The 1850 Wilson County, TN census shows all children of George D. Moore and Priscilla Hearne/Hearn/Hern still living at home with their parents except for daughters Nancy Wilson Moore and Aliphain Hearn Moore. Nancy married Joel Algood in 1848, and is living next door to her parents in 1850 census. Alliphain Hearn Moore does not marry Thomas B. Chapman until 30 Dec 1852 in Wilson County - I have yet to find her on 1850 census in another household.

Copied from the Rufus Denny Moore unpublished biography:

Rufus Denny Moore was born in Lebanon, Tennessee May 2, 1832 to George and Pricilla Moore. George was born June 11, 1789 and Pricilla was born July 11, 1799. Rufus Denny was the eighth child of thirteen children born to George and Pricilla.

Martha Lavenia Shipp was born March 15, 1839, also in Lebanon, Tennessee. She and Rufus Denny Moore were married December 28, 1858. In the next twenty years five sons were born to them. Their sons were George Alfred, Robert Meakin, William Davidson, Joseph Ethelbert, and John Reeder.

Robert Meakin was born July 6, 1861. He died very young as the result of a fire, November.8, 1862.

The family left Lebanon, Tennessee and moved to Rockwall, Texas in 1880. Then in 1885 they moved to Jack County, Southwest of Antelope, on Plum Creek. They farmed for a living. Rufus Denny used the Bar X brand on his livestock. The Bar X brand was used by the Moore family down through the years until Doyle Moore retired from ranching in 1985.

Rufus Denny died January 18, 1918. Martha Lavenia died July 13, 1899. They both died at their home on Plum Creek.

George D. Moore's death date was obtained from various internet family trees. The closest I have been able to verify this date is George was no longer on the census records after the 1860 census.

Of George and Priscilla Moore's 13 children:

3 died/buried in Putnam County, Tennessee (Nancy Wilson (Moore) Algood, Drucilla Dickson Moore, William Thomas Moore)

6 died/buried in Texas (Louisa Jane "Jeannie" Moore, Priscilla Malinda (Moore) Norris, Rachel Carline Moore, Rufus Denny Moore, Sarah Eliza (Moore) Chambers, and David Clay/Clary Moore) Research continues on the remaining 4.

Priscilla "Twin" Hearne is the daughter of Thomas Hearne Jr. and Rachel Drewry^[1, 3]. She was born on 11 Jul 1799 in North Carolina^[1, 3]. Census on 14 Oct 1850 in Wilson County, Tennessee (Dist 7 dw1232 f1232 age 51 born NC)^[2]. She died on 29 Mar 1856 in Tennessee^[1].

Notes for Priscilla "Twin" Hearne:

General Notes:

John Hearne and his sister Priscilla married their respective spouses on the same day. The grooms were bondsman for the others marriage. John and Priscilla are children of Thomas Hearne Jr. and Rachel Drewry. There was a large Hearne migration from North Carolina to Wilson County, Tennessee in early 1800. There is a good probability that the Moores knew the Hearnes in North Carolina and were part of this migration. For now, research has shown that George D. Moore was born in North Carolina. William T. Hearne's "Brief History and Genealogy of the Hearne Family" states that John Hearne had a twin brother Ebenezer and Priscilla Hearne had a twin sister Aquilla.

George D. Moore and Priscilla "Twin" Hearne. They were married on 22 Sep 1817 in Wilson County, Tennessee^[4, 5]. They had 13 children.

The old Algood residence was located just West of H. S. White's present residence. It was erected before the Civil War and was purchased shortly after the close of that war by Mrs. Joel Algood, who moved from her farm (the present site of the town of Algood) to that residence, with her daughter and two sons, Alfred and Henry Algood and Mrs. Houston S. Boyd. Mrs. Algood continued to reside at that place with her sister, Miss Jennie Moore, until Mrs. Algood's death in old age.

