Alma Mater
Alma Mater, we salute you,
For years you've been our home;
I. H. S., God's blessings on you,
Where'er your children roam.

School Days

First Row:

First Picture:

Second picture:

This is a picture of some people sitting on the footlog that crossed Little Indian Creek. The creek ran through Virgil Timothy & Audra Camilla (Anderson) Denny's farm. The little boy on the footlog bridge at the right end is Tim Denny. I don't know the rest of the people except for the woman 2nd from the end left side. She is Gertrude (Dillard) Denny d/o Silas & Mollie Denny.

Second row:

First picture:

This is a picture of the old Denny Seminary school. The school was on Virgil Timothy Denny's land in Buffalo Valley near Little Indian creek. Timothy Denny, Virgil's father donated the land to the school, his nephew Silas Denny built the school and other homes in Putnam Co., TN. His other nephew Thompson Luther Denny was the first teacher at the school.

Second picture:

Tim Denny's senior, High School picture. He graduated from Baxter Seminary, Baxter, Tennessee in 1942.

Third picture: Tim Denny in front of his parents house with his 1st grade teacher Miss Dimple Breeding. Miss Dimple lived at the Virgil Denny house for a year as a guest when she was the teacher at Denny's Seminary.

Third row:

First picture:

Tim Denny's junior, High School picture at Lebanon High School, Lebanon, Tennessee.

Second picture: View of Pfeiffer Hall, Baxter High School. Under the picture is the Alma Mater of Lebanon High School.

Third picture: School picture of Tim Denny. His mother, Audra, wanted to call him William Lewis Timothy Denny. Maybe William after her brother, William Grover Anderson, Lewis after her father Lewis Monroe Anderson & Timothy after his Grandfather Timothy Denny. His birth records say Tim Denny. I guess it was too long of a name to keep.
