values he held most dear: kindness, generosity, and a deep love for his family. His memory will be cherished in the hearts of those he touched. J. F. Slagle, Pioneer, And Well Known Citizen Passes Away: End Comes While At Home Here Last Saturday:

Another of Cookeville's oldest, best known and most highly respected citizens passed from the scenes of life to the great beyond when the life of J. R. Slagle came to a close last Saturday afternoon at his home on West Broad Street, after having been in declining health for about three eyars, following injuries received in Nashville when he was knocked down by an automobile. However, for several months his condition had been improving and the turn for the worse came only a short while before his death.

John Frederick Slagle was born at Kingsport, TN, February 26, 1851, being almost 79 years of age when the end came. While just a boy he came with his parents to Putnam county and settled at the Algood home place near the present town of Algood. For several years he was engaged in the saw mill business at various point in this and adjoining counties, being associated with the late Howard Farley most of the time. Soon after the railroad came to Messrs. Farley & Slagle with Jere Whitson, operated a planning mill in this city which was supplied with rough lumber from their saw mills in Dry Valley and at other points. These gentlemen with a few others, operated the roller mill here for some time.

After retiring from the mill enterprises Mr. Slagle operated a grocery store for some time, and for several years was at Davidson, TN, and Rabun Gap, GA, as chief engineer for the Davidson, Hicks & Green Co. He also spent several months in Nashville.

Mr. Slagle was married twice. First, to Miss Maggie Sherrell, who passed away many years ago, and on September 5, 1888, he was married to Miss Fannie Patterson, who survives him, together with a daughter, Mrs. Della Gentry, of this city, and a son, William Slagle, of Nashville. He is also survived by three sisters, Mrs. Mollie McKinley, of Buffalo Valley; Mrs. Van Wiggins, of Algood; and Mrs. Fannie Martin, of Monterey; and two brothers, James Slagle, of White county; and Eugene Slagle, of Monterey; besides a host of other relatives.

Mr. Slagle was a 32nd degree Mason and a veteran Odd Fellow, and his remains were buried in the City cemetery Monday with Masonic rites, after funeral services had been conducted at the residence by Revs. B. W. Covington and W. B. Gentry, with a large crowd of friends present to pay their last respects to their departed relative and friend.

Although Mr. Slagle was not a member of any church, he had professed Christianity a few years before his death. He was a man of the strictest integrity and of great kindness of heart and enjoyed the confidence and esteem of all who knew him.

Thus passes away another splendid citizen, long identified with Putnam county and Cookeville, who so lived and conducted himself as to make for himself a character of which his descendents may ever justly feel proud.

Capt. Samuel G. Slaughter (1820-1903) was one of the most prominent and highly respected citizens of Cookeville and Putnam County during the county's early history. He was a native of Smith County. He was a gallant Confederate Captain during the Civil War, and at the close of that war he located in Cookeville, where he purchased a large tract of land and erected the residence on North Washington Street which he thereafter occupied until his death on April 22, 1903, at the age of 83 years.

In the early 70's Capt. Slaughter, Jesse Arnold, J. H. Moore and Henry P. Davis established a large general store on the South side of the Public Square. It was known as the "Stock Store", by reason of the fact that the business was incorporated and a number of other citizens acquired stock in the business. The company erected a large two-story building. This early mercantile business establishment enjoyed a prosperous business until its store building was destroyed by fire in 1882.

Soon after Capt. Slaughter located in Cookeville, he was elected a Justice of the Peace of the First Civil District, in which position he served for about twenty-five years as Chairman of the County Court of Putnam County.

Capt. Slaughter was largely instrumental in the organization of the Cookeville Church of Christ and the erection of its first church building on Washington Street. He served as an Elder of the church from its organization until his death. He survived his wife for only a few months. Their graves are in the Cookeville Cemetery.

From The Story of Tennessee Tech by Austin Wheeler Smith (McQuiddy Printing Company, Nashville, Tennessee, October 1957)

As earnest as he was energetic, Tennessee Polytechnic Institute's first president, Thomas Alva Early, intended public higher education to be accessible to all of the Upper Cumberland's students. Here, in his own words, is Austin Wheeler Smith, TPI's first history professor, who would go on to be registrar, dean-registrar, and acting president during his 35-year tenure at Tech.

"It was the president's idea that the cost of board could be reduced by cultivating a large garden. Consequently, for a number of years the space about where the Engineering Building [now Henderson Hall] is located was used for that purpose. The practical work students constituted the major part of the labor needed for cultivation, gathering and canning. But there was one hitch. The vegetables were usually ready for canning during vacation when the students and most of the faculty were away. There still exist some pictures of Dean Daniel [Charles D. Daniel, first dean of faculty] and his wife stringing beans for canning.

