William Claud was born in 1899 to Robert Mansfield Garrison and Ruth Angeline Maynard. He was raised on a farm and learned to work hard.

My mother, Dorsa Garrison Law, dearly loved her brother Claud. When he went away to WWI and left a shoe print in the snow, she covered it with a box and went to see it every day until the snow melted.

William Claud Garrison married Beatrice Fairfax Hart 14 Dec 1919 in Baltimore, Maryland. She was an accomplished and educated woman and set a good example for my mother, who loved her very much. She was, in fact, beloved by my mother and it saddened the whole family when she died at 29 years of age (January 1925) leaving a grieving husband and a little son, William Hart Garrison.

Claud remarried 18 Sept 1925 to Dimple Serene Denny and one year later they had a daughter, Ada Ruth.

Claud died of a heart attack while tending to his farm duties in 1969. He was and is a sweet, kind soul!

Mrs. Emma Maxwell West, 25, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Virgil Maxwell of the 16th district, may have heard her own funeral sermon Monday afternoon, and there might be a possibility that she was buried alive Tuesday morning.

She died at the home of her parents late Sunday night. It was said here that Mrs. West took poison to 'get away from continual arguments' in which her family participated.

Mrs. West was prepared for burial and funeral services were being conducted by the Rev J H Roberson. Rev Roberson said that Mrs. West was not dead when services were being conducted. Just before burial was to take place, Mrs West's casket was opened to give relatives and friends a last look at her remains.

Mrs. West's hand was seen to turn over and a slight shift was noted in her body.

Her pulse was still beating, and Dr J M Wheeler, notified of the incident, advised the return of Mrs West to her home to await further developments. Her body was warm, witnesses said, and Rev Roberson declared that her flesh was pliant, just as any live person's.

She was returned to her parents home and final rites were conducted at 10 a.m. Tuesday morning when burial took place.

Lying in a stupor, or perhaps in a state of semi-consciousness, it was possible that Mrs West heard her funeral services, although no scientific theory has been applied to her case. Residents of the neighborhood were moved by the incident, which has attracted much comment there.

It was said that while her body was being prepared for burial, both her eyes opened and showed the light of life. They were closed.

Boyd Carrington, employee of the Ideal Grocery here, said he did not believe Mrs West committed suicide. Mrs West was Carrington's cook for 20 months. Carrington said she went home Christmas Eve and that she had influenza. "She had flu and drank too much paregoric", he said.

Putnam County Herald January 12, 1933

Virgil Maxwell, father of Mrs. Emma Maxwell West, who was reported in the Herald last Thursday as having committed suicide 'because of family arguments' has denied that his daughter ever took an intentional overdose of poison and that his family indulged in no such arguments.

Mr. Maxwell said there 'was no truth' to the statement that she committed suicide and that every word of their having family trouble is false. He said, however, that she did leave a note which read as follows: "Mama, I have stood it as long as I can. I want you to raise Cloyd. I want to give Irene my coat and new dress and Audrey a part of my clothes. I want you to sing 'Will you Miss Me When I'm Gone?'. Bury me by the side of little sister. I want Brother Roberson to hold my funeral."

Dr Alex Dyer declared that Mrs. West died of yellow jaundice and a nervous breakdown.
