Cookeville, Putnam Co., TN

Located on Holladay Road about ½ mile southwest off Buffalo Valley Road.

GPS Coordinates: Latitude: 36.15073, Longitude: -85.53833

<http://www.ajlambert.com>

The church is no longer standing as of 1999, but the cemetery is still being used. It was deeded to the trustees in 1885, and thought to be on or very near the original homestead of Rev Nathan Jackson Judd and his wife Rebecca Nancy Grime, as he owned the land he is buried on.

The oldest marked grave is that of one of their sons who died in 1861. There are more than 100 graves that have no legible stone or are marked with a small stone with no lettering.

The decoration is the 4th Sunday in May and is kept up with donations from people with relatives buried there.

10-year-old identified as shooting victim

By Paige Stanage

A 10-year-old boy has been identified as the shooting victim from Saturday.

Ian Austin is the victim, according to Putnam County Sheriff Eddie Farris.

Thirteenth Judicial District Attorney Bryant Dunaway said detectives have been working on the case since the weekend to find out what happened.

"We're still mulling through it," Dunaway said of the investigation into the boy's shooting death. "I've got to make a hard decision. We believe it was probably self-inflicted. It's a tough call."

Austin was a fourth grader at Cane Creek Elementary School, according to Putnam County Schools Director Jerry Boyd.

"We have counselors at Cane Creek to help those students and teachers cope with the loss of their student and friend," Boyd said. "We want to keep Ian's family in all of our thoughts and prayers."

Funeral services will be at 6 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 12, at the Edge facility at Life Church.

A gofundme account has been created by Edward Davis to cover funeral expenses.

Davis wrote a statement about Austin and his family.

"Ian was 10 years old and full of life. He was an amazing kid. He played football, rode four wheelers, grew up with my kids and a lot of our friends kids. We've pretty much been a big family," Davis wrote. "It breaks our heart what happened. Please everyone keep Jamie (Austin) and his family and everyone affected by the tragedy today (in your thoughts and prayers)."

As of press time Tuesday, more than $3,400 had been raised for Austin's funeral expenses.

Merchant For Many Years; One of Putnam County's Two Surviving Confederate Soldiers:

George W. Judd was born near Cookeville, on January 10, 1845, and died at his residence in this city, on Tuesday, April 7th, being almost three months past 91 years of age.

He serviced throughout the Civil War as a Confederate soldier, volunteering before he was seventeen years of age. He belonged to the 8th Tennessee Cavalry. He was a gallant soldier and was ever devoted to the memory of the Southern cause and its heroes.

In his young manhood he entered the mercantile business, and, for about forty years, conducted stores at different points in this county. He was for many years one of the best known and most successful rural merchants of this county.

He was twice married, first to Miss Mollie Brown, a daughter of Isaac Brown, a well-known pioneer resident of this community. After her death he married Miss Celia Ann Pendergrass, who survives him. He is also survived by twelve sons and daughters, as follows:

James D. Judd of Sherman, TX, I. P. Judd of Cookeville, Elmore D. Judd of Saylor, OK, Leslie M. Judd of Birmingham, AL. The four above named being the sons of his first marriage, and the following continued on Back Page.....eight being the children of his second marriage: Lewis Judd of Alexis, OK, Mrs. W. L. Steakley, Coalings, CA, R. R. Judd, Mrs. B. Fox, W. H. Judd, Mrs. T. H. Jackson and E. W. Judd of Cookeville and Freeling Judd of Coalings, CA.

Mr. Judd was a man of strict integrity, who, throughout the long years of his career as a merchant and business man, always enjoyed the confidence and esteem of all who knew him. He was a man of great kindness of heart, and was ever ready to lend a helping hand to those in trouble or need.

He had been a member of the Free Will Baptist Church for many years, holding membership with the Post Oak Free Will Baptist Church in the Seventh district.

Funeral services were conducted at the family residence Wednesday afternoon, by the Rev. Sam Edwards and the Rev. D. A. Ensor. Burial was in the Judd cemetery, three miles South-west of Cookeville.

He was the great-grandson of two Revolutionary War heroes: Abraham Kuykendall and Frederick Hambricht. He was the brother of Sarah, Jesse Isaac, Jacob, Ezekial (executed by the Confederacy 14Feb1865), George W, Thomas Massengill, William Alfred, John Allen, and Margaret. To quote his brother, Thomas, Jahu was the "wild boy of the flock".

He enlisted into the 16th NC Infantry in 1862. During the Seven Day's Battle, his brother Alfred was wounded on 26 Jun 1862 at Beaver Dam Creek, and the next day Jahu was wounded at Gaines Mill, and had to recover at the hospital in Richmond.

They participated in the Battle of Cedar Mountain and Second Bull Run. During the summer of 1863, both Alfred and Jahu were listed as deserters, and recruited into the 2nd NC Mounted Infantry (Union). Several of his other brothers also fought on both sides, with the exception of John Allen Kuykendall, who remained in the Confederate Army until the end of the war. This family's Civil War experiences truly illustrated the phrase: "brother against brother".

Jahu moved to Tennessee soon after the war leaving behind (in NC) an infant daughter, Rebecca, and her mother.

She reflected a faith-filled heart, and lived every day with a loving and humble spirit that drew people to her.

Misty is survived by her loving family, including her husband of 19 years, Paul LaGod; children, Grayson Kai and Arabella Sky; her mother, MJ and step-father, Steven Lusk; her brother, Kris Lusk and his wife Amanda; her niece, Marley Rose Lusk; her great uncle, Roy Patterson and his wife Brenda; her Aunt, Lola Hullett and her husband Steve; and numerous cousins and extended family members who will miss her dearly.

