An elderly White County couple was found shot to death at their Cherry Creek Road home just over the Putnam County line yesterday, apparently murdered in their bed on Saturday night.

And a 1975 GMC pick-up truck belonging to them and apparently when following the murder was found abandoned at a Cookeville restaurant early this morning.

The bodies of John Henry Carter, 70, a retired farmer, and his wife Laura, 70, were found at their home by a neighbor just after noon yesterday, according to White County Sheriff Joe Cummings. Both had died of gunshot wounds, probably the night before, he said.

The truck, for which police late yesterday issued an “all-points bullentin,” was found abandoned early this morning by Cookeville Police Officer Nathan Honeycutt, who was on routine patrol when he spotted the vehicle parked behind the Burger Kin restaurant at 947 South Jefferson Ave. here, Cookeville Police Chief Paul Jackson said.

Sheriff Cummings said the Carters lived alone at their farm, but said their grandson, in his 20’s, had lived with them “off and on” and said the young man, whom Sheriff Cummings did not identify by name, had left is area sometime Saturday.

The grandson is in Michigan and called someone here Sunday night and said he had heard about what happened,” Sheriff Cummins said.

Investigators arriving at the murder scene about 12:30 yesterday found the body of Carter, clothed in night clothes,” lying in the front part of the home near the porch steps. Mrs. Carter’s body was found in their bed, Sheriff Cummings said.

Carter’s pick-up truck and two guns belonging to him, a 357 Magnum and a shotgun, were missing from the home, but it is unclear yeat whether any money or other items had been stolen, Sheriff Cummings said.

Mrs. Carter died of multiple gunshot wounds to the head, and Carter had been shot in the neck, according to Assistant District Attorney John Knowles of Sparta.

Knowles declined to comment on possible motive or other details of the case.

Sheriff Cummings said that the couple “had probably been dead about twelve hours, which would mean they were killed about midnight Saturday.”

The investigators speculate that Carter managed to crawl out of the bed after being shot and made it to the front porch, apparently seeking help.

“They both were probably shot in the bed at the same time,” Asst. DA Knowles said.

Sheriff Cummings said investigators found a gasoline can with five gallons of gas in the living room of the home and said “we think two guns, a 357 Magnum and a shotgun of Mr. Carter’s, are missing, and the truck was missing.”

Two other guns belonging to Carter were found at the home, he said.

The sheriff declined to speculate on why the gasoline can filled with gas was in the house, saying only that "It was right there in the living room – somewhere you don't normally expect to find a can of gas."

Although further details of the shooting deaths will not be known until autopsies are preformed, Sheriff Cummings said, "It appears they were shot by a 357 Magnum pistol."

The truck had been impounded at the Cookeville Police station awaiting investigators who will inspect it, Chief Jackson said.

Asst. DA Knowles, Sheriff Cummings, TBI Agent Jim Moore, and others have worked almost constantly on the case since the bodies were found Sunday, the sheriff said.

Terry Whitson, a Sparta businessman who is a neighbor of the Carters, found the couple yesterday just as he was pulling out of his farm, which is across the road from the Carter home.

Whitson said today that the Carters house, which is "not isolated and is on a well-traveled road" is "up on a rise and the front probably can't be seen well, but I noticed Mr. Carter in the yard when I pulled out of my farm."

Whitson and his wife then stopped and went into the Carter yard, where Carter was "lying face down where he had fallen off the porch," Whitson said. Blood led all the way back to the bedroom, where the Whitsons found Mrs. Carter lying on her back in the bed," Whitson said.

The house had "not been exactly ransacked, but it had been gone though – drawers were open and so forth," Whitson said.

Whitson said he had known the Carters for many years and goes to church where they went, and said that relatives of the Carters "just thought yesterday when they didn't come to church that they would call later and check on them, but really thought nothing was wrong," Whitson said.

John Henry Carter, originally from Jackson County, had "worked up north" for sometime and came back to this area several years ago, Whitson said.

Carter's grandson, Johnny Carter had lived with the Carters "off and on for the last five or six years since his own father – their son – died." Whitson said.

Whitson said that neighbors in the area said yesterday young Carter had bought gasoline in a can at a nearby grocery store on Saturday and said he was attempting to start a car he owned and had also gone to the home of Nathan Carter, John Henry Carter's brother, about a mile away to ask for jumper cables to start the car.

Whitson said Johnny Carter often went to church with his grandparents and also helped his grandfather farm.

The Carters have a married daughter, Shirley, who lives in Memphis, Whitson said.

She was born June 24, 1925, in Jackson County to the late Henry F. and Delia Flatt.

Mrs. Chaffin grew up in Jackson County and attended Jackson County High School.

On May 9, 1942, she married the love of her life, Kenneth C. Chaffin of Putnam County.

While her husband was in the service in World War II, she lived and worked in Oak Ridge doing clerical work for the Manhattan Project. After her husband came home from the war, they moved to Detroit, Mich., in 1945. While there, she worked at several types of jobs until their first son was born. She then took a long hiatus from working while she raised their son in love and faith.

She returned to the work world to eventually enjoy a very successful career in retail jewelry. She served several firms in Detroit and Muskegon, Mich., the Chicago suburbs and finally, Mobile, Ala., while her husband was transferred from job to job.

The only other love of her life, besides her devotion to her family, was her devotion to Christ. She served as a Sunday school teacher, women's teacher, and elder's wife for more than three decades. Her current membership was with the Collegese Church of Christ. She commented many times in the later years of her life that she couldn't imagine a more wonderful life and family and felt truly blessed.