"Beans and apples were often bought by the wagon load, canned and stored in the basement of East Hall [now Kittrell Hall]. The first such effort ended disastrously. The president employed what he thought was an expert for that purpose. Tin cans were just then supplanting the glass cans. Several loads of apples were canned and stored. Soon after school opened the girls came running all excited out of East Hall declaring that the Civil War had broken out again. It certainly was uncanny to hear the last can of those apples uncan themselves with a cannonading effect. All were helpless. When a person went in, a can exploded, and he was a fit subject for the old swimming hole. After there came a surcease of explosions, the room was an effervescing loblolly of sour apples."

SILVER POINT: MRS. MATTIE SMITH DIES:

In the death of Mrs. Mattie Smith which occurred at her home Wednesday morning, August 12, humanity loses one of its most gracious and useful women.

Mrs. Smith was a wonderful woman; so good, so high minded, so charitable, lovable and a lover of all human kind.

In a life of sixty three years, no unkind word about her fellowman ever escaped her lips, no unkind thought ever clouded her mind, but through all the years her life was filled with good deeds and practiced charity, that made her a benefactor in this section.

Her hospitable home was ever open to her friends and their friends. The crowds were never too large to find comfortable entertainment. The good humor and wisdom which emanated from this cheerful, smiling Christian woman, made the honorees of her hospitality realize that life was worth living. The young folks as well as old, flocked to her home. They loved her, they enjoyed her, she was entertainment and instructive to them. Not a heart but aches, that knew here, and the unbroken rays of her friends bespeak for her the eternal rest that comes to those who love the Lord.

It matters not how great the offense or wrong, Mrs. Smith had a word of defense and good for the wrong doer - she breathed kindness, she lived kindness.

Funeral services were conducted at the home, Thursday afternoon, by Rev. J. A. Harris, of Baxter.

Interment took place in the Cookeville cemetery.

Pallbearers were Beecher Wallace, Herman Alcorn, Will Julian G. H. Denny, Alfred Gill and Bismark Rowland.

She leaves a husband, Dr. T. J. Smith, daughter, Mrs. H. C. Curtis, son, Lionel, brother, F. W. McDonald, three sisters, Misses Sallie and Lucille McDonald and Mrs. Johnnie Moss, four grandchildren, Ashley and Lee Donald Smith, Bill and Carolyn Curtis, and a host of friends to mourn her death.

John Speakman Killed By Switch Engine: One of Cookeville's Most Highly Respected Citizens Meets Instant Death:

One of the most appalling tragedies in the history of Cookeville occurred at the Tennessee Central passenger station last Monday morning at eight o'clock, when John Speakman was struck and instantly killed by a switch engine.

Mr. Speakman who was almost totally deaf, was crossing the track on the north side, and evidently was not aware of the fact that the engine was approaching, as it was traveling at a slow rate of speed, according to eye witnesses, and was just in the act of crossing over the rail of the track and had he quickened his motion the least bit would have been safety over. But he did not otherwise and he was caught by the cow-catcher of the engine and drawn back to instant death. The engine was stopped a few feet from where the accident occurred and the body did not get under the train but was badly broken in places. Two of three bystanders rushed to the rescue but he was dead before they could reach him. The body was immediately carried to the rear room at the barber shop by the railway authorities and a little later carried over to the family.

John Speakman was a most respected citizen and will be greatly missed in his community. He was a tinner by trade and in this capacity had worked in this trade during his twenty-two years residence in Cookeville. He held the confidence of all with whom he came in contact. Despite his deafness which was of course a great handicap to him, he was always jovial, and invariably had a pleasant word of greeting for everyone. He was especially fond of children and was a great favorite among the little folks. At the time of the fatal accident one little fellow we are told, knew the danger his friend was in, and realizing that an alarm would be of no avail, ran as fast as his little legs would carry him to pull Mr. Speakman out of harm's way, but he was too late.

Mr. Speakman was 59 years of age. He was born in Jackson county, having moved from Gainesboro to Cookeville a quarter of a century ago. He is survived by a wife and four daughters. He also was the father of four sons, all of whom preceded him to the grave. He is also survived by two sisters who live in Cookeville, Mrs. Wm. Smoot and Mrs. Nina Embry. One brother, Hall Speakman, was here to attend the funeral, which was conducted at the home Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock by Rev. C. L. Talley of the Christian Church. The remains were interred in the city cemetery at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, attended by many relatives and friends of the deceased.

The Herald joins the entire community in heartfelt sympathy in their sorrow.

