John Franklin "Jack" Dealy Obt.

Former Herald City Editor Jack Dealy Dies at Age 57:

John Franklin "Jack" Dealy, died Monday night at St. Thomas Hospital in Nashville following a short illness. Dealy was a former city editor for The Daily Herald.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. at Oakes and Nichols Funeral Home. Burial will be in Polk Memorial Gardens.

A native of Chicago, IL, Dealy was the son of the late William A. and Myrtle Carey Dealy. On Feb. 14, 1946, he married the former Mary Katherine "Kiyt" Maddux, who survives.

Dealy moved to Nashville in 1934 where he graduated from West High School. In August 1942, he entered the Army-Air Corps as a pilot trainee and was commissioned to second lieutenant in October 1943. He served as a fighter pilot during World War II until November 1945. From November 1945 to April 1953 he was in the U. S. Air Force Reserves.

During this time, he began his newspaper career in Columbia with The Daily Herald in 1946. After gaining his newspaper experience here plus a short turn in radio, he was for several years reporter-photographer for The Nashville Banner and later assistant state editor.

He was appointed captain in the Tennessee Air National Guard in October 1954 where he served as informational officer until May 1958, where he transferred to the Air Force Reserve until June 1963.

During the time of his reserve duty, he was general manager of radio station WJGD in Columbia. He resigned that post to assume the duties of city editor of The Daily Herald, succeeding Richard H. Hines.

In June 1962 Dealy was promoted to major. He returned to Air National Guard in June 1963 as Informational officer for the Tennessee National Guard. In July 1968 he was promoted to lieutenant colonel.

Prior to his retirement from the military in August 1971, he was hired as informational representative for the Military Department for the State of Tennessee in February 1967. He left the state employment in November 1973.

Some of his military awards and decorations include World War II Victory Medal, European-African-Middle Eastern Campaign Medal, American Campaign Medal, Air Force Longevity Service Award and the Armed Forces Reserve Medal in addition to numerous Tennessee National Guard awards and ribbons.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Richard (Diane) Bolton, Columbia; three brothers, James P. Dealy, Point Clear, AL, Robert Dealy, Fair Hope, AL, and William A. Dealy II, Hendersonville, NC; and two grandchildren.