Her family includes a son and daughter-in-law, Kenneth D. and Jannie Chaffin of Wake Forest, N.C.; two grandchildren, Steven Chaffin and his wife, Laura, of Wake Forest and Bethany Lindsey and her husband, Ted, of Murfreesboro; three precious great-grandchildren, Brandon, Jacob and Caleb Chaffin; two sisters, Edna Roberts of Gainesboro and Marie Hershberger of Warren, Mich.; and numerous nieces and nephews.

In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her husband, Kenneth C. Chaffin of Cookeville and 10 brothers and sisters.

Her son would like to thank many people who have helped care for her at the Upper Cumberland Christian Homes and her numerous nieces and nephews, who have watched over her. The family would also like to thank the staff and doctors of Cookeville Regional Medical Center.

BAXTER — Funeral services for Reba Lois Watson Clemons, 77, of Silver Point, will be held at 11 a.m. on Saturday, Feb. 14, from the Baxter chapel of Hooper-Huddleston & Horner Funeral Home. Interment will be in Crest Lawn Memorial Cemetery in Cookeville.

The family will receive friends from 5-8 p.m. today, Friday, Feb. 13, and after 9 a.m. on Saturday at the funeral home.

Mrs. Clemons died Thursday morning, Feb. 12, 2015, at her home due to complications from dementia.

She was born July 28, 1937, in the Wolf Creek community of DeKalb County (in what is now Edgar Evins State Park) to the late Leslie Grady and Mary Sallie Nixon Watson. Her family was later relocated due to the construction of the Center Hill Dam.

Lois loved to work outside and care for her yard and flowers, but she found purpose in caring for the ill. She loved her children and grandchildren and was at her best while caring for others, especially her son, Randy. She tirelessly sacrificed and saw to his daily needs for several years before he passed at the age of 13.

She enjoyed owning and operating the Corner Grocery in Silver Point for more than 30 years. She formed many friendships with customers and employees. Employees became family, especially Jon Stafford, whom she loved like a son and became her caregiver during the worst part of her illness. Jon was a tremendous comfort to her during the last few months. Jon provided encouragement, conversation and care with great patience and genuine respect. His dependability was a blessing to the whole family.

Lois was also blessed to be cared for by Kay Jones and Tina Brown. Our family is very fortunate to have had their love, support and prayers during this time. None of them can ever be repaid for all they have done. Galatians 6:2-Bear one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ.

Survivors include her husband of 57 years, Clyde "Goad" Clemons of Silver Point (married Sept. 21, 1957, in Ringgold, Ga.); a daughter, Judy Riggsbee of Silver Point; a son, David Clemons of Silver Point; five grandchildren, Tylr and Mason Clemons, both of Cookeville, Daniel and Nathan Riggsbee, both of Cookeville, and Julie Riggsbee of Silver Point; two brothers and a sister-in-law, Carlon and Dot Watson and Jim Watson, all of Baxter.

In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by a son, Randal "Randy" Clemons; a brother, Jim Grady Watson; and three sisters, Ruth Watson Wilson, Jewell Watson Price and Carleen Watson Helm.

Pallbearers will be her four grandsons, along with Jon Stafford and Danny Riggsbee.

Bro. Tony Crow will officiate at the services.

Memorial contributions may be made in Lois' name, where accounts have been set up, to Monroe Carell, Jr. Children's Hospital at Vanderbilt, Vanderbilt Gift Processing, PMB 407727, 2301 Vanderbilt Place, Nashville, TN 37240-7727, or by phone at (615) 322-2979 or St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Tribute Program, P.O. Name of parent, guardian or next of kin of female: W. T. Wheeler, Rt. 3, Gainesboro, TN)).

Ernest Junior Copeland was born July 10, 1940, to the late Morgan and Deama Copeland of Cookeville. He is preceded in death by his wife of 49 years, Maggie Jewell Copeland. He is survived by his son, Tommy and his wife Carolyn Copeland. Two grandsons Benjamin Copeland and Samuel Copeland and his fiancé Heather Baillie. Sister Ruth Arney, brother Hubert and Dean Copeland and a host of nieces and nephews. He is proceeded in death by his parents, several siblings, and his special friend Barbara Ray. He died on April 5th, 2023 at his son and daughter-in-law's home after an extended battle with cancer.

Ernest had a true servant's heart. He completed a total of 50 years of service in various capacities for the City of Cookeville. He started as a volunteer firefighter then became a career firefighter. He served Cookeville PD in the civilian services side for many years before he retired in 2010. Even after retirement, he worked with the City of Cookeville Court system a few days a month. During his time working at the City of Cookeville, he worked part-time supervising adult clients with special needs. Outside of work, Ernest and his wife fostered several children providing them with a loving home. Ernest dedicated his entire life to protecting and caring for those in need.

The most important things in his life were his love for the Lord, his family, his friends and his community. He adored his wife and took wonderful care of her. If he was not at work, they were always together until she passed. He was always there to take care of his family. He always set the example for his son and taught respect, responsibility and how to act as a man. It is unimaginable to consider going forward without the patriarch of his family. He has left an indelible mark on all that knew him.

He harbored tremendous faith in his Savior and was always happy to share his faith while accepting the beliefs and values of others. He loved attending church and participating in church activities. While he sincerely regretted leaving his family and friends, he frequently verbalized how excited he was to be taken home to his Lord. He is dancing the streets of gold with his family and friends that proceeded him in death. Ernest's health issues during the past months left him unable to attend church. His family would like to extend a special thanks for the spiritual and emotional support provided by Pastor Tommy Harris; Ernest's Salem Church family who prayed for him and made several visits to his residence to engage in fellowship and sing for him and Gentiva Hospice Chaplin Eric Cremeans. Additionally, Pastor Darren Ford and Father Jerry Kopel who visited and prayed with him many times including the evening of his death.