The death of Thomas Louis Speakman, at his home in Cookeville, last Sunday morning, removes a familiar figure from the streets, as he has for some time made his rounds supplying peanuts to his customers and cherry greeting and kindly smile will be missed.

He was born June 20, 1866, and married August 26, 1885, to Miss Eddie Emberton of Tompkinsville, KY. To this union were born eight children, three of whom, with his wife, preceded him to the grave, he was married the second time to Miss Nanny Netherton on April 17, 1904, who, with four children of this union, live to mourn his loss.

Mr. Speakman was a brick mason by trade and followed that line of work until the infirmities of age over took him just a few years ago. He spent several years in Cookeville following the arrival of the railroad, and then for quite awhile was located at various points in Alabama, and returned to this city about three years ago after residing in Chattanooga for some time.

Those surviving him are his daughters: Mrs. Jesse Young, of Jackson county; Alma, of Missouri; Miss Walter Brittain, of Nashville, and Mrs. Vancie Guffin, of Johnson City; sons, Willie, of Ohio; Tom Jim, of California; Benton and Howard of this city. He is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Addie Smoot, of this city, and three brothers, Henry Mounce, of Alister, Oklahoma, Hall Charles, of Kentucky, and Vance Brooks, of Texas.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon by O. H. Tillman, minister of the Church of Christ, of which the deceased was a member, and burial took place in the city cemetery.

Motorcyclist killed in late-night crash

Mary Jo Denton

Herald-Citizen Staff

Wednesday, Mar 11, 2009

COOKEVILLE -- A Cookeville man was killed in a motorcycle accident on a city street early today, according to the Tennessee Highway Patrol.

Bobby James Spell, 28, of Garrett Avenue, died in the crash, which happened around 1:30 a.m. at Spring Street and Willow Avenue.

(Pictured: Bobby James Spell, who was killed in a motorcycle crash in March, led a full, happy life and was very much loved in his family, which included his two young nieces, Joyce and Courtney).

Spell was one of three motorcyclists passing through that area at the time, police said.

Cookeville Police Officer Robert Cantwell was patrolling in the area and noticed that one of the three, a female, was not wearing a helmet.

"My understanding, from the information I have at this point, is that Officer Cantwell saw three motorcycles westbound on Spring at Willow, saw that one driver did not have a helmet, and turned around to investigate," Cookeville Police Chief Bob Terry said.

But the three motorcyclists allegedly took off at a high rate of speed, and Bobby James Spell's 2003 Honda B60 cycle ran off the right side of the street.

According to a report by THP Lt. Brian Lawson, Spell's cycle was traveling very fast, and he lost control of the vehicle, which overturned. Spell "was separated from the motorcycle," the THP report says.

Reportedly, Spell was killed instantly.

Jimmie Joe Stamps, 20, son of the late Elijah Stamps who resided just north of Cookeville, was drowned last Wednesday afternoon in the Caney Fork River at Twin Bridges when he attempted to retrieve a bait box.

He had gone fishing with Bill Stamps and Whit Ray, who said that the boy had hung his line on a snag and after untangling it had lost a box containing minnows, which was floating. When he tried to get the box he was either taken with cramps or was sucked under the water. His companions made repeated efforts to save him and, being burdened with heavy fishing clothes, were almost drowned themselves. The body was recovered in 30 minutes after sinking.

Funeral Services For Accident Victim Held Sunday Afternoon:

Lawrence D. Stamps, 26, Found Dead In Wrecked Car Near Monterey By Crossville Physician: Prominent Lodge Worker:

Funeral services for Lawrence D. Stamps, 26, who was found dead in his wrecked automobile early Friday morning near Monterey were conducted at the First Baptist Church Sunday afternoon by the pastor, the Rev. Sam Edwards, assisted by the Rev. E. M. Steel, of the Cookeville Methodist Church, and the Rev. O. P. Gentry, of Monterey. Burial took place in the City Cemetery.

One of the largest crowds ever seen at a Cookeville funeral was present to do homage to Stamps, who was prominent in local lodge activities. He was District Deputy of the Moder Woodmen, Clerk of the Cookeville Camp, was a Mason, a clerk in the Cookeville post office, and member of the Cookeville fire department. He was also a member of the Baptist Church.

Stamps was found dead in his wrecked automobile three miles east of Monterey early Friday morning by Dr. V. L. Lewis, of Crossville. Dr. Lewis, unable to remove the body, said to have been dead more than an hour when found, drove to Monterey for assistance.

It was believed that Stamps, in attempting to light a cigarette, had failed to see a curve and his car, evidently going at a high rate of speed, failed to make a curve and plunged into a telephone pole. The car was almost totally demolished. Stamps' ribs were crushed and were driven into his lungs, undertakers said which caused his death.