Barbara Ann Fisher Nabors reached her heavenly home on Monday, April 19. Surrounded by her loving family, "Barb" passed peacefully from her earthly home in Cookeville into the arms of Jesus following a 30-year battle with multiple sclerosis. She was 80 years old.

Born to Beatrice and Harvey Fisher on September 4th, 1940, Barb became a gift to the world. Her beautiful smile and infectious laughter and love of the Lord drew people to her, including her devoted husband of 59 years, Charles Nabors, who swept her off her feet and married her on December 23, 1961. Their life together was the ultimate love story. Together, they had two children and three wonderful grandchildren, who adored their Mimi.

Anyone who knew Barbara would say there was literally nothing she could not do. Barb was a continuous learner with a diverse skillset. An avid tennis player, aerobics teacher, water sports enthusiast, gifted artist, musician, seamstress, antique collector and successful real estate agent, her active lifestyle was cut short by her incurable illness at the age of 50, but through it all, she rarely complained or lost her joy for life. She had every reason to be angry and bitter, but instead of giving up, the weaker she became, the stronger her resolve grew to love much, live well and laugh often. She has been an amazing source of strength and inspiration to all who knew her!

Barb, also known as Mommy, Mimi, Ba-Ba-Bar-Ann, Country Girl and the Wild Woman of Tennessee, is survived by her adoring husband, Charles, children – Karen Stone (Dennis) of Nashville and Chuck Nabors (PJ) of Maryville, grandchildren – Connor Stone, Rachel Stone and April Joy Nabors, sister – Sue Ragland

(Charles) of Gainesboro, brother – Bill Fisher of Cookeville. She was preceded in death by her mother and father, sister – Reba Messina of Detroit and brother – Harvey "Bud" Fisher of Tucson.

A celebration of life is planned for 11:00 am on April 23, 2021 at Crest Lawn Funeral Home in Cookeville. The family will host a visitation at Crest Lawn on Thursday, April 22 from 4:00-8:00 PM and again on Friday from 10:00-11:00. Interment will follow in the Judd Church Cemetery.

Master aviator, LTC Charles “Chuck” Nabors, completed his ultimate flight plan to heaven on Thursday, December 21, 2023. Surrounded by his children, Charles soared high above the clouds and peacefully slipped the surly bonds of earth where neither lark nor eagle has flown and touched the face of God. Reunited with his true love, his parents, brother and many other Saints, Christmas with his Savior was, without a doubt, the greatest gift of the season.

Born to Harvey and Lura Nabors on September 26, 1941 in Bradenton, Florida, Charles lived a wonderful life and became a beacon of light to the world. His adventurous spirit, incredible sense of humor and love of the Lord brought joy and redemption to countless people. Charles never met a stranger and was always ready to lend a hand whether he knew you or not. His generosity was known near and far, and in his 82 years on this earth, he gave much more than he received. In fact, his children often called him the George Bailey of Cookeville for he was truly the richest man in town, not because of what he had but what he gave.

Charles was an accomplished pilot and commanding officer in the Tennessee Army National Guard for more than 40 years, a successful businessman who owned Chuck’s Shop Rite grocery store in Algood for 12 years and a general contractor who built the dream homes of many in the Cookeville area. After retiring from the Guard, he became an EMS pilot for UT Medical Center and for Erlanger Hospital where he saved dozens of lives and won three Star of Life Awards.

Charles had a hard time sitting still and often ran on adrenaline. He loved fast cars, motorcycles, airplanes, boats and anything else with a motor. He enjoyed a good challenge and lived his life with purpose and intention while still focusing much of his attention on his beautiful wife, Barbara, as she fought a 30-year battle with multiple sclerosis. Charles became the ultimate caregiver, researching her needs and sparing no expense to provide the support she needed to live comfortably at home. He even built an ADA compliant home of her dreams, going above and beyond to ensure her happiness in the final years of her life.

Charles, also known as Daddy, Papaw, Colonel, Chuck and Charlie, was preceded in death by his adoring wife of 59 years, Barbara Nabors, his mother and father Harvey and Lura Nabors and his brother Terry Nabors. He is survived by his spouse, Loretta Nabors, his children – Chuck Nabors (PJ) of Maryville, Karen Stone (Dennis) of Nashville and grandchildren – Connor Stone (Paige), Rachel Stone and April Joy Nabors, and his four-month-old great grandson, Waylon Stone, brother James Nabors of Cookeville and numerous relatives in Tennessee, Florida and Arizona.

The family would like to express their sincere appreciation to all who supported Charles throughout his eight-year battle with Interstitial Pulmonary Fibrosis. The family is deeply grateful to the Alive and Upper Cumberland Hospice teams for their incredible care throughout the past year. Special thanks for his beloved caregiver, Beckey Gordon, for her steadfast love and attention in the final months and to Laura Thrower who volunteered her time to support Charles in Nashville during his final weeks of his journey to Heaven.

A celebration of life is planned for 2:00 pm on Wednesday, December 27 at Crest Lawn Funeral Home in Cookeville, 800 Jackson Street. The family will host a visitation at Crest Lawn prior to the service from 11:00-2:00. Burial will be at Judd Cemetery on Holladay Road in Cookeville.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations in Charles' honor to the Vanderbilt's Lung Institute where Charles contributed to clinical trials to help others suffering from Interstitial Pulmonary Fibrosis.