He volunteered in many capacities over the years, especially after he retired. He was very active in his church. He helped with the church food pantry. He volunteered at the CRMC and Gentiva Hospice. His favorite volunteer activity was being a member of the Caravan Singers. This was a non-denominational Christian choir that traveled to various churches and sang. It was through this he met his special friend Barbara Ray. Their mutual love of their Lord, attending gospel singings, their love of family and friends, and visiting places of local interest made for wonderful companionship.

He never met a stranger and would make friends wherever he went. He left behind many friends that have said they were better for having known him. His loss will be widely felt in the community. His bright smile and gregarious personality were guaranteed to "brighten the room". He had a positive impact on many lives during his time professionally and personally. He could not stand by and watch someone that needed help struggle alone and never shied away from work.

A special thanks to Gentiva Hospice, particularly Amber Dunn, Tina and Geraldine. Thanks to Judge Joy Buck Gothard and her staff for the invaluable assistance they provided. Many friends and family have provided food, counsel, visits and emotional and spiritual support to both Ernest and his family. Their kindness can never be fully repaid.

Residence Burned:

The large frame residence and boarding house of Fred Cravens on Washington Ave., better known as the Ferrell place, was burned to the ground last Monday night between eight and nine o'clock. The fire which originated in the kitchen presumably from a defective flue, had gained such headway when discovered that the building could not be saved, although every possible means was employed to that end. The furniture in the down stairs rooms was carried out, but all the furniture on the second floor was burned with the house. Heroic efforts were successfully used to save the residence adjoining the place and just across the street, and fortunately there was little wind stirring at the time the fire was at its worst. The house was one of the oldest in Cookeville and was a landmark of the earlier days, but was a well preserved and roomy residence. Mr. Cravens purchased the place about a year ago and was running a boarding house.

The loss, including furniture, was something like $5,000 and was partially covered by insurance.

Willow Ave., Cookeville, TN. Name of parent, guardian or next of kin of female: Glenda Davis, Livingston, TN).

Jackie Ray Dale, 63, of Hilham, passed away peacefully on Thursday January 18, 2024 at his home.

Jack was born on July 26, 1960 to Earl Ray and Alberta Ann (Dixon) Dale in Jackson County, TN. As a young boy, he enjoyed spending time in the woods with six neighborhood friends who remain close friends today. He spent time at his grandparents’ homes in Hilham and Burristown and helped his dad at the furniture store in Livingston. As he got older, his weekends were spent working the auction with his dad.

During his school years, he enjoyed playing all kinds of ball, but mostly football. He graduated from Livingston Academy in 1978. He held several different jobs until he moved back to Livingston where he was self-employed as a contractor for many years. In 2020 he found great pride and joy in a new venture teaching Building Construction Technology at TCAT in Livingston. He enjoyed teaching tremendously and was dedicated to forging relationships with his students to ensure they could achieve their full potential both in and out of the classroom. While he would never want recognition for his actions, he was known to pay transportation costs and buy supplies to make sure that his students had what they needed to be successful. During his tenure at TCAT, several of his students attended SkillsUSA. In what his coworkers describe as unheard of, two years in a row, Jack’s students won SkillsUSA at the state level, qualifying for national competition.

In his free time, he enjoyed golfing, watching football, playing with his grand kids, and of course, cutting up and making others laugh. If you knew Jack, you knew that he lit up a room with laughter and light nearly every time he walked in. He never met a stranger and left a lasting impact on nearly every person he met. I am sure we all have our own stories of things Jack did or said that we all know no one other than Jack Dale could get away with.

He was a member of Hilham Union Church and was active in the Emmaus of the Upper Cumberland's community. Jack was able to meet people where they were in their Christian walk and was a true reflection of the love of Christ. He genuinely loved people and wanted you to know about the Lord. He was a Kingdom filler and a true Disciple of Jesus.

Jack was preceded in death by his daughter, Megan Alexandria Dale; father, Earl Ray Dale; uncle Bobby Dale and aunt Reba Gaw. He is survived by his wife, Barbara Ann Dale, his sons, Jacob (Kelly) Dale, Andrew Dale, Matthew (Vanessa) Dale, William Nathan (Lauren) Dale, and daughter April (Chris) Looper. He is also survived by his mother Alberta Dale, brother David (Patty) Dale, sister Rebekah (Brian) Glazier, his uncle Alton Dixon, his aunt Ruth Dale, as well as grandchildren Hunter and Hayden Dale, Ashlyn and Gracelyn Dale, Kingston and Drew Dale, Mercy and Harrison Dale, and Jonathan and Will Looper, and a host of nieces and nephews.

Services will be held at the Hooper, Huddleston, & Horner Funeral Home on North Jefferson Ave in Cookeville, TN on Tuesday, January 23 at 1 pm. The family will receive friends and family on Monday, January 22 from 4-8 pm and on Tuesday, January 23 from 11 am - 1 pm. Brother Marty Kirk will officiate. Tom Stephens, John West, Jack Glasscock, Steve Moody, Jeff Crawford, and JJ Hollars will serve as pallbearers with Scott Gore, David Sadler, Zach Gantt, Jeff Slagle, and Rick Looper as honorary pallbearers. Entombment will follow in the Crest Lawn Memorial Cemetery Mausoleum, Cookeville, Tennessee.