Had Attended Meeting:

Stamps was returning to Cookeville alone from Crossville where he had attended a meeting of the M. W. A. camp. He was intending to stop at Monterey to get his family who were visiting there. It was believed the accident occurred at about 10 o'clock Thursday night. Several motorists passed the scene of the accident, but did not investigate. A truck driver stopped his truck, looked at the wreck, but failed to discover the body.

His death was a shock to him many friends in Cookeville and many nearby towns.

The local Masonic Lodge and the M. W. A. had charge of services at the grave.

Besides his parents, Mrs. and Mrs. John S. Stamps, of Cookeville, Stamps is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ruth Ledbetter Stamps, and two small children.

Douglas Lee Standifer passed away in his sleep just before sunrise on the morning of December 11. Lovingly called ‘GDaddy’ by his granddaughters (and often his daughters and their friends), Standifer was a respected, self-made businessman and longtime member of the Putnam County community. He had a reputation for being a bit tough and letting his opinion be known even when it wasn’t agreeable. While he was a bit rough around the edges at times, his straight forwardness will be greatly missed by his girls. Familiar to all who knew him as an avid sports fan – particularly of the Tennessee Volunteers and the New York Yankees, he was also an extraordinary left-handed golfer with dozens of tournament and championship wins across the region. He also had a passion for vehicles from classic models to racecars to trucks and collected and refurbished unique automobiles as a primary hobby. He also spent a great deal of time on both of his farms, where he raised cattle and had space for the tractors and other ‘moving equipment’ he was always collecting. He liked taking short, fun trips with his daughters and granddaughters to the beach or NYC for Yankee games and was always up for an adventure. Whether it was working or playing, he was fit and busy - continually staying active day and night, as well as being well-versed on current events and the state of the stock and trades markets. This was true until just a few weeks prior to his passing.

Standifer was raised on idyllic Signal Mountain, TN, as one of four boys by the late Dion and Mary Jane Standifer. He met his wife and the mother of his children when starting college at David Lipscomb University. He then went on to graduate with a business degree from The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, prior to beginning his accounting career working for Price Waterhouse's Nashville based operations. A few years later, he ventured out on his own and moved his family to Cookeville, TN, where he opened his independent CPA and Tax/Finance Consultant firm that remained in operation from the 1970s until 2019. During this period, he accumulated dozens of top-tier clients across Tennessee and throughout the South. He also used his business savvy to invest wisely in commercial and residential real estate, eventually developing a diverse and well-situated portfolio that continues to remain strong for future generations.

He is survived by his daughters, magazine editor Stacie Standifer (Tim Nichols) of Nashville, TN, and restaurant owner Susan Stroud (Slade) of Cookeville, TN, and beloved granddaughters Summer Lee Hitchcock (John), Sadie Mae Stroud and Scotlynn Standifer Stroud and one living brother, Jack Standifer (Deborah) of Birmingham, AL. There will be no visitation or funeral, only a private graveside burial gathering with his immediate family. This will be in the Cookeville Cemetery on the plot adjacent to where his deceased son, Douglas Scott Standifer is also buried, on Saturday December 12. Memorial contributions may be made to Upper Cumberland Young Life and High Hopes for Kids.

A month before her death, she made the great sacrifice of giving up her babies that they might be brought to her husband's home where they could be better cared for, and it was not until a few days before the end that she gave up her valiant struggle for life that she might rear her children.

S. S. Stanton Dies Suddenly At His Home Here Friday Night: Unexpected Passing IS Shock To Hundreds Of Friends Of Ex-Putnam Register: Was In Insurance Business.

Sidney S. Stanton, aged 70, died suddenly last Friday night, at his home in Cookeville. His death came as a shock to most of his friends throughout this county. However, it was known to his family and to a number of his friends that he had not enjoyed good health for the past year. He had, at intervals, during this period suffered from high blood pressure. On last Friday he spent most of the day in town, attending to business, and appeared to be stronger and in better health than usual. As the word spread throughout Cookeville and Putnam county that Sidney S. Stanton was dead, the comment heard upon every hand was, "He was a good man and he was my friend."

He was one of Putnam county's best known and most highly esteemed citizens. He was the last surviving child of the distinguished ante-bellum lawyer, orator, and Whig leader and brave Confederate officer, Colonel Sidney S. Stanton, Colonel of the gallant 28th Tennessee Confederate regiment, who met a heroic death on the bloody battlefield of Resaca, GA, in 1864, while leading his regiment.

Although born and reared in what is now the Tenth civil district of Putnam county, Col. Stanton was a resident of Carthage, where he was engaged in the practice of his profession when the Civil war broke out, and his son, Sidney S. Stanton, was born in Carthage on April 1, 1862.

