Info provided by J.B. Leftwich

After his discharge from the Union Navy, John Haggard returned to his father's home in Buffalo Valley. Very shortly, on 7 January 1866, he married Mary Elizabeth Crowell, the daughter of Elijah C. and Anna Young Crowell. The Crowell family had suffered greatly during the Civil War. At the beginning of the conflict four of Mary's brothers had entered the Southern army: Maffett, Cass, John, and David. Maffett was murdered while home on leave by Bushwhackers.

John was killed in the Battle of Murfreesboro (Stones River). Cass was wounded during the war, although he recovered and continued in service until the surrender. Elijah, Mary's father, was murdered by Bushwhackers not far from their home. (Elijah was a partner with Joseph McKee in the operation of a gristmill. One of their employees was William Hoggard, John Haggard's father.) John and Mary made Buffalo Valley their home for about two years or so. Their first child, William Maffett, was born there on 25 October 1867. Within the following year they moved to the village of Tracy, Kentucky, in Barren County where John's older brother, James Robert Haggard already resided with his wife and family. Their second child, John Cass, was born there on 9 October 1868. In the 1870 Barren Co. census, John and Mary are listed in Tracy City with their two baby boys. John is credited with $200 worth of personal property, and his occupation is given as a farmer. A few years later James Robert took his family and moved on to Arkansas, but John and Mary moved their family back to Tennessee. However, two more children were born to them while they lived in Tracy City: Annie Frances (on 12 September 1870) and James David (on 2 December 1872).

Upon their return to Tennessee, John and Mary bypassed Buffalo Valley, where the bulk of their kindred still lived, and proceeded southeastward into the Sequatchie Valley of East Tennessee. Settling in Bledsoe County near the village of Dunlap, they apparently remained there for a period of some 8 to 10 years. Three more children were born to them in this location: Martha Sildona (on 7 February 1875), Mary Evelyn (on 11 September 1878), and Daniel Carr (on 1 January 1880). In the 1880 Bledsoe Co. census, John and Mary with their 7 children are recorded in the 9th Civil District. John is noted as being a farmer.

Leaving Bledsoe County, John and Mary moved their family to a location that two of the daughters later identified as "up on the mountain" as opposed to "the foot of the mountain." This seems to indicate someplace on Cumberland Mountain in either Van Buren or Cumberland Counties as opposed to Bledsoe County in the Sequatchie Valley at the foot of Cumberland Mountain. This move was made in the early 1880s, for on 17 May 1883 their eighth child, Parthena Tennessee, was born in this "up on the mountain" home.

After another period of not more than two years they moved again, this time back to their point of origin in Buffalo Valley, after an absence of about 18 years. It was there, on 18 September 1885 that their ninth and last child, Elijah Harmon, was born.

It is possible that Mary suffered an injury, or developed an illness, in association with Elijah's birth. There was a report passed down in the family that she was injured while bringing "a stick of wood" in for the fire. (In Tennessee dialect "a stick of wood" can be anything from small limb to hundred pound backlog.) At any rate Mary died on 24 February 1886 and was buried in the Titefit (Tight Fit) Cemetery near Boma, on the ridge just east of Buffalo Valley. She left John with nine children to keep, ranging in age from 5 months to 18 years.

(May 29, 2001) The Herald-Citizen, Cookeville, TN: 'Way Back When' section: Baxter resident J. C. Maynard told the Herald-Citizen that he was alive today because he skipped breakfast one day. That's because that day was Dec. 7, 1941, at Pearl Harbor. Most of the men who did go down to breakfast that morning died in the bombing by the Japanese.

Maynard went on to serve in the Philippines, Guam and Saipan, building runways and bunkers.

Stewart married 25 November 1983, Putnam Co., TN, age 40, address: 1235 Springdale Dr., Cookeville, TN to Pamela Joann Hyden, age 30, address: Rt. 5, Cookeville, TN. Name of parent, guardian or next of kin of female: Hal Davis, father, Rt. 10, Cookeville, TN).

On July 12th, 2020, Warren G. Stewart, passed away at his residence surrounded by family. He was born December 3, 1942 in Boma, TN to Daniel and Tennie Stewart.

Warren was proud to say he served in the United States Army and that he worked at TUTCO for over 30 years, retiring in the position of Director of Quality Assurance in 2008.

On November 25, 1983, he married Pamela ‘Pam’ Davis. Warren was known for his endearing devotion to his two daughters, Jennifer and Becky, and two sons, Jonathan and Andrew.

Warren was a faithful husband, admiring father, and affectionate grandfather. He sought to teach his children by modeling devotion to Christ, loving unconditionally, dreaming without limits, and living purposefully. Warren’s most notable characteristics were that he embodied strength through silence, persistence, and unrelenting commitment to support those whom he loved. He was a man of few words but was full of passion and wisdom.

Warren enjoyed researching family history, bowling, collecting coins, and being outside working in his yard. While being a bit of a perfectionist, he was never one to boast about himself but delighted in saving photos, articles, and any type of memorabilia to commemorate his wife, children, and grandchildren.

In addition to his parents, Warren was preceded in death by his brothers Issac and Charles; and sisters Margaret and Elberta.

He is survived by his wife Pamela (Davis) Stewart, sisters Barbara (Wesley) Starnes of Cookeville, Emogene Fee of Capac, Michigan; his four children, daughter Jennifer (Bobby) Davis of Cookeville; daughter Becky Jasinski of Cookeville; son Jonathan (Andrea) Stewart of Charles Town, WV; and Andrew (Carolyn) Stewart of Mt. Juliet; eleven grandchildren: Chris (McKenzie) Davis, Emily Davis, Jake, Ben, and Riley Jasinski, Ethan, Austin, Willimina, Kittrina, Kadence, and Harper Stewart.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, July 14, 2020 in the Life Church Edge facility with Pastor Eddie Turner officiating. Interment followed in Tight Fit Cemetery in Boma, TN with military honors rendered by the Veterans Honor Guard.