In lieu of gifts and flowers, the family requests donations to be made at any First National Bank of Tennessee office to the "Nathan Dale to the benefit of Jack Dale memorial" account. These donations will be used towards a memorial fund for supplies for students of the Building Construction Technology Program at TCAT

When she was young, Barbara worked as a waitress in her mother's diner at the Ashway Truckstop. She also worked on the production line at Levi's. Miss Donnie Fern Denny Becomes Bride Of Jerry Flora:

In a quietly but impressively solemnized ceremony, Miss Donnie Fern Denny became the bride of Jerry Flora when the marriage vows were exchanged at three-thirty o'clock, Saturday afternoon, August 17 with the First Baptist church in Knoxville providing the nuptial scene.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Denny of Cookeville and the bridegroom's parents are Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Flora of Kingsport.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. H. Wyatt in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride was lovely attired in a smartly fashioned street length dress of white lace complemented by her bridal bouquet, a white Bible adorned with a white purple throated orclide and showered with satin streamers, which she carried.

Mrs. Denny, mother of the bride, wore a light blue voile dress accented by all white accessories. Mrs. Flor, the bride groom's mother, chose a navy silk with navy and white accessories. Each wore a white rose corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony the bridal couple left for a honeymoon trip to Gattingburg. For traveling the bride selected a brown sheath dress with all white accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet. On their return they will reside in Knoxville.

The bride who received her B. S. degree from Tennessee Polytechnic Institute and her M. S. degree from the University of Tennessee this summer is dietician of the University of Tennessee cafeteria.

Mr. Flora is a graduate of Castle Heights military Academy and attended Duke University. He served two years in the army and is now a senior in mechanical engineering at the University of Tennessee.

The wedding is of particular interest here, where the bride and her parents are popularly associated and claiming equal interest in the nuptial are the many friends of the bridegroom and his parents in Kinsport and both share the many good wishes of their numerous Knoxville friends.

Funeral services for Mrs. Charlene Dickinson were held Thursday, May 6, 2021 at Cookeville First United Methodist Church with Rev. Rob Wheeler officiating. Interment followed at Crest Lawn Cemetery.

Born to Charles and Bertha White in Fort Worth, Texas in 1938, Charlene Dixon White was their firstborn child. She married William Calvin Dickinson on September 12, 1960. She was very fond of her brother and sister-in-law George and Phyllis Dickinson, and their children Daniel and Cindy Dickinson. Daniel later married his wife Roxanne, who gave birth to two boys Maxwell and Isaac. Cindy married Will Garrison and they have two daughters Lucy and Rose. Charlene's brother Tommy and her parents preceded her in death. Charlene Dickinson departed this life on April 30, 2021.

Calvin and Charlene met at Baylor University, fell in love and married. She graduated in 1960 with a Bachelor's degree in Psychology and continued her education with a Master's degree in Social Work. Calvin and Charlene relocated to Murfreesboro, North Carolina in 1962 where Calvin began teaching History. While completing her Master's degree, Charlene served as a social worker in the Tarheel State. In 1971, after Calvin completed his Ph.D. at UNC Chapel Hill, the Dickinson's moved to Cookeville where he accepted a tenure track position at Tennessee Tech. Charlene briefly taught introductory classes in Sociology.

After two years at Tech, she resigned her position to pursue her love of cooking via the culinary arts. She owned and operated two restaurants and a highly successful catering service. Her first establishment was the Backdoor Restaurant. The next was The Cellar with its accompanying watering hole, The Vault. Her catering career provided food for numerous weddings, receptions, special occasions, fund-raisers and many more events for over thirty years.

During their adult lives, Charlene and Calvin cultivated a multitude of close friends and acquaintances who shared their love of world travel, fine food, and exploring cultural experiences new to them. They cherished those adventures and created special life-long memories. They made annual pilgrimages to Charleston, South Carolina, Miami, Florida, and Maine to celebrate Christmas with the family.

Charlene was an avid reader and an active writer. She appreciated the written word, and was rightfully proud of an essay she published about the lives of animals. Her hobbies included gardening both vegetables and flowers; decorating- both formal and informal; and entertaining guests in her home. Charlene was a legendary and fabulous hostess.

Charlene and Calvin attended the First United Methodist Church regularly. She relished singing in the choir and was honored to be an occasional soloist. A philanthropist, Charlene routinely volunteered her time to assist at the Methodist Church's Food pantry. An active member of numerous clubs, Charlene enjoyed participating in Town and Gown, the Cookeville's Readers Club and the Cookeville Gardening Club.

A devoted animal lover Charlene dedicated untold hours to improving the welfare of her four-footed friends. She enthusiastically supported the Putnam County Animal Shelter. Beginning in 2005 Charlene supported an annual "Hat Party," on the same day as the Kentucky Derby. She used the event to raise funds for the shelter. Because of her efforts, organizers of the "Fur Ball" showed their appreciation by giving her the "The Golden Bone Award," in 2020.

Her graciousness, love of life and infectious laugh will be sorely missed.

He was born in Groveland, Ill., to the late Frank Frederick and Clara Lavina

Diemer.

Dr. Diemer graduated as valedictorian from St. Paul Bible College with a Th.B in theology in 1949. He then received a B.A. in 1954 from Taylor University in Upland, Ind. He was an ordained Methodist pastor, serving in several Methodist churches and filling in at many other churches in the Upper Cumberland area from 1963-1993. WHITE COUNTY — Authorities spent two long days at the White County scene where Jill Denise Adcock Farley, 41, of Cookeville, was murdered Sunday and there is some indication that a special session of the White County Grand Jury could be called to meet on the crime soon.

Authorities have a male suspect they say likely committed the crime in custody, but the identity of that person has not been released yet.

The incident occurred Sunday evening at a Dollar General store near the Old Kentucky Road exit on Highway 111. Reports indicate Farley was in a vehicle parked in front of the store when an altercation ensued and she was struck in the head. Farley was brought to Cookeville Regional Medical Center where she passed away from the head injury.