His boyhood was principally spent in the Tenth civil district of this county, where his grandfather, Stanton and many of his other relatives resided. In his young manhood he was married to Miss Savannah Sadler, of the Tenth district, and he continued to reside in that district, engaged in farming, until about twenty-one years ago, when, in order to give his children better educational advantages, he moved to Cookeville, and, for a few years, was engaged in the grocery business on the South side of the public square.

In 1914 he was elected County Register of Putnam county in which office he served for eight years, making a faithful and efficient officer.

During the past ten years he has conducted an insurance agency in this city.

He was a most genial, kind hearted and obliging man, who always greeted his friends and acquaintances with words of friendliness and good cheer.

He was a faithful member of the Southern Methodist Church, and was an Odd Fellow.

He was a devoted husband and father, a loyal friend, and a splendid citizen.

While he was only two years old when his distinguished father gave his life for the Southland, he greatly revered the memory of his father and mother. His mother, Mrs. Martha Apple Stanton, was a sister of the late Esq. J. C. "Jack" Apple, who spent his life near Chestnut Mound, in Smith county, and was one of Smith county's leading citizens. The wives of Col. Stanton, Major Shaw and Captain McDearman were all sisters. Major Shaw, like Colonel Stanton, lost his life on a Georgia battlefield.

One of the most largely attended funerals in the history of Cookeville was on last Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church, when hundreds of friends assembled to pay a last mark of respect to Sidney S. Stanton. The large church auditorium was crowded to its full capacity, and many were unable to crowd into the church. Many beautiful floral designs attested the love of friends. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. E. M. Steel, pastor of the deceased, assisted by Rev. Dow A. Ensor.

Following the service at the church, burial took place in the family lot in the Cookeville Cemetery. The Odd Fellows' burial service was conducted at the grave.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Mrs. Savannah Sadler Stanton, and by eight grown children as follows: Mrs. W. E. Hutcheson, of Nashville; Mrs. Emerson Wertham, of Elizabethtown, KY; Mrs. Floyd E. Harding, of Los Angeles, CA; Charles Stanton, Layton Stanton, Miss Emily Stanton and Miss Elnora Stanton, of Cookeville; and Lucian Stanton, of McMinnville; also by many other relatives in this city and county.

On Sunday, July 11, the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stanton and called home little Simon Sidney Stanton, their youngest son, aged about two years. The little one had been sick only a few days and his going away was a surprise to all and a great shock to his parents. All the loving hands of father and mother, grandparents and two faithful nurses could do was of no avail. The Lord had planned otherwise and at about 11 o'clock Sunday morning as the tolling of bells were calling the congregation of the town to worship the voice of our heavenly father called the spirit of little, S. S. to come home to join the heavenly hosts in an everlasting worship, there to await the coming of his parents and little brother. The home is saddened and desolate because of his going away, but heaven is brithter and seems nearer to his loved ones because of his presence there.

Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist Church by Rev. J. F. Tinnon and Dr. A. J. Coile. The pall bearers were misses Kate Stafford, Georgia Webb, Mildred Reagan and Elizabeth and Louise Yeargan, while Masters Herman Proffitt, Eugene Carlen were flower bearers. The funeral services were the most beautiful ever held in Cookeville, after which the little body was laid to rest in Cookeville cemetery there to await the resurrection morn when the bodies of the sleeping dead shall be assembled in the home above.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Stanton in their bereavement. Friends.

Teacher, Librarian, Devotee of Learning & Books

Born in 1901 to the teacher of a one room school, Clara Ann Starnes spent her childhood surrounded by books and learning. Her love for books, learning, and children inspired her to help others to appreciate the value of books and a good education.

"Miss Clara," as she was called by many, began her formal education in her father's one room schoolhouse. After graduating from the eighth grade she attended high school at what was to later become Tennessee Technological University. At the end of her formal education, when she was only eighteen years old, she began teaching a one-room school of her own.

Because of her love for learning and books, "Miss Clara" returned to Teachers in Nashville, TN with a degree in Library Science. Clara joined the Cookeville Book Lover's Club and when in 1923 it was decided that all twelve of the club members purchase a book, she was eager to do so. Because of the success of these twelve women and their fund-raising efforts, a circulating library of over a thousand books was started in 1929. And it was with this beginning that Miss Clara Starnes achieved her life-long goal of becoming a librarian.

The library continued to grow and in 1939, the public library and the Putnam County School Library were combined into the Clara Cox Epperson Library and "Miss Clara" became its first librarian.