The old Algood residence was located just West of H. S. White's present residence. It was erected before the Civil War and was purchased shortly after the close of that war by Mrs. Joel Algood, who moved from her farm (the present site of the town of Algood) to that residence, with her daughter and two sons, Alfred and Henry Algood and Mrs. Houston S. Boyd. Mrs. Algood continued to reside at that place with her sister, Miss Jennie Moore, until Mrs. Algood's death in old age.

Joel Algood is the son of William Algood and Elizabeth Unknown. He was born on 25 Jan 1808 in North Carolina [7]. He died on 02 Feb 1861 [7]. Title was Rev.. Burial in Cookeville City Cemetery, Cookeville, Putnam County, Tennessee (Headstone Photo) [7].

Notes for Joel Algood:

General Notes:

Joel Algood and Nancy Wilson Moore married 26 Apr 1848 in Wilson County, TN. They are living next door to Nancy's parents George D. Moore and wife Priscilla on the 1850 census. The 1850 Wilson County census lists living in the household with Joel and Nancy, Julia Algood age 11 b TN; William Algood age 1 b TN; Elizabeth Algood age 82 b VA. William, I believe, is the son of Joel and Nancy as he was born after their marriage. William b 9 Aug 1849, dies in Putnam County 10 Nov 1859 and is buried in Cookeville City Cemetery. Based on the 1830 and 1840 Wilson County census and below listed Wilson County Deeds, Elizabeth Algood is probably Joel's mother and William Algood is probably Joel's father. Julia Algood is the daughter from Joel's first marriage to Julia Patterson. Headstone photo located at www.ajlambert.com shows Bettie Algood with birth date 18 Mar 1839/death date 25 July 1860. In the 1860 Putnam County census, there is a Bettie Algood age 21 in household of Joel and Nancy Algood (same age that Julia Algood from 1850 census would have been). As such, the name of Joel Algood's daughter from his first marriage is either Julia Bettie or Bettie Julia Algood.

Algood was named in honor of the family upon whose lands it was established. Joel Algood built a residence there in 1857 and for many years the spot where the town was laid off was known for miles around as the "Algood old fields." This was a portion of a large tract of land originally entered by Henry McKinney and inherited by his son, James.

Algood, Tennessee - History

While Algood was not established until the late 19th century, in the early 1800s a small community developed just south of modern Algood at White Plains an antebellum plantation and important stopover along the Walton Road (which connected Nashville and Knoxville). In the 1880s, the Nashville & Knoxville Railroad erected a depot at what is now Algood. The land on which the depot was built had been purchased from a circuit rider and early settler named Joel Algood, and thus the train stop was named after him. In 1899, the Algood Methodist Church (now Algood United Methodist Church) was built on land donated by the children of this early settler. Algood was initially incorporated in 1901, but repealed its own charter two years later. The town reincorporated in 1911.

City of Algood

Until rails reached the area around 1891, Algood was farmland - much of it owned by Joel Algood, and known as "Algood Oldfields."

The Nashville and Knoxville RR bought land from him for a depot and called it "Algood," thus naming the community which grew up around the station.

Algood incorporated in 1891 and grew rapidly. The rails carried out agricultural products, notably poultry and eggs. (The town once called itself the "Chicken Capital of the World.")

Algood also was the terminus for a 22-mile Tennessee, Kentucky and Northern RR spur line from Livingston in Overton County. A quaint gasoline-powered trolley rolled along these rails in the early 1900s.