District Attorney General Randall York said the White County Sheriff's Department along with the Sparta police has worked tirelessly since Sunday to determine what exactly occurred, spending two full days and working into the night at the scene. Detectives have yet to release many details about the case, but say an update could be coming soon.

Herald Citizen Newspaper, Cookeville, TN: 12 February 2014

Two indicted for Sunday murder

PUTNAM COUNTY — Two people have been indicted for the Sunday murder of Jill Adcock Farley, 41, of Cookeville.

Brian Anthony Logan, also known as Allyn Marcial Hodges, Jr., and Miranda Michele Brown, of Sparta, were indicted on charges of first degree murder, felony murder and aggravated robbery by the White County Grand Jury, which meet in special session Wednesday morning.

On Sunday, Farley had gone to the store with another individual and was parked outside. Her companion went into the store and was shopping when an altercation ensued inside the vehicle and Farley was struck in the head.

She was taken to Cookeville Regional Medical Center where she died from her injuries.

According to the indictments for Logan and Brown, the two did "unlawfully, intentionally and with premeditation kill Jill Farley, constituting the offense of first degree murder," did "unlawfully and knowingly inflict fatal injuries upon Jill Farley during an attempted perpetration of aggravated robbery and said injuries did cause the death of (Farley), constituting the offense of felony murder;" and "did take from the person of (Farley) certain personal property by violence."

Through a joint investigation by the White County Sheriff's Department, the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation, the District Attorney's office and the Sparta city police, the suspects were apprehended a few hours later and have been held in custody since.

Authorities said they could not reveal the weapon used to strick Farley or what the two took from her, but did say that one of the suspects did know Farley previously.

Ara Ethel (Grogan) Farley Obt. buried in Cookeville City Cemetery.

Larry Glen Farley, 71 of Cookeville, Tennessee passed from this life on Sunday, September 24, 2023, at Vanderbilt University Medical Center in Nashville, Tennessee.

Larry was born Wednesday, August 27, 1952, in Cookeville, Tennessee, and he was the son of the late David Lee Farley and the late Ara Ethel (Grogan) Farley.

Larry owned Farley Masonry Company of Cookeville for many years and was instrumental in building a large number of residential and commercial buildings in and around the Cookeville area still in existence today.

Larry always took pride in being a perfectionist when it came to building anything and he loved helping people achieve their construction goals.

As Larry's health declined, he would not admit defeat and became just as enthusiastic about a spray foam insulation business he later began. This again was started out of a love to help others.

Larry was an avid fisherman and hunter his entire life until his health would not allow him to do what he loved so much. He was a professional bass fisherman and won many tournaments throughout his life. Larry has a collection of deer and turkey mounts that would make any big game hunter envious as he knew all the habits of wild deer and turkey. Center Hill Lake was his second home and many other fishermen came to him for information on where the best spots to fish were.

Larry learned the importance of loving and forgiving as the Bible instructed and as a late-in-life Christian, he loved the Lord and his family unconditionally. His hard work throughout his entire life meant that his family was always provided for. He was a member of the Willow Avenue Church of Christ.

Larry is survived by his loving wife of 52 years, Debbie (King) Farley, daughter, Tracy Farley, and son, Chris Farley, brother, Ronald Farley, and his wife Nancy, and several nieces, nephews, and cousins.

In addition to his parents, Larry was preceded in death by, Daughter-In-Law, Jill Farley, and Father and Mother-In-Law Nelson and Madeline King.

All of his long-time fishing buddies are honorary pallbearers. His friends and family will serve as pallbearers.

In lieu of flowers, the family asks that donations be made to Willow Avenue Church of Christ Meals on Wheels or a favorite charity.

NOTE: The Rev. Donald H. Feick, 93, of Hermitage, Tenn., died Thursday, Jan. 9, 2014. A retired Episcopal priest, Fr. Feick lived a life dedicated to serving God, country, and community.

He was born Aug. 4, 1920, in Avalon, Pa., the son of Harry W. and Pearl H. Feick. He studied economics at Grove City College and later for the ministry at University of the South.

Fr. Feick served in the U.S. Air Force, European theater, in World War II. Subsequently, he was a Foreign Service officer in the U.S. State Department in Germany's reconstruction.

As a priest, Fr. Feick served churches in Newport, Pa.; Mount Joy, Pa.; Smyrna, Del.; Coudersport, Pa.; and Chambersburg, Pa. In retirement, he served in interim and part time roles in Waynesboro, Pa.; Coshocton, Ohio; and Rugby, Tenn. He served on and chaired numerous committees, and was Chairman of the Armed Forces Division and on the Executive Councils for the Harrisburg, Pa., and Delaware dioceses.

Active in his community, he chaired the Franklin County Migrant Ministry program and served as chaplain to the Retired Officers Association of Chambersburg and Fairfield Glade, Tenn., the Delaware State Police, Blue Lodge and Consistory in Coudersport, VFW, American Legion, Air Force Association, and National Sojourners; he was Grand Chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania. He served on the boards of Shippensburg Home, Chambersburg Insight, and Meals on Wheels. He was active in the Lions Club, Rotary, and Exchange Club.

He was known for his abiding interest in people. Always eager to learn about their lives, he struck up conversations with visitors to his congregations but also with gas station attendants, cashiers, and people he would see only once. Even in his last hours, he displayed his natural concern by getting to know the hospital nursing staff and introducing them when visitors came to see him.