Upon retirement, "Miss Clara" stayed active in her church, The First Baptist Church, continued her reading, and her other love sewing. Until her death in 1984, her home continued to be a welcoming place for all her nieces and nephews and books.

*"A book is not only a friend, it makes friends for you.
when you have possessed a book with mind and spirit, you are enriched. But when you pass it on,
you are enriched threefold."

COOKEVILLE -- Funeral services for Doyle Edna Stewart, 95, of Cookeville, will be held at 11 a.m. on Saturday, July 7, from the Cookeville Chapel of Hooper-Huddleston & Horner Funeral Home. Interment will follow in Cookeville City Cemetery.

The family will receive friends from 9 a.m. until time of services on Saturday at the funeral home.

Mrs. Stewart died Thursday, July 5, 2012, in Cookeville Regional Medical Center.

She was born Sept. 10, 1916, in Putnam County to the late John Wayne and Lura Dawes Allen.

Edna was a spunky, friendly, generous and benevolent Christian lady. Many of her benevolent deeds were done privately, with the knowledge of very few. She thoroughly enjoyed her children and grandchildren and visiting with her friends. She enjoyed taking day trips with her daughters. She was the neighborhood socialite anywhere she lived. She was known for her love of and talent for growing beautiful flowers.

She had enjoyed unusually good health until the last few years, when dementia had altered both her physical and mental capacities. She was a member of Bloomington Springs Church of Christ for many years and a member of Willow Avenue Church of Christ for the last several years. Unfortunately, the dementia had caused her to be shut in and unable to attend services for the last years of her life.

She will be remembered by many as one of the first meter maids and "school mother" crossing guards in Cookeville. She retired from the Cookeville Police Department with 20 years of service.

Her family includes a son and daughter-in-law, Bob and Barbara Stewart of Cookeville; two daughters and sons-in-law, Betty and Gary Jett and Judy and Butch Randolph, all of Cookeville; eight grandchildren, Lisa Stanze of Collierville, Amy Weaver of Cookeville, Allison Motley of Murfreesboro, Dustin Randolph of Cookeville, Abi Jett of Pittsburgh, Pa., Kathy Stewart of Florida, Sheri Higgins of Alabama and Justin Stewart of Kentucky; two stepgrandchildren, Lisa Hieatt and Stephen Hargis, both of Cookeville; a brother, Bill Allen of Illinois; two sisters-in-law, Maudine Harville and Gladys Phillips, both of Baxter; and several nieces and nephews, including Howard Allison and Ruth Allison Knowles of Cookeville.

In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her husband of 49 years, Henry O. (Red) Stewart (who died April 12, 1989); a granddaughter, Michelle Lee Stewart; a stepson, Arvel Eugene Stewart; three brothers, James Allen, Winnell Allen and Charlie Allen; a sister, Ella Allen; a nephew, Glyn (Speedy) Allison; and a great-niece, Ruth Ada Maddux Jones.

The family acknowledges and deeply appreciates the dedicated care given to their mother by Dr. James Staggs. They also wish to thank the 5th floor nurses of CRMC, Bethesda Health Care Center and Home Instead Senior Care.

Pallbearers will be family and friends.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Upper Cumberland Christian Home, 790 State Street, Cookeville, TN 38501.

Bro. Paul Fox will officiate at the services.

Alpine man loses life in courageous rescue attempt

An Overton County resident and a Cookeville city employee lost their lives Wednesday, Jan. 23, after being caught in a flooded drainage ditch at Fisk Road in Cookeville.

The enormous amount of rainfall that swept throughout the region last week caused water to back up in many areas and turbulent flooding conditions in others.

According to reports by Herald-Citizen staff writer Mary Jo Denton, three Cookeville Public Works employees, Tommy Stewart, 20, Harold Williams, 33, and John Clendening, 23, were trying to clear out ditches and nearby curb drains that morning to relieve flooding in the area.

Williams, who was in a nearby yard looking for a catch basin, heard Stewart cry out for help, turned around, and saw him go down in the water.

Williams and Clendening jumped into the turbulent water to attempt to save their young co-worker, who had been pulled down into the drain pipe in the street. After moments of trying to free Stewart, Williams waded back out of the water and ran back to the utility truck to look for rope. While at the truck, he called for help, then returned to Stewart and Clendening with a chain. He tied the chain around Stewart, and the two tried to pull Stewart out, unfortunately, with no success.

Stewart's wading suit was filled with water, making it impossible to pull him out of the pipe. Randell Shane Cooper, 26, a local cable contractor, passed by the scene and saw the men struggling in the waist-deep current. Without second thought, Cooper stopped to assist them.

He braved the mighty waters, grabbed Williams, and pulled him out of the flood. Cooper jumped back into the turbulent water to help Stewart and Clendening, not aware that another drain tile was beside the one in which Stewart was trapped.

