As far back as I have been able to go, our lineage starts with Thomas Jarrett who fathered Thomas Jarrell in about the year of 1710. Thomas Jarrell married Martha Kinchin in 1734. They had five children; John Jared, Thomas Jared, Ann Jared Ricks who married Richard Ricks, Elizabeth Jared, and Benjamin Jared.

John Jared was a wagon maker. He was born on June 25, 1737 in Isle of Wight County, Virginia. He married Hannah Witacre on August 8, 1757 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. They had three children; William Jared, Joseph Jared, and Naomi Jared Lovett. Hannah died November 8, 1765. John married Rachel Palmer on August 23, 1767 and they had nine children; Hannah Jared, Ruth Jared, Israel Jared, Rachel Jared, John Jared, Thomas Jared, Elizabeth Jared, Sarah Jared, and Joel Jared.

Thomas Jared was born on September 7, 1776 in Loudoun County, Virginia. In 1783 when Thomas was five years of age, he and his family moved to Bedford County, Virginia. He married Mary "Polly" Adkerson on October 25, 1803 in Bedford County, Virginia. They had eight children; Sophia Jared, John Anslem Jared, a daughter Jared, Marshall Jared, A daughter Jared, Joel Jared, a daughter Jared, and William Lewis Jared. Thomas Jarrett, son of John Jared and Rachel Palmer moved with his father's family when he was five years old to Bedford Co., VA. He grew to manhood in Bedford Co. and there married "Polly" Adkerson, 25 October 1803.

Thomas Jarrett (Jared) was living with the family of Palmer Eliot in 1850 according to census records. He emigrated to Edgar County, IL, after the death of his wife. He became an invalid because of a severe abdominal rupture and was very poor in this world's goods. He had three sons and four daughters. We have not yet been able to find records of all of them. Each daughter married a man of Ability according to a letter written 14 May 1939 by Mrs. Anna M. Jared. They were counted among the first families of Edgar Co. IL.

A letter from Pearl J. High of Cookeville, TN tells us:

In reading some old letters I found where Thomas, brother of William and Joseph, was born in Kentucky. The kin here referred to him as "Old Thomas." He must have been very old. He died while on a visit here.

Since Kentucky was a part of Virginia until 1792 it is possible that Thomas was born in Bedford Co., VA and not in the present state of Kentucky.