During the war, Fr. Feick met Evelyn Joan Johnson of London, England. They married in 1945; Mrs. Feick passed away in 1988. Fr. Feick married Geraldine Stansberry in 1989. She survives him, as do his son, Lawrence Feick of Pittsburgh, his daughters Alison Feick-Beattie and Kimberley Steenstra of COOKEVILLE — Jean (Greene) Massa Fields, 90, of Millington, Tennessee, passed from this life Monday, April 6, 2020, at Baptist Reynolds Hospice House in Collierville, Tennessee.

She was born Tuesday, May 21, 1929, in Baxter, Tennessee. She was the daughter of the late Charles and Esther (Henson) Greene.

Jean was named after Jean Marie Faircloth MacArthur. She attended and taught at Baxter Seminary along with husband, Elmer Massa, later administrative assistant at Upper Cumberland. Motivated ambition in Jean's early teens positioned her to be a private secretary to Dr. Harry L. Upperman and she continued her shorthand dictation into her later years. Jean also worked at Kemper Insurance in Chicago. Residing in Carthage, Tennessee, led to working for the Smith County Board of Education and teaching continuing education. Her drive and work ethic proved successful in her becoming the first comptroller for HCA under Dr. Frist. Jean later married W.E. Fields, Lt. Col. in the Air Force. Jean was a dedicated member of the Church of Christ.

Her gift of love was reflected by her many cherished friends, and her motto was keep on keeping on and never, never, never, give up.

"You lived your life always thinking of others. You put others first with kindness, generosity and love. You passed from this life as you lived it 'not wanting to be a burden.' For the thousandth time, you were never a burden yet you carried many burdens for others. We all have been blessed, warmed by God's Light luminating through you and permeating our souls. Thank you blessed mother," lovingly, Melanie.

Jean is survived by one daughter and son-in-law, Melanie (Massa) Shoemaker and husband, Dr. O'Farrell Shoemaker of Millington; one son and daughter-in-law, Daniel Greene Massa and wife, Susanne of Cookeville, Tennessee; grandchildren, Dr. Cecile Shoemaker Churinetz of Denver, Colorado, James O'Farrell Shoemaker II, Millington and Daniel Scott Massa of Mount Juliet, Tennessee; great-grandchildren, Chloe Churinetz of Denver, Colorado, Forrest and Augusta Massa of Mount Juliet; one sister, Betty Ann Gonzales of Smyrna, Tennessee; nephews, David Hayes, retired Tennessee Appellate Court Judge of Union City, Tennessee, Dennis Hayes of Jackson, Tennessee, Gregory Gonzales, Commissioner of the Tennessee Department of Financial Institutions of Smyrna, Tennessee, and Christopher E. Greene of Franklin, Tennessee.

In addition to her parents, Jean was preceded in death by her first husband, Elmer Massa; second husband, W.E. Fields; two sisters, Ruth Mynatt and Marguerite Hayes; and one brother, Charles Greene.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Baptist Reynolds Hospice House at 1520 W. Poplar Ave., Collierville, TN 38017.

She then earned her license as a psychological examiner in clinical psychology.

Mrs. Finnell began her professional career at Tennessee Tech and Cumberland University, holding faculty and counseling positions. In 1987, she established the Therapeutic Behavior Center in Cookeville. In her private practice, she guided hundreds of clients through the crises of their lives, counseling individuals and groups in personal difficulties ranging from substance abuse to marital problems. Mrs. Finnell's special interest, and the focus of many of her public and private efforts, was guiding women through the unique problems they face as the role of women in our society and culture changes dramatically. She believed strongly that each person that she met had great value, and she worked to impart that belief to each client. Her activities with local industries and clubs were designed to empower each of us to have a safe, happy, productive, and fulfilling life.

COOKEVILLE -- Funeral services for Dr. William Sherman Finnell Jr., will be held Saturday, Dec. 13, at 10 a.m. from the chapel of Crest Lawn Funeral Home.

Mr. Finnell

Burial will be in Veterans Memorial Gardens of Crest Lawn Memorial Cemetery.

Family will receive friends Friday, Dec. 12, from 4-7 p.m. at the funeral home.

Dr. Finnell was born May 25, 1925, in Fayette County, Ky., to the late William Sherman and Gertrude Sears Finnell, and grew up in that area. Dr. Finnell left high school in 1943 to begin pilot training in the Army Air Force and thus began his adult life that included a variety of careers in service to his God, his family, his country and his community.

After two years of military service, he returned to Lexington, Ky, to resume a career with the Lexington-Herald Leader newspaper. In the mid-1950s, he joined the staff of his home church, Grace Baptist Church, as minister of education while earning a baccalaureate degree from Georgetown College in Kentucky. During the years ahead he would become one of those high school drop-outs who over-compensated in the education field, earning a bachelor's degree, two master's degrees and a doctorate degree in education.

Upon graduation from Georgetown, he moved to Dallas, Texas, and served on the staff of Ross Avenue Baptist Church while completing a master's degree from Southwestern Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth, Texas. After serving on church staffs at First Baptist Church in Vicksburg, Miss., Calvary Baptist Church in Tupelo, Miss., and Daniel Memorial Baptist Church in Jackson, Miss., he began work on a doctor's degree at the University of Memphis.

Completing his doctorate in 1972, he accepted a position of Associate Dean of Student Services and Assistant Professor of Higher Education at Tennessee Tech, beginning his productive years of service to the Cookeville area. Several noteworthy programs were created at Tech under his direction, including the installation of an Omicron Delta Kappa (ODK) Honor Society, a student-led freshman orientation plan and an academic course in the College of Education on "Leadership." Dr. Finnell spent many hours guiding his students as they developed leadership skills in preparation for their years in industry and public service.