Notes for Elizabeth "Bettie" Frances Moore:

General Notes:

Elizabeth "Bettie" Frances Moore married George M. Moore - son of Jonathan Hampton Moore and Margaret Permilla Huddleston. Marriage took place abt 1870 based on 1900 census which states George and Elizabeth have bee married 30 years. She was enumerated as Bettie on 1850 census when she was living at home with her parents; on 1860 census she was enumerated as Elizabeth when she was living at home with her widowed father; she was enumerated as Betty on 1870 census where she was living with husband George next door to brother David Moore and wife Elizabeth in Arkansas; she was enumerated as Bettie on 1880 census where she was living with husband George Moore and daughter Eva Moore; she was enumerated as Elizabeth F. on 1900 census where she is living with husband George and sister Louisa Jane "Jeannie" Moore. Her age fluctuates on census records but on 1900 census it states she was born in October as was her sister Louisa and Louisa was 10 years older which matches with Rufus Denny Moore information. To date, I have not found any indication that these 2 Moore lines are related.

George M. Moore is the son of Jonathan Hampton Moore and Margaret Permella Huddleston. He was born Aug 1847 in Tennessee. Research continues - lost track after 1900 Census in Putnam County. Tennessee Deaths and Burials, 1874 - 1955 has a Geo Monchester Moore, male, burial date 02 Feb 1927 death date 1 Feb 1927, Cookeville, Putnam, Tennessee, age 82 b Tennessee, farmer, white, single, Certificate 3753.

These two Raymon[d] Butlers have caused no end of confusion during and after the war. Both had the same initials and lived in Knox County. When the Raymond Lee Butler was killed, the county sheriff delivered the news to Hervy and Rachel Butler - the parents of Raymon L[ester] Butler. My grandfather, Hervy Butler told the sheriff that he had the wrong Butler family. He had just talked to his son a couple of days prior and his son was still in the states.

1942 6/1 - On a voyage New York to Suez, 7,585 tons general cargo, George P. Shanahan Master, the vessel departed in convoy, later leaving to sail alone to Trinidad for refueling. At 8:57 PM, position 21.15 N, 83.50 W, off Isle of Pines, Cuba, while steaming a 10 knot zigzag course, the ship was struck 20 ft below the waterline at the engine room on the starboard side by a torpedo fired by U-158 (Rostin). The explosion killed 2 men on watch, likely caused the boilers to explode and stopped the engines. The explosion destroyed the 2 starboard lifeboats and radio antenna. Using the emergency radio, distress signals were sent but no acknowledgement was received. In 5 minutes, the Master ordered the vessel abandoned. Most of the 9 officers, 28 crewmen, 14 armed guards and 4 passengers left the ship within 20 minutes in 2 lifeboats. At 10:00 PM U-158 put another torpedo into the vessel, causing her to sink 10 mins later. The Brazilian ship JAMACIA offered to take the survivors to New Orleans but they declined, fearing the submarine might still be nearby. 48 hours later, the survivors made landfall at La Calina, Cuba with the assistance of the Cuban gunboat DONATIVO.

Wade Coursey And Miss Dora Butler Wed Last Sunday

In an impressive and beautiful ceremony read by Rev. W. H. Albertson, Baptist pastor, on Sunday afternoon, November 11, at three o'clock, Miss Dora Butler became the bride of Mr. Wade W. Coursey. Members of the immediate families and one guest, little Miss Sandra Sue West, were present for the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The groom was accompanied by Lieut. Raymond Butler as best man, and Mrs. Raymond Butler was matron of honor.

The double ring ceremony was used. As the marriage rites were read, Miss Rebecca Coursey, cousin of the groom played softly from Lorchengren's Wedding March.

The Bride was attired in a white sheer dress and wore corsage of red rose buds. Mothers of the bride and groom and matron of honor wore corsages of white chrysanthemums and carnations.

Mrs. Coursey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Butler, who reside north of Goree.

She is a graduate of Goree high school and Decatur Baptist College. She has been making her home in Fort Worth for the past four years, where she was

Mr. Coursey is the son of Mrs. Lucy Coursey of Goree. He was recently discharged from naval service, having been in the service, over four years. He took part in nine major battles and was wounded four times, spending 18 months in hospitals. He has been presented with naval decorations of honor, including the Purple Heart.

The newlyweds left Monday on a short wedding trip to Fort Worth and other points.