The pressure of the water was so strong that Cooper was pulled down into the drain tile. Williams saw Cooper raise his hands above the water, grabbed him, and tried to pull him out of the water, but failed.

Emergency workers arrived at the scene with a backhoe and extrication equipment to try to free the men.

After hours of rescue attempts, the rescue workers were able to remove Stewart's body from the drain pipe.

Cooper's body was found under water in a creek bed at the end of the drainage pipe that had trapped him.

Williams and Clendening suffered from cuts and bruises, but survived the incident. Stewart was the son of Donnie and Janet Stewart of Cookeville.

Cooper, son of Virgil Cooper of Alpine and Sandy Tubb of Gordonsville, is survived by his wife, Jaime Cooper, and son, Eric Shane Cooper.

Officials commended Stewart and Cooper for their bravery, as Stewart was working to lessen the flooding in the area and Cooper stopped to help three men in danger. Workers on the scene were also recognized by officials for their efforts during the all-day rescue attempt.

DR. J. R. STORIE, 85, DIED AT HOME HERE EARLY THIS MORNING:
Was Pioneer Fentress County Educator, Lawyer, Politician and Physician.

OPPOSED JUDGE HULL

Dr. J. R. Storie, 85, pioneer Upper Cumberland educator, lawyer, politician and physician, died at his home here early this morning following a brief illness. He had been in failing health for the past two years and had retired to a great extent from active practice of medicine in which he had been engaged here for the past 27 years. His patients frequently called upon him for medical services and he was prevented from retiring entirely from practice even up to the beginning of his last illness.

He was born in Fentress County and spent the early part of his life there. In 1876 he moved to the State of Washington, where he resided ten years. Returning to Fentress County he resided there until his removal to Cookeville 27 years ago.

Was Office Holder:

He served a term as county judge of Fentress County and a term as superintendent of education. He also served as chairman of the county board of education. He studied law and was admitted to the state bar.

He opposed Cordell Hull for floterial representative of Clay, Overton, Fentress and Pickett counties in the election of 1894, which was Secretary Hull's second political race, and was defeated. He was a lifelong Republican.

He studied medicine at the University of Tennessee and the Vanderbilt University medical schools at Nashville and graduated from the U. T. school in 1887. He began the practice of medicine at Jamestown and practiced there and at Forbus until his removal to Cookeville.

Noted Physician:

He was noted for his treatment of typhoid fever and pneumonia cases, and during his long practice, most of which was before the day of the automobile, he rode hundreds of miles horseback and in buggies to minister to his patients.

He was one of the oldest members of the Odd Fellows and Masonic orders in the state. He was a pioneer member of the Upper Cumberland Medical Society. He was a member of the Baptist Church.

He was married three times and was the father of 14 children, ten of whom survive him. His last wife, Mrs. Sarah Choate Storie, also survives him.

The surviving daughters include, Mrs. Pansy Garrett of Jamestown, Mrs. May Frick of Cookeville, Mrs. Walter Hamby and Mrs. E. L. Brooks, both of Dayton, OH, and Mrs. Dewey Davis and Mrs. E. L. Poor, both of Los Angeles, CA. Four sons, Dr. I. R. Storie of Jamestown, O. D. Storie of Stearns, KY, Paul E. Storie of Los Angeles, CA, and C. M. Storie of Cookeville; 25 grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren, also survive him.

Funeral services will be held at the residence at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

WOMAN ACCIDENTALLY KILLED IN CHURCH PARKING LOT

by Mary Jo Denton

COOKEVILLE — A woman was killed in a traffic accident in a church parking lot on Sunday morning, police said. Nancy Karen Stout, 65, of W. Cemetery Road, Cookeville, died after being struck by a car about 11 a.m. at the Jefferson Avenue Church of Christ, said Cookeville Police Capt. Mark Maxwell. The driver of the car, Paul Wright, 83, of Cookeville, was not injured and reportedly told police he had put his foot on the gas pedal of his car and that “it stuck.”

As a church service had just ended and church members were walking to the fellowship building behind the church, Wright got into his 2002 Chevrolet Cavalier and “accelerated across the parking lot,” Capt. Maxwell said. Nancy Karen Stout and others were walking across the parking lot, and her husband and their grandchild were already in their vehicle waiting for her, the officer said. “The car struck Mrs. Stout, knocking her on top of the vehicle’s hood. She then fell to the pavement.”

Reportedly, the victim died instantly.