In 1982, Dr. Finnell switched his career goals to the financial world and built a small financial services practice in Cookeville from an initial $260,000 to $31 million, guiding his clients in securing their financial future. His work earned him many honors and awards.

Dr. Finnell was widely published in secular and religious periodicals and journals. He is listed in "Leaders of Education" (5th edition) and "Who's Who in the South and Southwest" (16th edition).

During his years in Cookeville, Dr. Finnell was a member of First Baptist Church, American Legion, Cookeville Noonday Rotary Club, a past member of the Putnam Board of Directors of the American Cancer Society and served as Tennessee Director of US TOO! International Prostate Cancer Education and Support Organization. US TOO! works with prostate cancer survivors, their spouses and families as they wend their way through the treatments and ravages, the ups and downs of the disease, which Dr. Finnell fought from 1991 until his death. His work with US TOO! was honored in 2005 by the inauguration of the William S. Finnell Award to be given annually to the person or group whose work is deemed most valuable during the year for aiding in education about prostate cancer and in the support of patients and their families who are afflicted.

His own family, however, was his highest concern and he loved them second only to his love of God. His love for his family was always evident, and his insatiable curiosity covered a wide range of topics pertinent to his children and grandchildren. He never lost his love of learning, and a family gathering always included conversations with him regarding anything from politics to how cell phones work, always providing an engaging evening. He inspired his children and grandchildren to think for themselves and to learn everything they could about the world around them, believing that an active, engaged mind is the basis for wisdom and happiness.

His family includes a daughter and son-in-law, JoAnne and Art Peters of Dayton, Ohio; a son and daughter-in-law, Dr. David and Linda Finnell; two stepsons and daughters-in-law, Barry and Sandra Spearman of Monterey and David and Jeannette Spearman of Tupelo, Miss.; five grandchildren, Shane Finnell and wife Angela of Batesburg, S.C., Nathan Finnell and wife Mindy of Columbia, S.C., Amber Spencer, Blake Spearman and wife Suzanne and Christina Spearman, all of Tupelo; a brother and sister-in-law, Logan and Joann Finnell; a sister, Nancy Oliver of Lexington; two nephews, Ron Oliver and wife Cheri of Tarpon Springs, Fla., and Timothy Finnell and wife Ophelia of Lexington; three nieces, Rosanne Smither and husband Mark and Lisa Finnell, all of Lexington, and Linda Dunaway and husband Bobby of Wilmore, Ky.; and several great-grandchildren.

In addition to his parents, Dr. Finnell was preceded in death by two brothers, Wesley Finnell of Lexington and Julian Finnell of Louisville, Ky., and his beloved wife, Sara.

Pastor Randy Adkisson and Bro. Charlie Hutchinson of Cookeville First Baptist will officiate at the services.

Helen was my grandma. She was kind, loving, talented, and strong. She was a wonderful cook and seamstress and did lots of types of needlework. She also maintained optimism and a cheerful mood even through difficulties, and she worked hard her whole life.

Helen lost her newborn baby sister and her mother within about 2 weeks when she was eight years old. After completing 8th grade, she started working to help the family, as was common for farm families in those days.

In 1928, while working as an inspector at a hosiery factory in Milwaukee, she married Walter Fischer. He was the love of her life and she of his. Together, they made it through the Depression (just after he got his college degree). They raised a wonderful daughter, JoAnn.

Employment was a struggle during the Depression, but in 1940, Walter got a job with the US Government in the Panama Canal Zone. They lived there for 25 years, until he retired.

After Walter died in 1973, Helen enjoyed her daughter and son-in-law and granddaughters - but on some level, she was just waiting to be with him again. In December 1987, she finally went to be with him.

Walter was my grandpa. And he was practically perfect! He was sweet, funny, smart, athletic, and musically talented.

Born on July 4, he was the eldest son of German immigrants to Milwaukee. After completing a teacher's certificate in Milwaukee, he earned a Bachelor's degree from the University of Chicago and a Master's Degree from Columbia University.

He married Helen Behnke in 1928, just before moving to New York. They were married for 45 years before he died, and even then, I remember he would always hug her or wink at her whenever he came into a room where she was. I've never seen another couple so devoted.

The Depression began just after Walter got his Master's Degree, and he went back to teaching for a few years until he could get a job as a chemist at DuPont. His salary went down instead of up, and at one point he even tried selling vacuum cleaners.

However, in 1940, their economic luck turned, and Walter got a job teaching chemistry in the Panama Canal Zone. They lived there for 25 years, until he retired, and their daughter JoAnn was mostly raised there.

In addition to teaching and chemistry, Walter played violin beautifully (and gave lessons), spoke German, and was a champion track and field athlete as a young man. He also gardened and collected stamps after retirement, sang in his church choir, and acted as church treasurer. He was a man who was always interested in lots of things, and lots of people. He loved to joke and play cards. His wife and daughter and her family were central to him, and after retirement, he and Helen moved to Tennessee to live near JoAnn. We were so lucky to have him.

Mrs. Vivian “LaVerne” Floyd, age 82 of Cookeville was born Thursday November 28, 1935 in Durant, Oklahoma to the late Marvin and Johnnie Pruit Baldwin.

Laverne attended elementary schools in Oklahoma and Texas and graduated from Paoli, Oklahoma High School.

She then studied Medical Technology at East Central College in Ada, Oklahoma, where she met her future husband, Joe M. Floyd.

The couple moved to Stillwater, OK so Joe could attend graduate school at Oklahoma State University.

In Stillwater their first child, Joe Michael Floyd, was born and Joe graduated from Oklahoma State. After graduation, the couple moved to Ada where Joe taught in the City School System.

While in Ada, they had their second child, Cindy Kay Floyd Hill, and LaVerne completed her undergraduate education, receiving her Bachelor of Science Degrees in both Medical Technology and Education. She was later certified as a Medical Technologist by the American Society of Clinical Pathologists.

LaVerne moved with her family to Navasota, Texas where Joe enrolled in the graduate school in the College of Engineering Department of Industrial Technology. LaVerne taught at the Navasota Elementary School and worked in the evenings at the local hospital. The arrangement lasted for two years.

When Joe completed his course work, they decided to move to Cookeville, where he was employed at Tennessee Tech University Department of Industrial Technology. After two years of teaching at Tech Campus school, LaVerne had the opportunity to teach within her field of major interest, Medical Technology. After a few years of teaching, she had the opportunity to purchase the school, which was a division of the International Clinical Laboratories. The school had been started to provide Medical Lab Technicians for the rural hospitals in Tennessee and Kentucky. After becoming the sole owner of the school, the name was changed to Cumberland School of Technology to enable additional programs such as Medical Secretary and Business and Computer Education. During the early period of ownership, LaVerne obtained affiliation with seven universities in Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia and others. Her school provided the fourth year of clinical education to meet the requirements of graduation from the universities that granted the B.S. Degree in Medical Technology. A school of Computer Education was planned in Oak Ridge, Tennessee and was her first venture outside of Cookeville.

She was invited by a major lab company to establish a school for Medical Technology in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. The school was successful and during the same period of time, LaVerne had an opportunity to purchase Middle Tennessee School of Cosmetology. She later sold an interest in the Cosmetology School and it was moved to Atlanta.

The reputation of the Medical Technology School grew and LaVerne had the opportunity to sell the school. The Cookeville and Baton Rouge locations were renamed Medvance. LaVerne continued as an employee for a short period of time and continued to work as a Medical Tech Consultant. She also purchased several commercial and residential properties and established a family-owned business, Floyd Properties. She managed these properties successfully until her death.

She will be long remembered as a true champion for the field of Medical Technology and as an advocate for students.

In addition to her parent, she was preceded in death by a sister, Marlene Meyers.

She is survived by her husband, Joe Floyd, son, J. Michael Floyd, and daughter, Cindy Hill all of Cookeville; three brothers, J.M. Resident Dies Of Heart Attack At Primary Polls:

A Cookeville resident died Saturday of a heart attack following a dispute at the Tech Training district election precinct. The dispute reportedly arose when an election official at the Seventh Stree precinct would not permit Alfred "Alf" T. Foutch, 61, mark the ballot for a Negro employee.

Officials of the Democratic primary election in the precinct said that Foutch came to the voting place with Dewey Langord, Negro, so that Foutch could mark the ballot of Langford, who could not read and write.

Joel Qualls, one of the election judges in the precinct, said there was a brief discussion and "Mr. Foutch and Dewey left without the Negro voting."

Foutch reportedly was stricken shortly afterwards while in his automobile talking to a friend. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Cookeville General hospital.

Qualls said that under the oath of the officials "we (the officials are required to mark the ballots of those persons not able to read and write. We would have been glad to have voted him (Lanford).

Foutch had been associated with the meat packing business in Cookeville since 1916. For the past few years, he had been the buyer and manager of the slaughter department of the J. J. Foutch and Son packing firm.

He was a veteran of World War I, a member of the American Legion, and the Baptist church.

Funeral services were at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Hooper and Huddleston funeral home, with the Rev. C. D. Sallee officiating. Burial was in Crest Lawn Memorial cemetery.

THIEVES TAKE CROSS FROM COOKEVILLE MAN'S GRAVE

Mary Jo Denton

Herald-Citizen Staff

Sue Frazier misses her late husband, Charles, terribly, and she has found some comfort in seeing the light from a cross she had placed on his grave marker.

Now, a thief has stolen the cross, which is valued at $500, and has taken away some of her comfort.

It makes her sad and "disheartened" to know that someone would steal from a grave, she said.

It happened at Crestlawn Cemetery on Buffalo Valley Road on the night of Aug. 2, says a report by Cookeville Police Officer Paul Roberts.

The cross was on the grave marker of Charles Frazier, the report says.

It was permanently attached to the grave marker, and when the thief removed it, the marker was damaged, and total loss and damage is estimated at $500, the report says.

Other items on other graves were removed and damaged around the same time, and a police investigation is underway.

Meanwhile, Sue Frazier has lost some of the comfort she had found in being able to look at her husband's grave and see the light from the cross when she goes by.

Frazier, who was a veteran Cookeville firefighter, died three years ago after suffering a heart attack. He was just a few months away from retirement at the time of his death.

"That's twice now that something has been stolen off his grave," Sue Frazier said.

"I had a candle there that would stay lit for up to seven days, and somebody stole it. I replaced it. And other candles have been stolen off graves there too."

She said the cross which was stolen, called an "eternal light," was attached to the top of the grave marker.

"I could see it at night when I passed by, and to me, that was comforting. It makes me sad to know somebody would steal it."

Detective Sgt. James Lane is investigating the theft.

Hi there, I am a GGNephew to Dasdimonial Crowder Garrison. Her brother Arter Pea Crowder was my GGFather. This marker appears to be newer than the deathdate would indicate and after looking at the death certificate, I think the marker may have been replaced at some point and inaccurate information was used to get a replacement marker. Her actual date of death from the certificate is 24 Dec 1949 which is two years and a day further in the future from the actual inscription on her marker. Not a huge deal but people are using this inaccurate info on Ancestry and I wonder if there is a way to note the memorial here so folks could see there is a discrepancy. Thanks so much for your time and also for doing the memorial in the first place! By Dave Griffiths - findagrave