“Mr. Wright thought his gas pedal got stuck, but in my opinion, he may have mistaken the gas pedal for the brake,” Capt. Maxwell said. “That’s just my opinion. We are still investigating.” Both Stout and Wright had attended church services there just prior to the accident. Nancy Stout, who owned Nan’s Day Care on Stevens St., is well known in the church and in this area. “Everybody said she’s a fine lady,” Capt. Maxwell said. Rescuers from the Cookeville Fire Dept. and medics from the Putnam Ambulance Service rushed to the scene, but were unable to save the victim. Sheriff David Andrews, Police Chief Bob Terry, Capt. Maxwell and members of the Traffic Division were among the officers at the scene.

Beech St., LaFollette, TN to Marjorie Meadows, age 21, b. 5 October 1933, address: Algood Rd., Cookeville, TN. Name of parent, guardian or next of kin of female; Mrs. John L. Meadows, mother, Algood Rd., Cookeville, TN).

Ernest L. Sumner passed away at home in Peachtree City, Georgia on February 12, 2014 after battling liver and colon cancer for several months. He was born on April 27, 1931 in Harlan County, Kentucky, the last of nine children, to Mack and Cora Sumner. The Sumners moved to LaFollette, Tennessee when Ernest was a young boy. Ernest attended LaFollette High School where he and his brother, Hugh, played football together as running backs.

Ernest graduated from Tennessee Tech University in 1954 with a degree in political science. He and his roommate ran a laundry service from their dorm room to pay their college expenses. In December 1954, he married Marjorie Meadows, whose father was Dean of Students at Tennessee Tech. Ernest and Marjorie were stationed in Long Branch, New Jersey, San Marcus, Texas, and Augusta, Georgia, as Ernest rose to the rank of Captain in the United States Army. Their daughter, Melinda, was born at Fort Gordon in Augusta, Georgia.

In 1957, Ernest left the Army and became a security investigator for the Civil Service Commission in Nashville, Tennessee. The Sumners' second child, son Michael, was born there. In 1959, the family moved to Decatur, Georgia, where they were charter members of the Decatur Church of Christ. Ernest served several years as a Deacon and Sunday School teacher before the church moved and became the Northlake Church of Christ. While living in Atlanta, Ernest also worked at Centers for Disease Control and Health and Human Services.

Upon his retirement from the federal government, Ernest began his second career, opening Sumner Insurance Agency. He owned and operated an independent agency over twenty years, providing home, casualty, fire and auto insurance services to clients throughout metro Atlanta.

Ernest's hobbies included travel, snow skiing and golf. He and Marjorie traveled all over the world. Ernest also loved history, focusing on Civil War generals. Ernest especially enjoyed his five grandchildren, cheering for them at sporting events, recitals and scholastic endeavors. He loved reading to the grandchildren and even took time to read to their elementary classes. Ernest loved buying ice cream for the students at lunch. He had a generous, caring spirit and warm, tender heart that sustained him throughout his life. As the baby of nine children and son of a coal miner, he certainly appreciated the underdog and less privileged.

Ernest is survived by his wife of 59 years, Marjorie; daughter, Melinda and Scot Barger of Hilton Head, South Carolina; son, Mike and Leah Sumner, of Newnan, Georgia; grandchildren, Michael Belote of Atlanta; Mindy Belote of Atlanta; Brady Sumner of Atlanta; Stuart Sumner of Charlottesville, Virginia; and Thomas Sumner of Athens, Georgia; sister, Edith Tolliver of La Follette, Tennessee; brother, Hugh Sumner of Dayton, Ohio; and numerous cousins, nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be Sunday February 16 at Jefferson Avenue Church of Christ at 2:00 PM with Bro Buddy Johnson officiating. Interment, with military honors, will follow in Cookeville City Cemetery.

His family will receive friends Sunday from 1 p.m. until service time at the church.

THE MOONBEAM SONG:

Have you ever watched a moonbeam
As it slid across your windowpane
Or struggled with a bit of rain
Or danced about the weather vane
Or sat along a moving train
And wondered where the train has been

Or on a fence with bits of crap
Around its bottom
Blown there by a windbeam
Who searches for the moonbeam
Who was last seen

Looking at the tracks
Of the careless windbeam
Or moving to the clacks
Of the tireless freight train
And lighting up the sides
Of the weather vane
And the bits of rain
And the windowpane
And the eyes of those
Who think they saw what happened...

Have you ever watched a moonbeam
As it slid across your windowpane
Or struggled with a bit of rain
Or danced about the weather vane
Or sat along a moving train
And wonder where the train has been?

Looking at the tracks
Of the careless windbeam
Or moving to the clacks
Of the tireless freight train
And lighting up the sides
Of the weather vane
And the bits of rain
And the windowpane
And the eyes of those
Who think they saw what happened
